Even now, 1976 is a memory. A memory compacted into these 352 pages. This is the story of a memorable year of celebration This is our story.

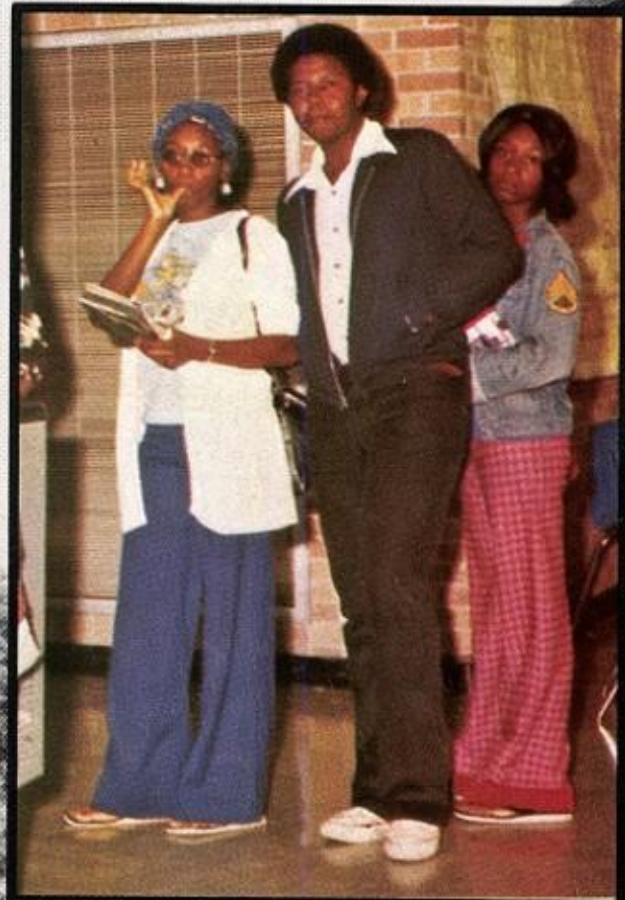

1976 . . .

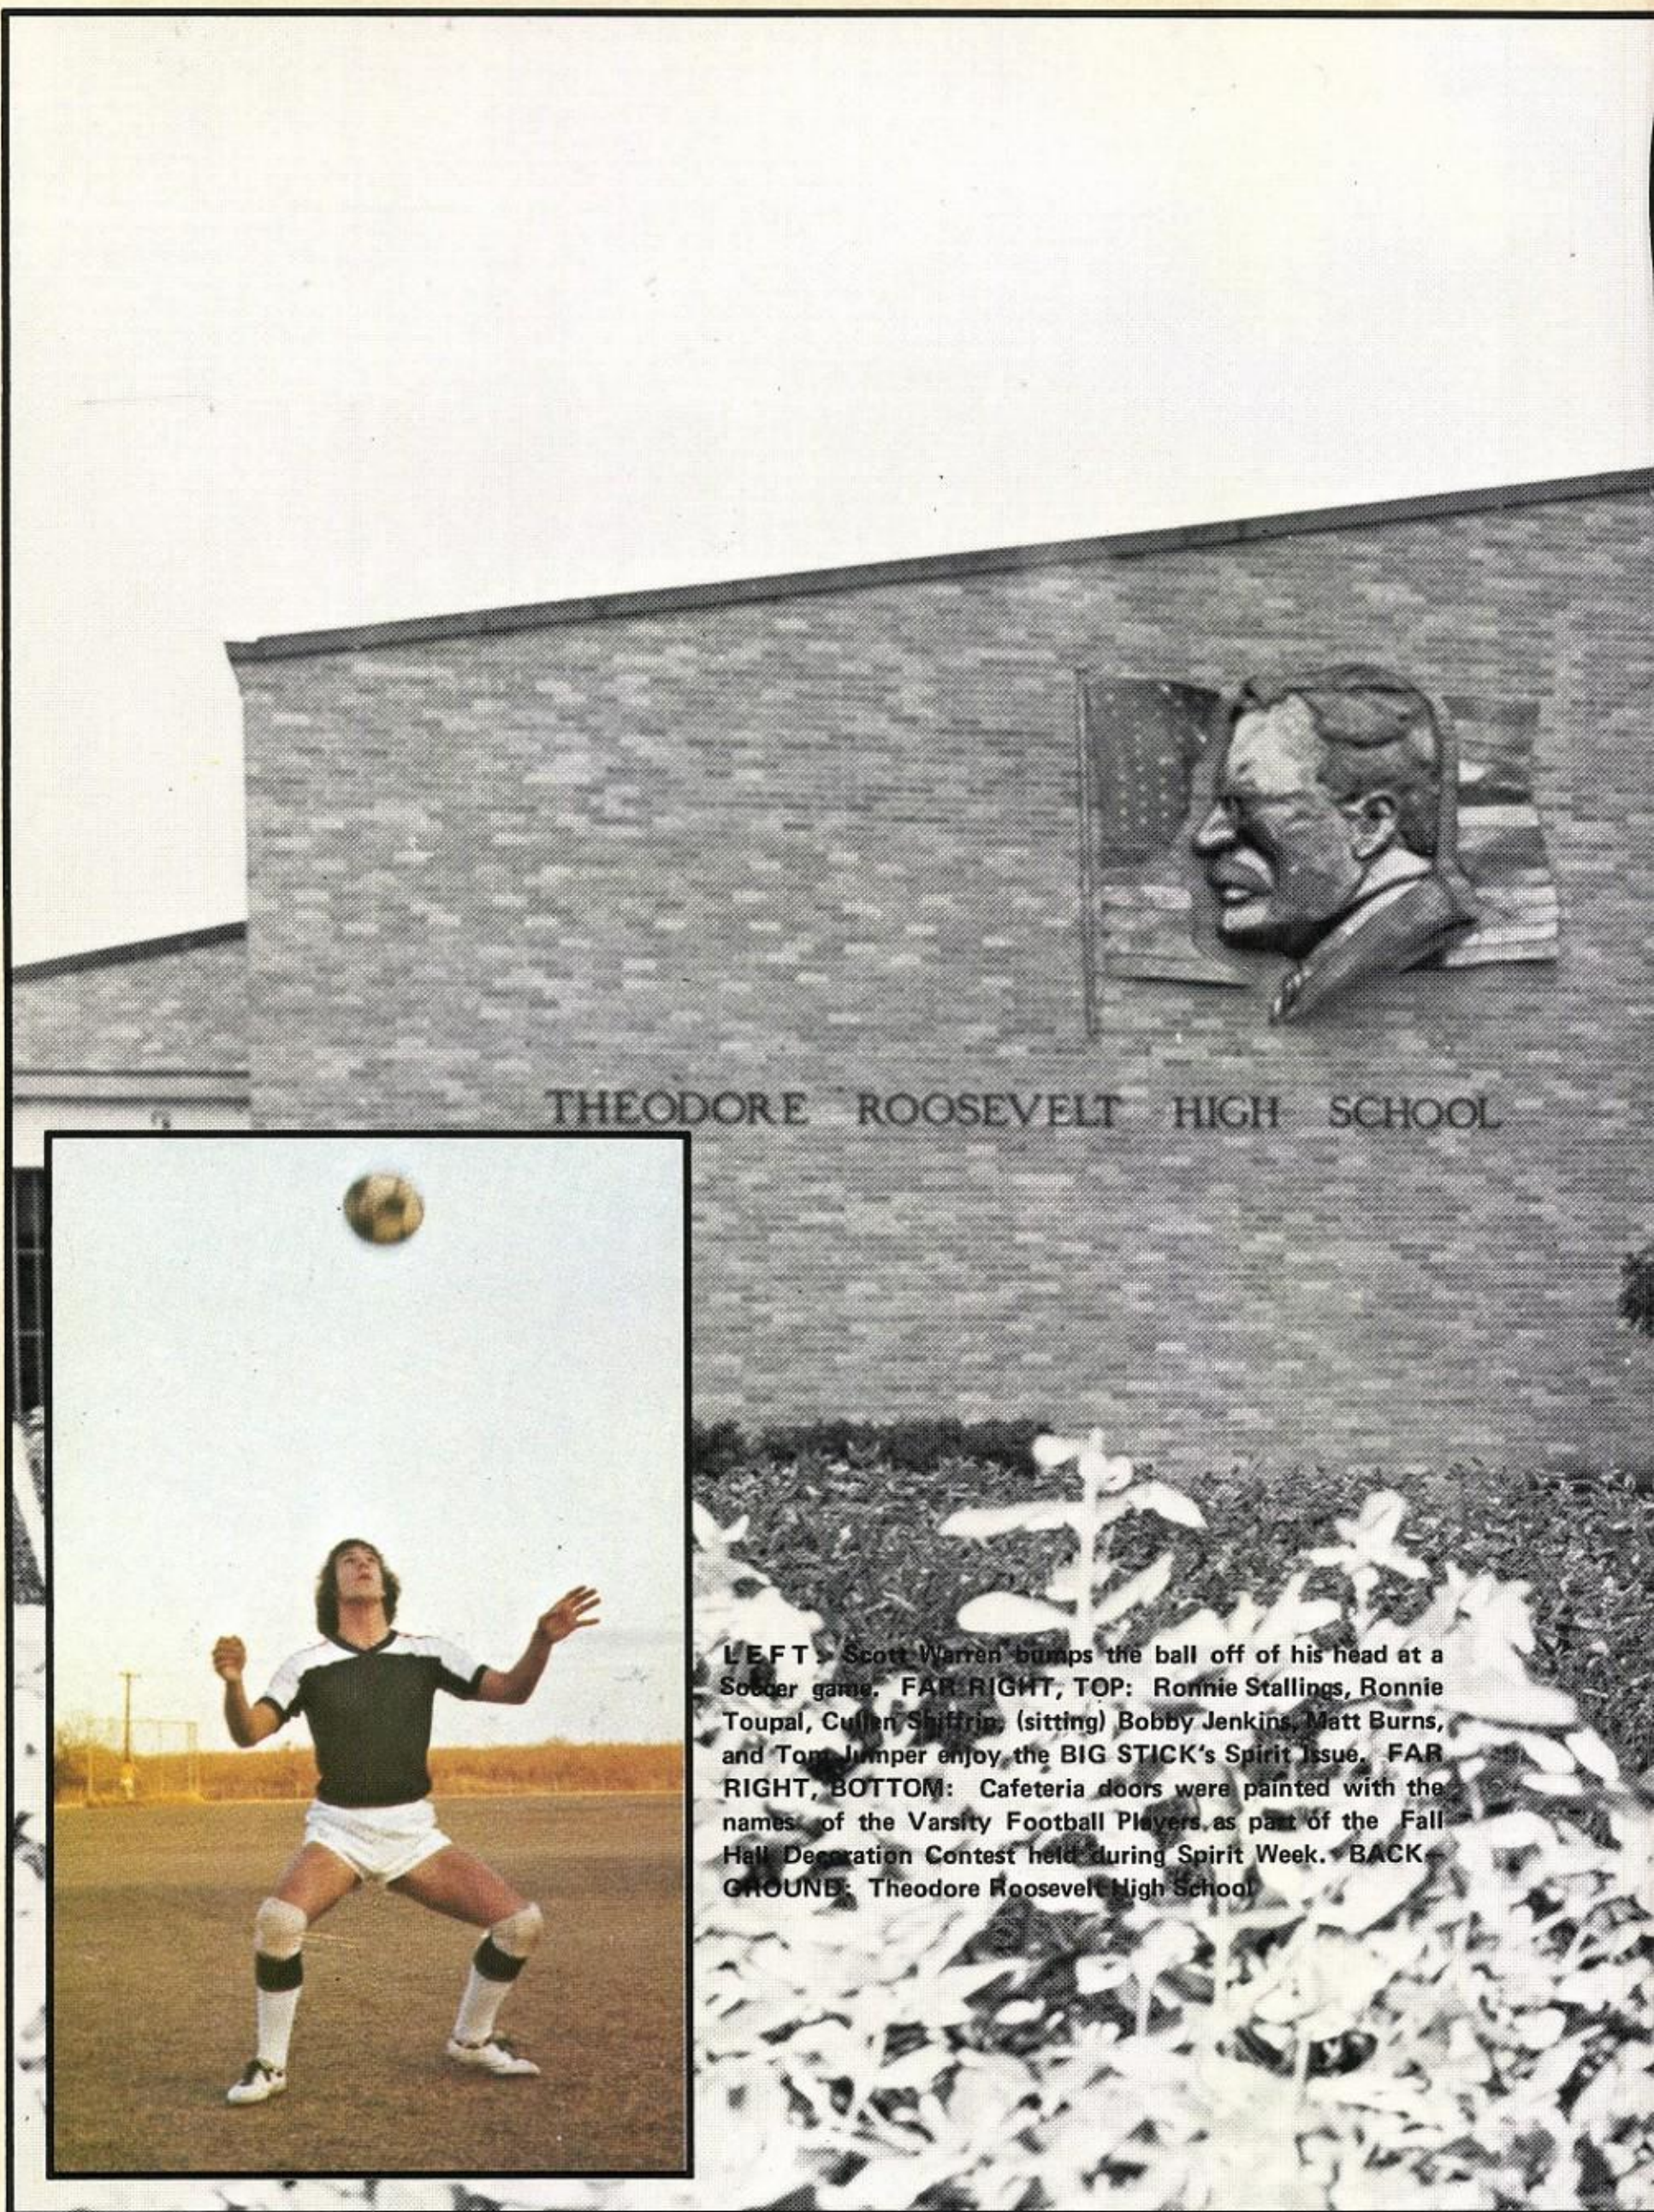

It began early on a hot Texas morning when it seemed a sin to spend our days in classrooms shut out from the sun. The overcrowding was no help. In a school designed for 2800 maximum, here we were, all 3200 of us. The passing periods with their crowded hallways were unbelievable. There weren't enough lockers to go around, so some of us had to share.

We each had a number; ours was a technological world. Where our parents had written their names on the assorted registration cards, we were asked to "bubble" in our names and numbers.

Numbers do little to help one in a search for identity. The pressure here to be someone, not something, was great. During those first few months, everyone seemed to keep his distance. We all went in quest of individuality. Sure, there were the usual social groups: kickers, ropers, dopers, heads, social climbers, loners. They did serve a purpose: they gave security. But

Summer Workshops Pay Off Before . . .

. . . And After

Drum Major David Brooks leads the band in its first half-time show.

Throughout the summer, while most of the students were relaxing, the band, the Cavaliers, the football team and Patriots were hard at work each day perfecting their skills.

Besides school sessions, the Patriots travelled to two summer camps: at SMU in Dallas and at UT in Austin.

At strict attention, the Patriots await their cue.

The Cavaliers and journalism students also attended Austin seminars.

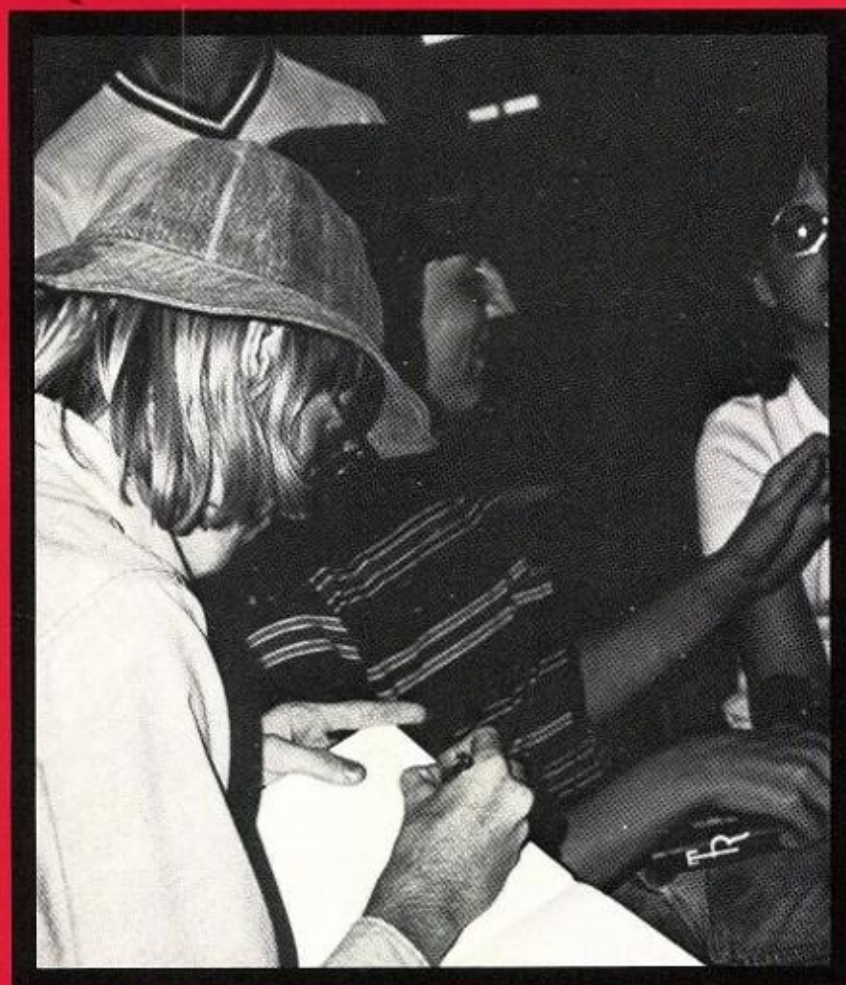

The summer training paid off handsomely though when thousands were entertained at the season's opening where the football team showed their strength and the Patriots, Cavaliers, and band showed off their talents.

Turmoil Marks Opening Week

The first week of school was an emotional time for students and faculty. While teachers and counselors were frantically trying to get everything organized, students were busy making new friends and describing summer adventures to old ones. Somehow, everyone managed to endure, despite the confusion.

With the introduction of a new principal, Roosevelt also saw the introduction of a new tradition.

On August 25, Roosevelt fans of all ages filled Blossom Athletic Center to support and encourage the many dedicated students who have chosen to make high school a time to remember by actively participating in many varied extracurricular activities.

Appropriately named THE RED, WHITE, AND BLUE REVUE, the giant extravaganza placed the Riders on display as one united body.

Spirit Explodes At Rider Revue

Speert Nominated

After teaching in NEISD for fifteen years, Edith Speert, Sociology instructor, was nominated as teacher of the year. "I don't know why they chose me because there are many, many, many good teachers," replied Speert when asked about the nomination.

Speert teaches five hours of Sociology a day. During classes students are encouraged to participate in controversial discussions and in unusual exercises dealing with such subjects as cultural excesses, transactional analysis, Gestalt therapy, racial relations, poverty and death.

"My teaching philosophy can also be stated by quoting Henry Adams: 'A teacher affects eternity — he can never tell where his influence stops,' " concludes Speert.

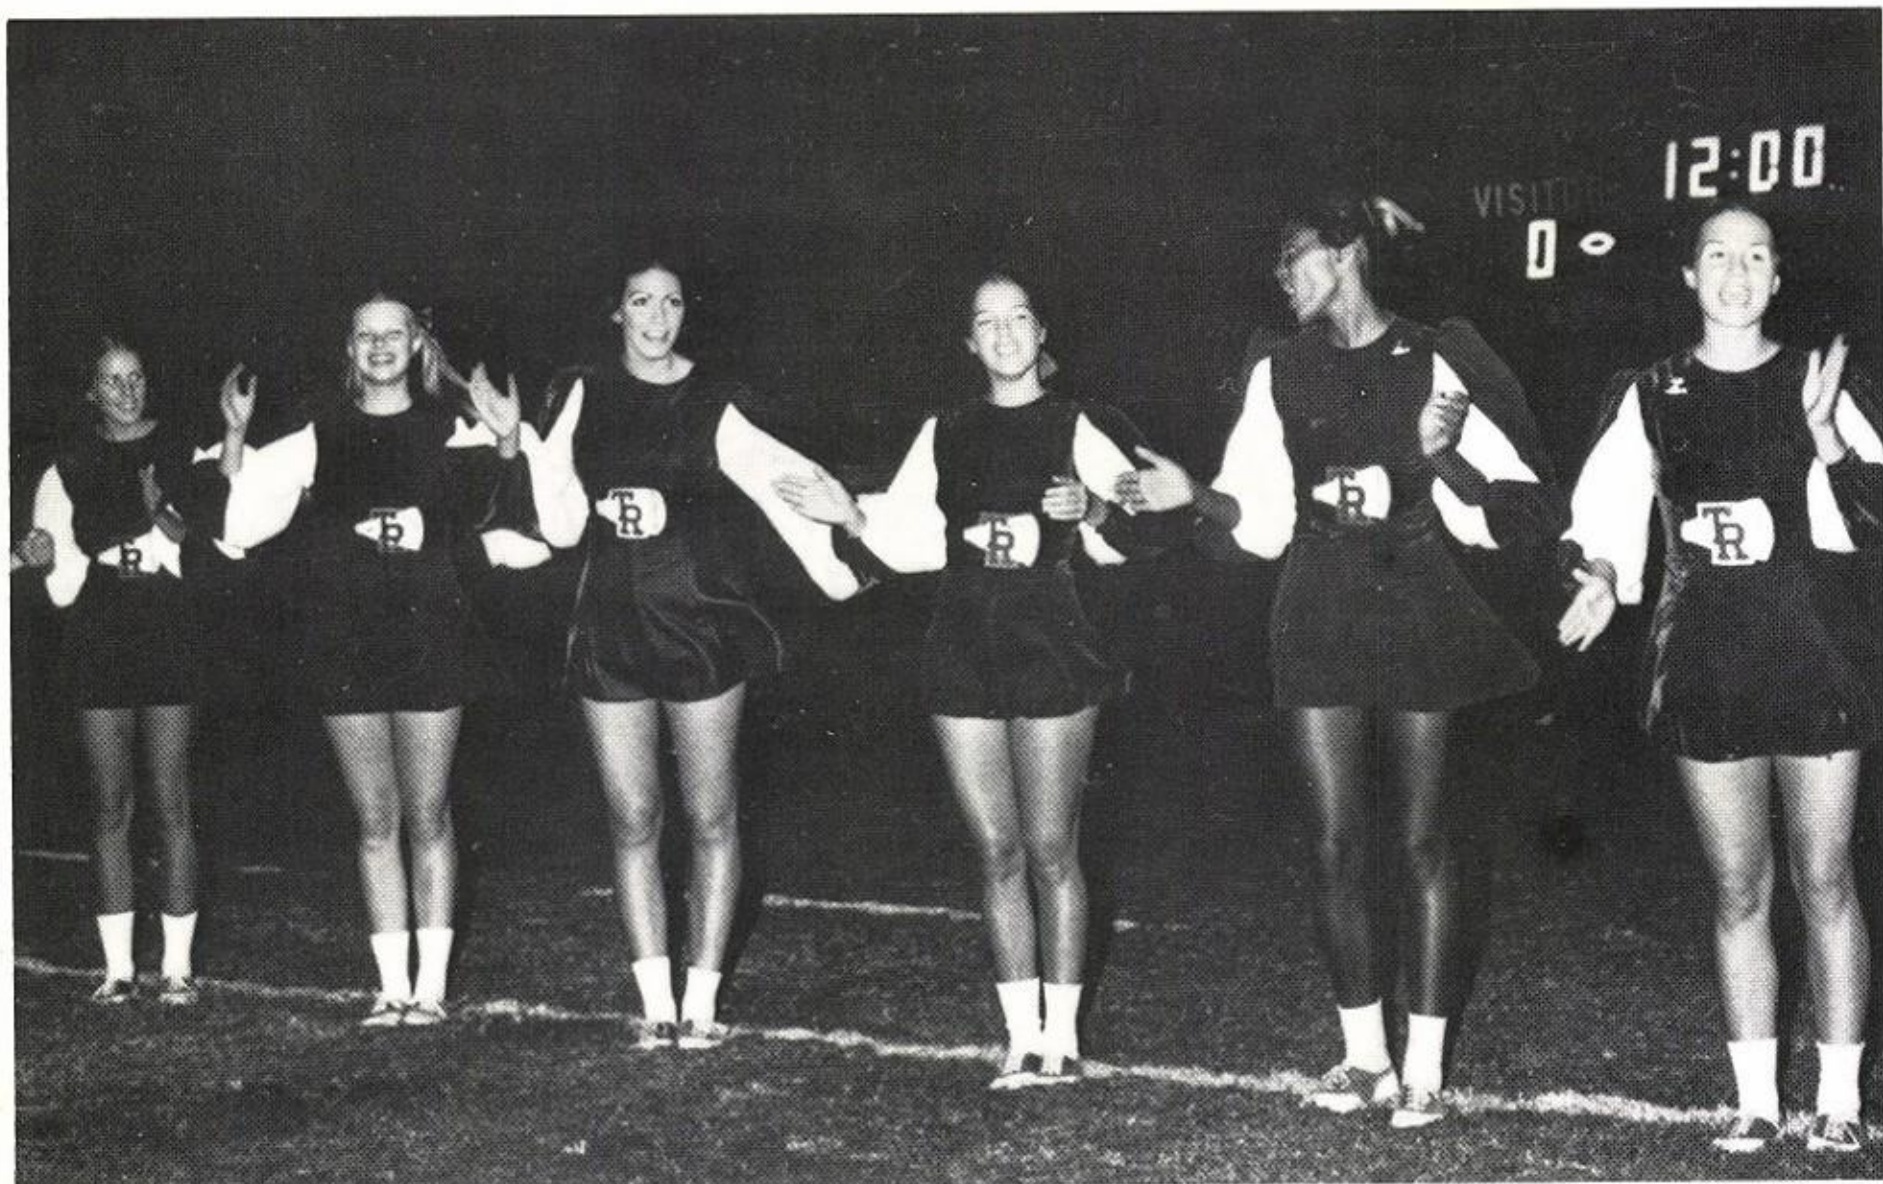

Carriers Uphold Tradition

Cheerleaders Aim For Spirit

Putting spirit into pep rally crowds, and those at football, basketball and baseball games was the aim of Varsity cheerleaders. An additional responsibility was the presenting of awards at the North East Track meet.

While attending summer camp at SMU the group won the spirit stick and five superior awards.

The four Junior Varsity cheerleaders spent their time supporting JV sports events. At a camp, held at Hemisfair, they won a spirit stick, four superior awards and the top honor, which is the award of excellence.

Second year senior cheerleader Patty Hutzler reminisced about her years on the squad: "It was fantastic! I would not trade cheerleading for anything. I will look back on it as two of the best years of my life."

Cavaliers Boost Spirit

With over 200 members participating, the Pep squad boosted spirit at football and basketball games, sold spirit buttons and ribbons and decorated the school with posters.

The officers attended camp during the summer where they took second out of ten schools in overall competition. The girls returned home to meet their new sponsor, Nancy Wright.

Initiation to Cavaliers was held for two weeks before school to teach the new girls card, hand and pom-pom routines.

RIGHT: Andrea Starks. At the end of football season, Andrea Starks became the Captain and Lisa Perine her Lt. after the resignation of Sheryl Craddock.

Throughout the year they ushered for school functions and participated on the field with other organizations in the Bicentennial halftime. Cavaliers also assisted students in the Special Olympics.

Officers for the year were Captain Sheryl Craddock, Lieutenant Andrea Starks, and Sergeants Lisa Perine, Cherie Liberda, Melissa Smith, Patty Delgado, Patty Ramirez, Tammy Hill, Pam McBee, Tina Rooker, Valery Rutledge, Kathleen Speir, Barbara Plum, Brigid Reineger, Karen Cook, Laura Bowen, and Sherry Cook.

Vols Outlast Riders, 27-14

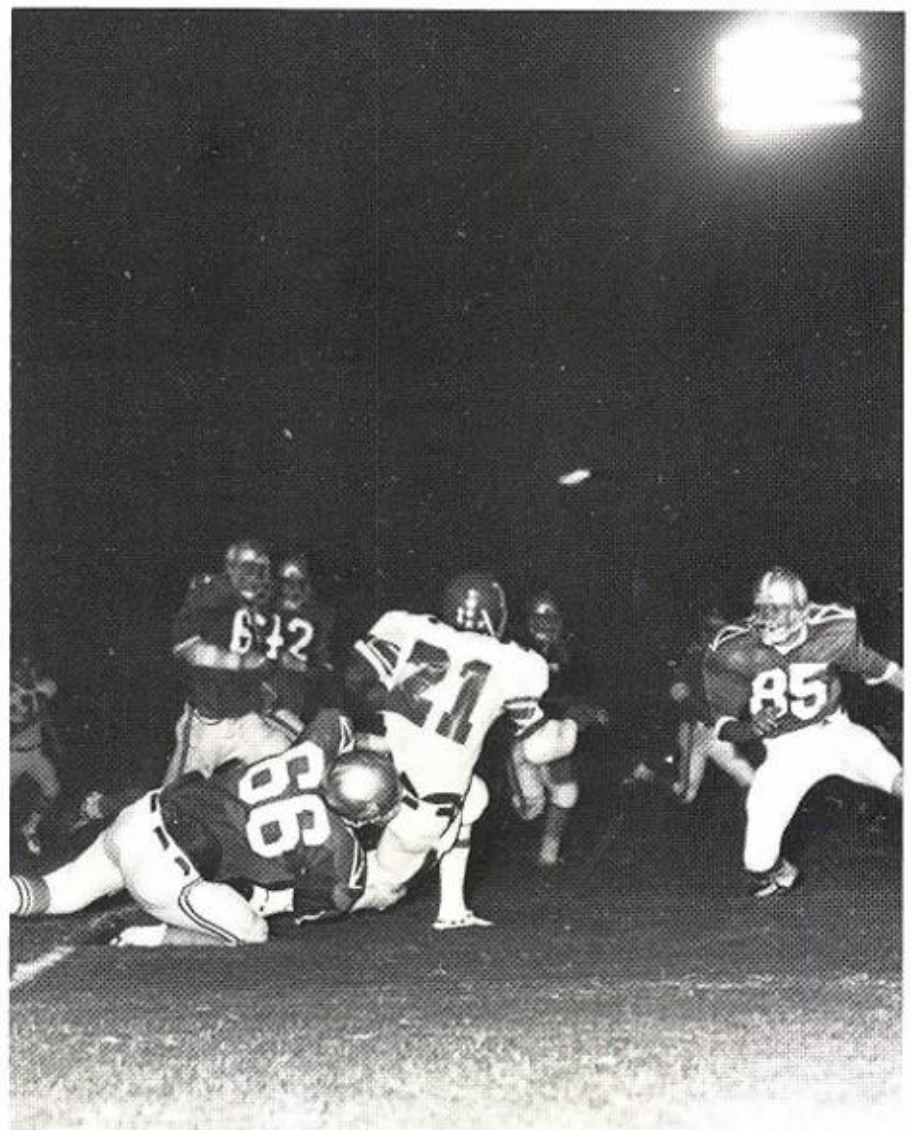

After a season opening 41-0 victory over Corpus Christi Moody the Rough Riders were enthusiastic and ready to tackle the third-rated team in the city, the Lee Volunteers.

The Vols took an early lead and then made clutch plays to overcome a late Roosevelt rally and won the game, 27-14.

The Riders played much better than the final score indicates, but Lee's strong defense and our untimely turnovers gave the Volunteers an advantage during the first half which they never relinquished.

The Riders were motivated during the second half, scoring two touchdowns, but the Vols also scored twice to retain their lead and won by 13 points.

Program Teaches Health Standards

Food Services, a special vocational program aimed toward training students in both health and safety standards, also prepares them for employment after graduation.

Preparing and serving full-course meals on Tuesdays and Thursdays to faculty members and visitors throughout the year, the students become experienced and informed in cafeterial work.

Teacher and supervisor, Edith Bullock, and her aide, Neva Crumley, assist the students and introduce them to the various techniques and methods of preparing a well-balanced meal.

This special vocational program has proven effective in the development of productive citizens flowing into the mainstream of society.

TR Welcomes Van Bragt

"It is a great welcome, I never thought you'd all come out at 2 in the morning," said the tired European who had just arrived at the San Antonio International Airport to be greeted by representatives of several major Roosevelt organizations.

Van Bragt was met at the gate by his new "family," Dr. and Mrs. Hansen, and their children, Richard, a senior, and Heidi, a freshman.

Richard Stevens, student council president, led a committee made up of student leaders which formally welcomed Stefan to Rough Rider Country as this year's foreign student.

From the village of Oelegem, Belgium, the eighteen-year-old adapted quickly to his new home in metropolitan San Antonio, where his high school population of 3250 exceeded his hometown's by 300.

As a senior, he handled a full course load while taking an active part in the campus language clubs and athletics.

The foreign student completed his year as a Rough Rider by joining his fellow seniors in the Class of 1976 commencement exercises at Blossom Athletic Center.

Through his year-long experiences in Rough Rider Country, Stefan gained valuable insight into the daily workings of the American society. He learned much about the students at Roosevelt and they, in turn, learned much about him. Stefan performed excellently as an ambassador for the AFS program, and the impressions he left in the minds of those here at Roosevelt will remain long after his return to his native Belgium.

IT'S PRIDE THAT GETS YOU UP THERE

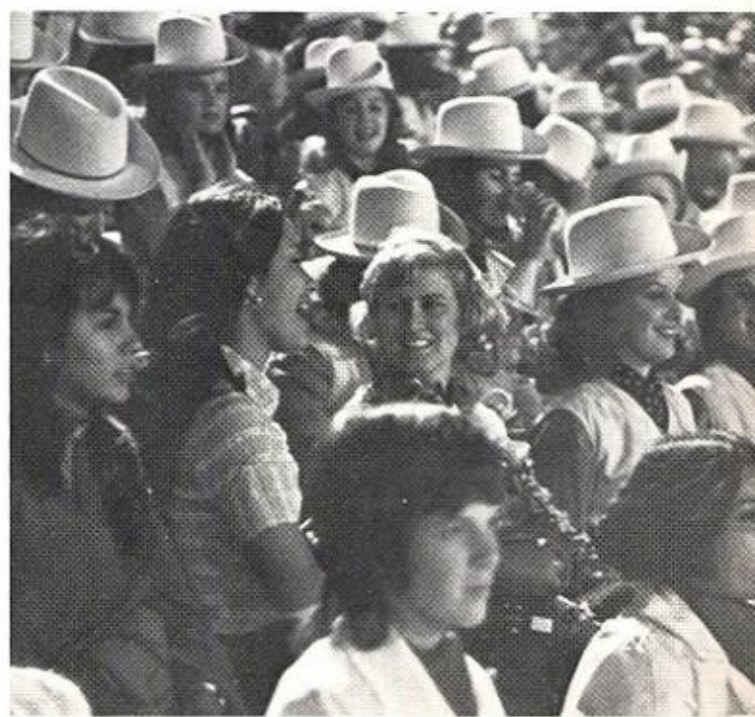

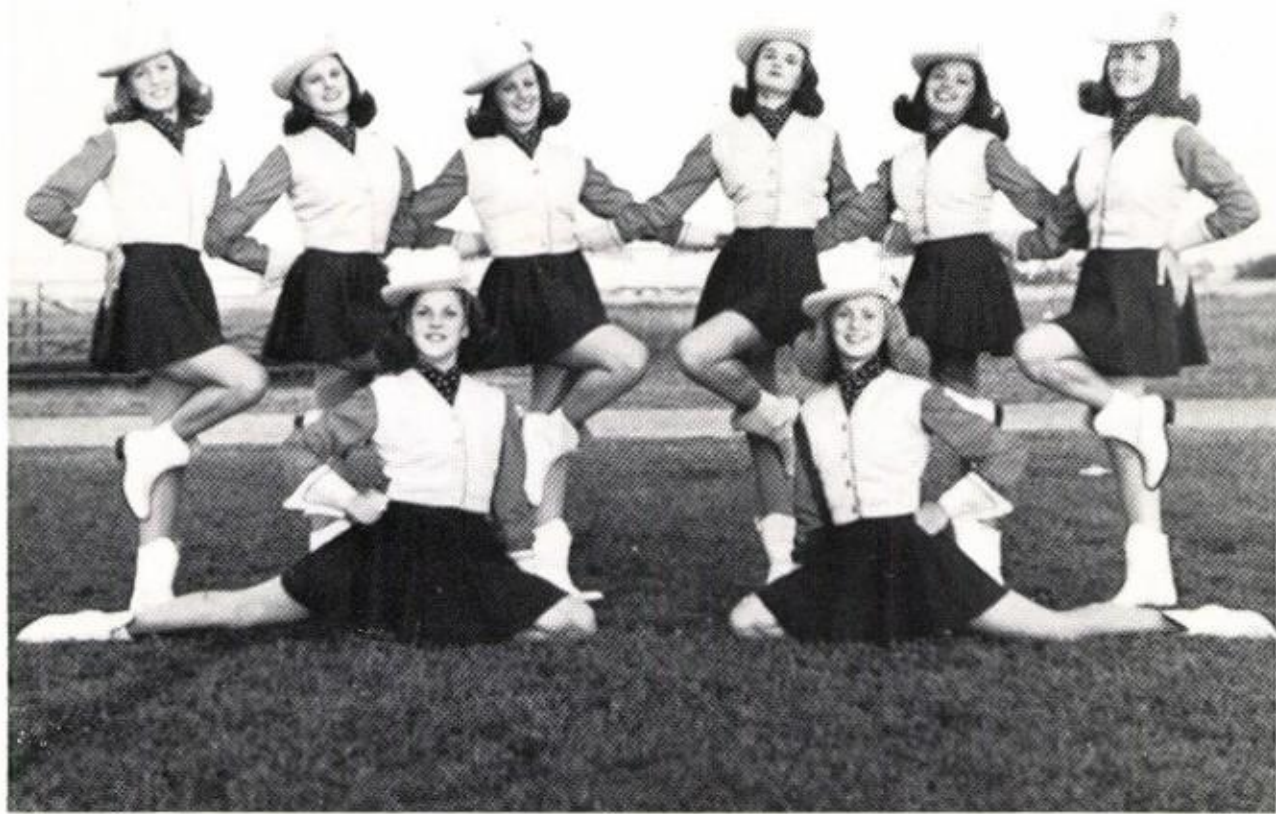

Talent, determination, and dedication, combined with pride, have helped the Patriots achieve their place as a top high school drill team in the United States. It has been under the strict discipline of sponsor Carol Searight that the Patriots have attained this high standard.

They are known for their quality performances which have brought the group many offers and invitations. Ushering at various civic events in the city, performing at the Cotton Bowl, and at ABA Spurs games, and traveling to Los Angeles, California have been part of their busy year. Competing among 150 other contestants, Col. Nicki Tribbey placed as one of the top seven semi-finalists in the Pageant.

The girls spent hours practicing the halftime shows for football and basketball games. Beginning their school day at seven a.m. they often did not leave the campus until after five in the afternoon. The year ended with a Spring variety show and their traditional awards banquet.

TR Subdued By Churchill

Confused by an offensive interference call, the Churchill Chargers went on to salvage an 18-13 victory after stopping a three minute Rider drive, on the five yard line.

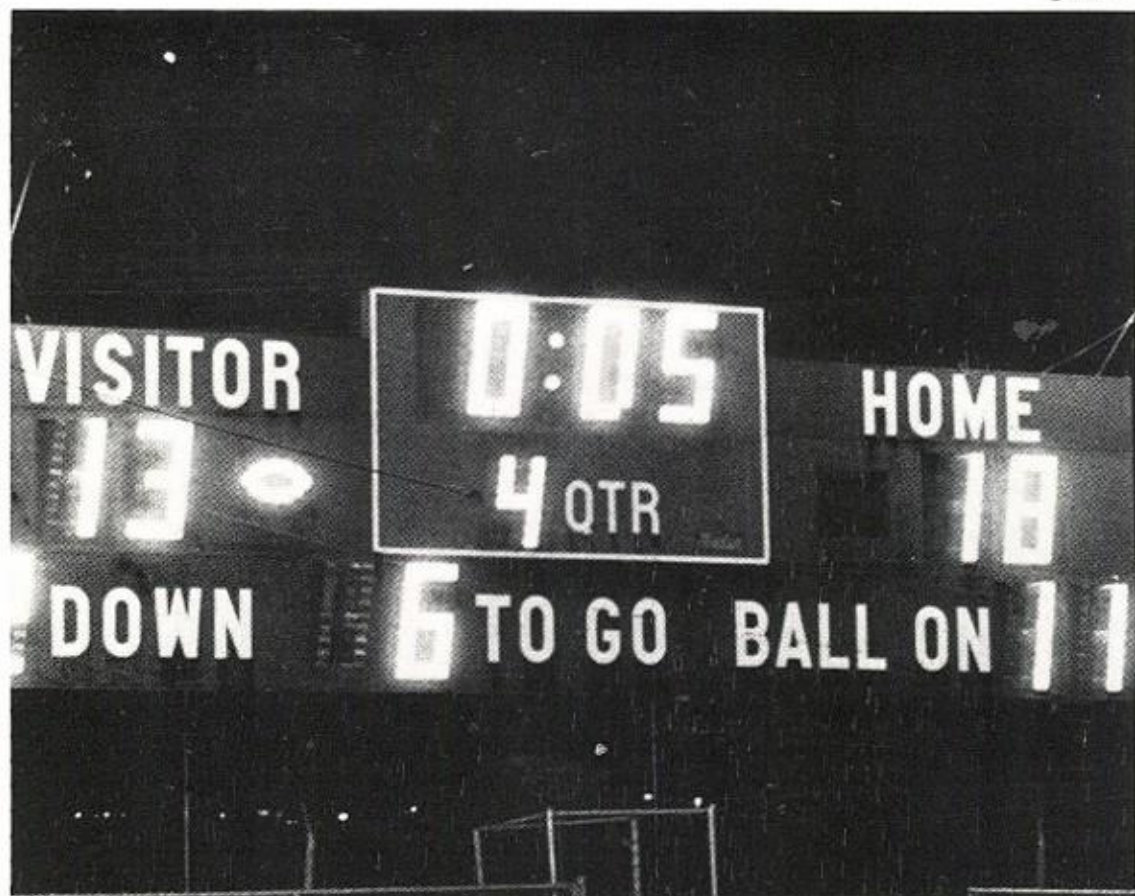

The key play came after Churchill's quarterback went to the air for an apparent 13-yard gain and a first down. However, back at the line of scrimmage, a TR cornerback was knocked over, constituting a first down, since offensive interference was the penalty.

When the Chargers called the next play (an incomplete jump pass over the middle), the down marker on the sidelines still read third down. Just as the Chargers moved to the line, the marker was changed to read fourth down, but too late for Churchill to see.

The Chargers would undoubtedly have punted had they known of the situation hoping to set TR deep in their own territory with time running out.

Displaying the momentum they had used during the earlier quarters, the Riders changed their plays well and drove to the 11 yard line with 30 seconds left. Then quarterback Mike Millegan kept the ball for a three yard gain, but the ball was pushed back to the 13 by an illegal procedure call with 5 seconds left in the game. Millegan took the snap and wheeled around to hand the ball back to Willie Culpepper, who then passed to Millegan (who had started toward the goal line). Unfortunately Millegan was stopped at the 5 yard line, as the Riders suffered a five point defeat.

ABOVE: The scoreboard tells the story; The pass play from Culpepper to Millegan was run to the five as the clock ran out. BELOW: Mike Stansell (32) is brought down, as Ed Reddic (74) watches.

greetings

Roosevelt was chosen to be one of only six American schools to participate in a teacher exchange program sponsored by the American Field Service. Our Russian teacher, Allan LaVelle, received a once-in-a-lifetime chance to teach English to students in the Soviet Ukrainian city of Kiev. In exchange, Svetlana Shvachko, a Russian English teacher, came here to take over LaVelle's Classes.

Shvachko commented that the school systems in Russia differ greatly from the school systems here in America. Differences include class hours, discipline, and the amount of homework.

She added that she found everyone here very friendly.

Twirlers Highlight Show

School started early for the majorettes, who could be seen diligently practicing every morning since July. Perfecting every performance for the field and for UIL competition were senior head majorette Mary Sheffield; senior majorettes Nancy Naylor and Michelle Reddoch; and junior majorette Marsha Brown. The majorettes played a vital part in the TR band. With the grace and stability of each routine, the majorettes proved to be a valuable asset to the half-time show.

TR Stampedes Sam Houston

A 59 yard drive late in the last period capped off a Rough Rider victory over the Sam Houston Cherokees, 28-8, which conferred a 1-0 record in district play to them at that time.

The Riders' defense was the key to the victory, stifling the Cherokees to a mere total of 28 yards on the ground, 68 yards through the air, while picking off three passes and limiting the Houston team to three first downs for the entire night.

Piling up points for the Riders were Glenn Falconi, who powered his way to three touchdowns, and Mike Stansell, who romped for 102 yards for the evening. John Eddleman also scored his fourth extra point of the night, as TR muscled its way past Sam Houston by 20 points.

Riders Endure Unicorn Surge

The Rough Riders survived a 20 point New Braunfels surge in the last seven minutes of the game as they defeated the Unicorns 31-27, in a wild exchange of momentum and offensive power.

Almost 3,000 fans looked on as Roosevelt dominated the first three quarters and a half, piling up 278 yards on the ground, and 80 yards through the air.

Pacing TR's scoring attack were Kelly Davis, who scored twice on touchdown passes; Willie Culpepper, who scored once and scrambled for 94 yards; and Glenn Falconi and Mike Stansell, both having scored a touchdown.

Roosevelt held a commanding lead of 31-7 with 7:43 left in the game. Then the Unicorns suddenly came to life, scoring two touchdowns, a two point conversion pass, and a third touchdown with 40 seconds remaining in the game. The Riders defense held on to cut New Braunfels drive short, though, as TR upped their record to 3-2.

Pros Visit TR

BELOW LEFT: As the pressures of stagflation, gas shortages, and the energy crisis became greater and greater, the public began looking for different types of entertaining escapism. One of the most popular forms was magic (the hand is quicker than the eye). From Las Vegas, where Doug Henning was mystifying nightclub crowds, to here at Roosevelt, everyone was caught up in the magic-craze. Pictured during the performance at a seventh period assembly is BRANDON Magic Show.

BELOW RIGHT: NICHOLAS NIARADI, the secretary of the treasury of Hungary prior to its Communist takeover, spoke to an assembly of seniors about patriotism and the apathy of most Americans who choose to overlook the many blessings each of us have. At the end of his talk, the audience gave Niaradi a standing ovation.

RIGHT: Poetess NAOMI SHIHAB conducted a week-long workshop for interested seniors which was finaled with a presentation of selected works recited by their authors. The week was filled with intensive sessions where students were given individual attention by Shihab. At the week's conclusion, everyone agreed that the sessions were invaluable for their literary critiques and recognition.

NE Area Benefits From Construction

Windsor Park, consisting of four major stores, a two-level, 111 shop mall and a parking area large enough for 5,000 vehicles, will open its gates to the public in August, 1976.

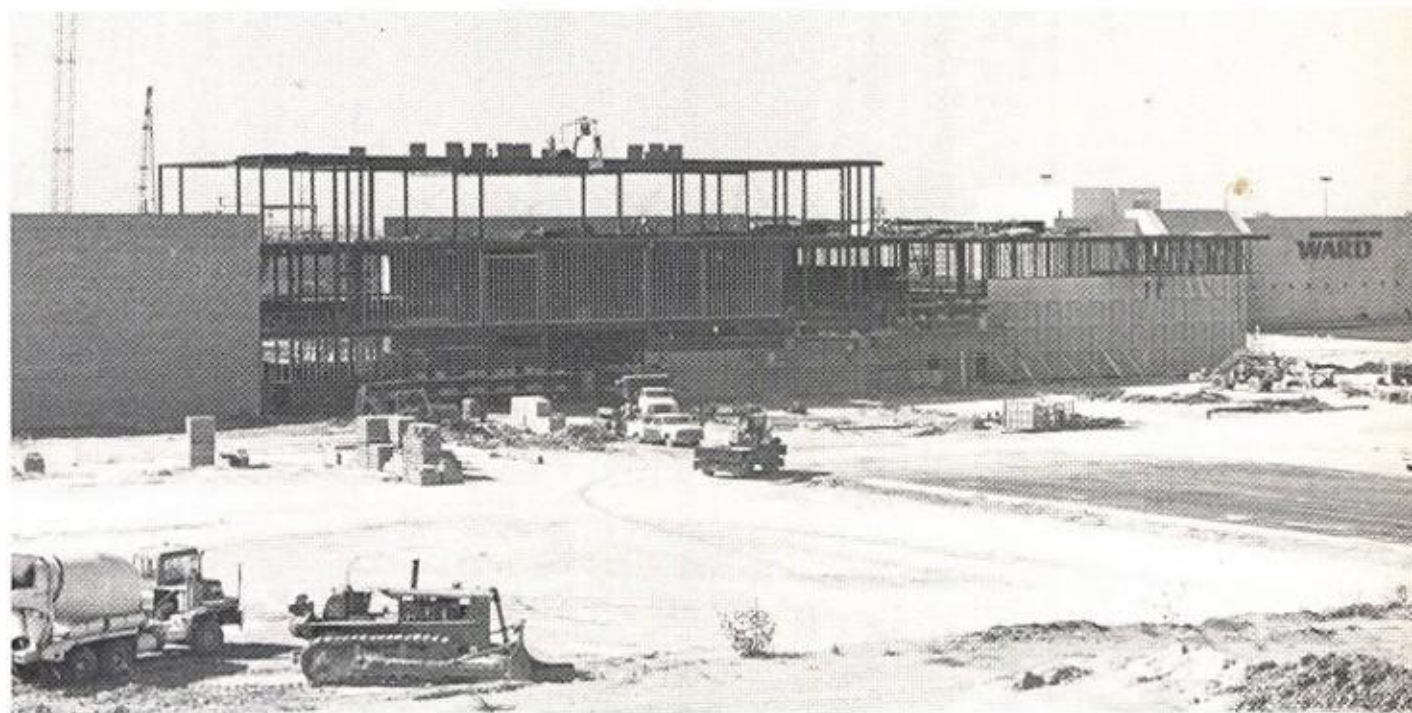

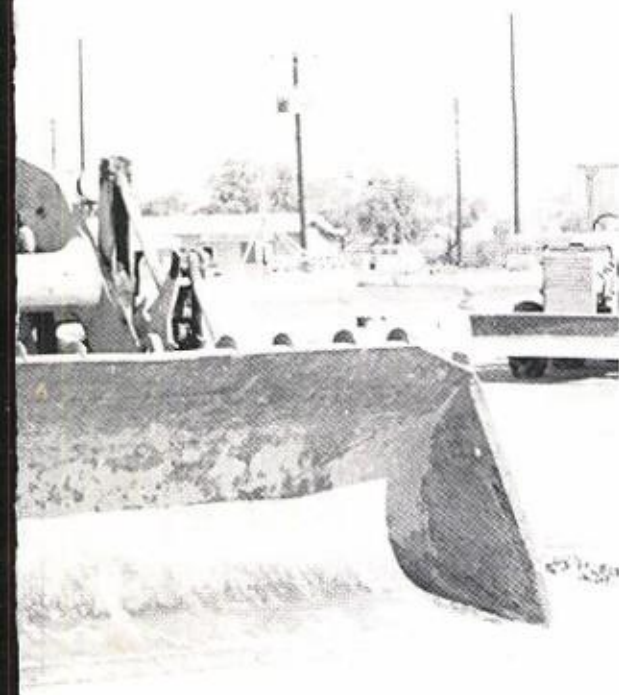

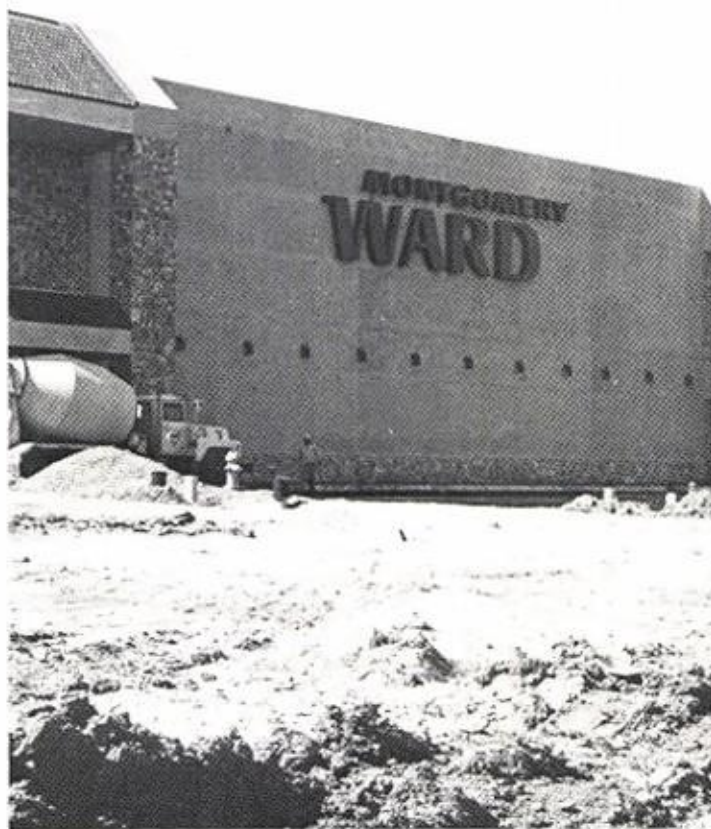

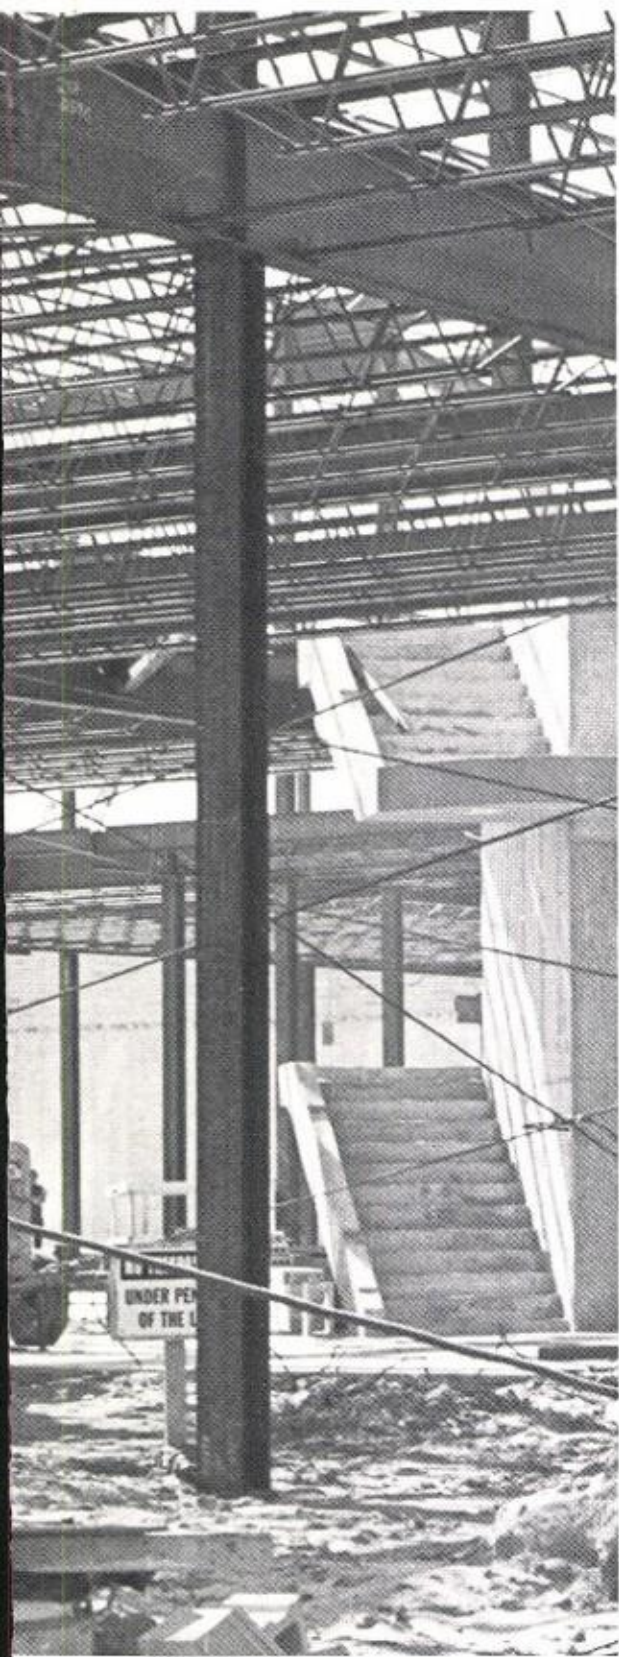

The interior of the mall will be of Colonial Mexican design, with heavy use of stucco, Spanish clay tile roofs and floors inlaid with glazed tile in floral patterns. The arcades in the mall will include planter areas, seating arrangements and decorative fountains.

There will be several restaurants in the mall, including a cafeteria and several fast-food places. The department stores are very modern in design and will be using the latest methods of computerized merchandising.

The shopping center is being built in this area because of the large number of housing developments and the lack of such a facility in the immediate vicinity.

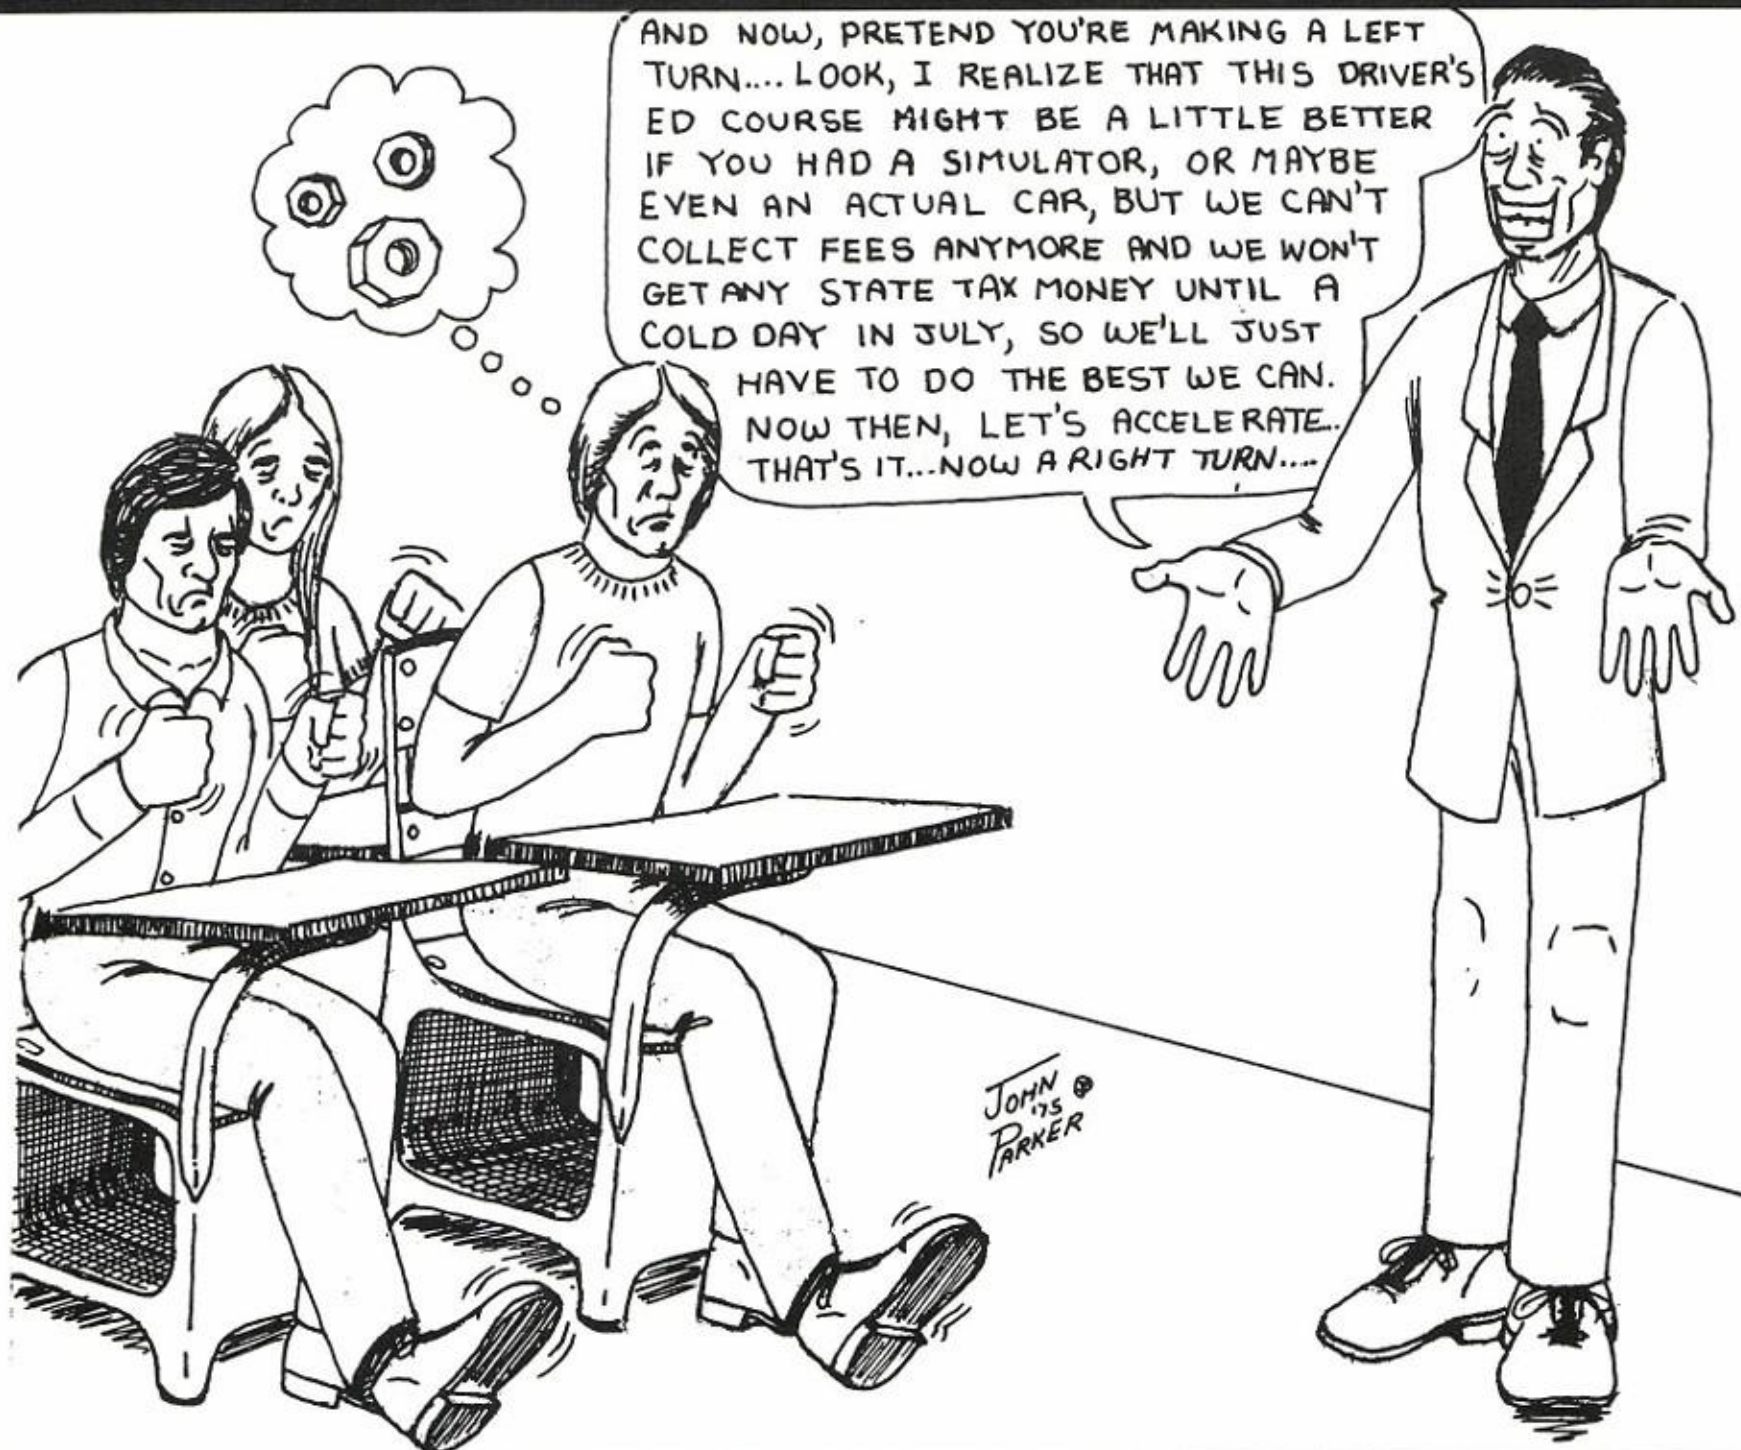

When completed, Windsor Park Shopping Center will be the largest enclosed, two-level, climate-controlled mall in South Central Texas. It will be comparable in size to the largest malls in Houston and Dallas and will be one-third larger than any mall that now exists in San Antonio.

Free Education - For A Price

During this school year the courts made rulings which drastically affected the lives of students at Roosevelt.

The most controversial ruling was the one that prohibited school districts from charging fees.

Although the ruling was originally requested in September, 1974, the decision did not become effective until October 1, which was after the beginning of the budget year.

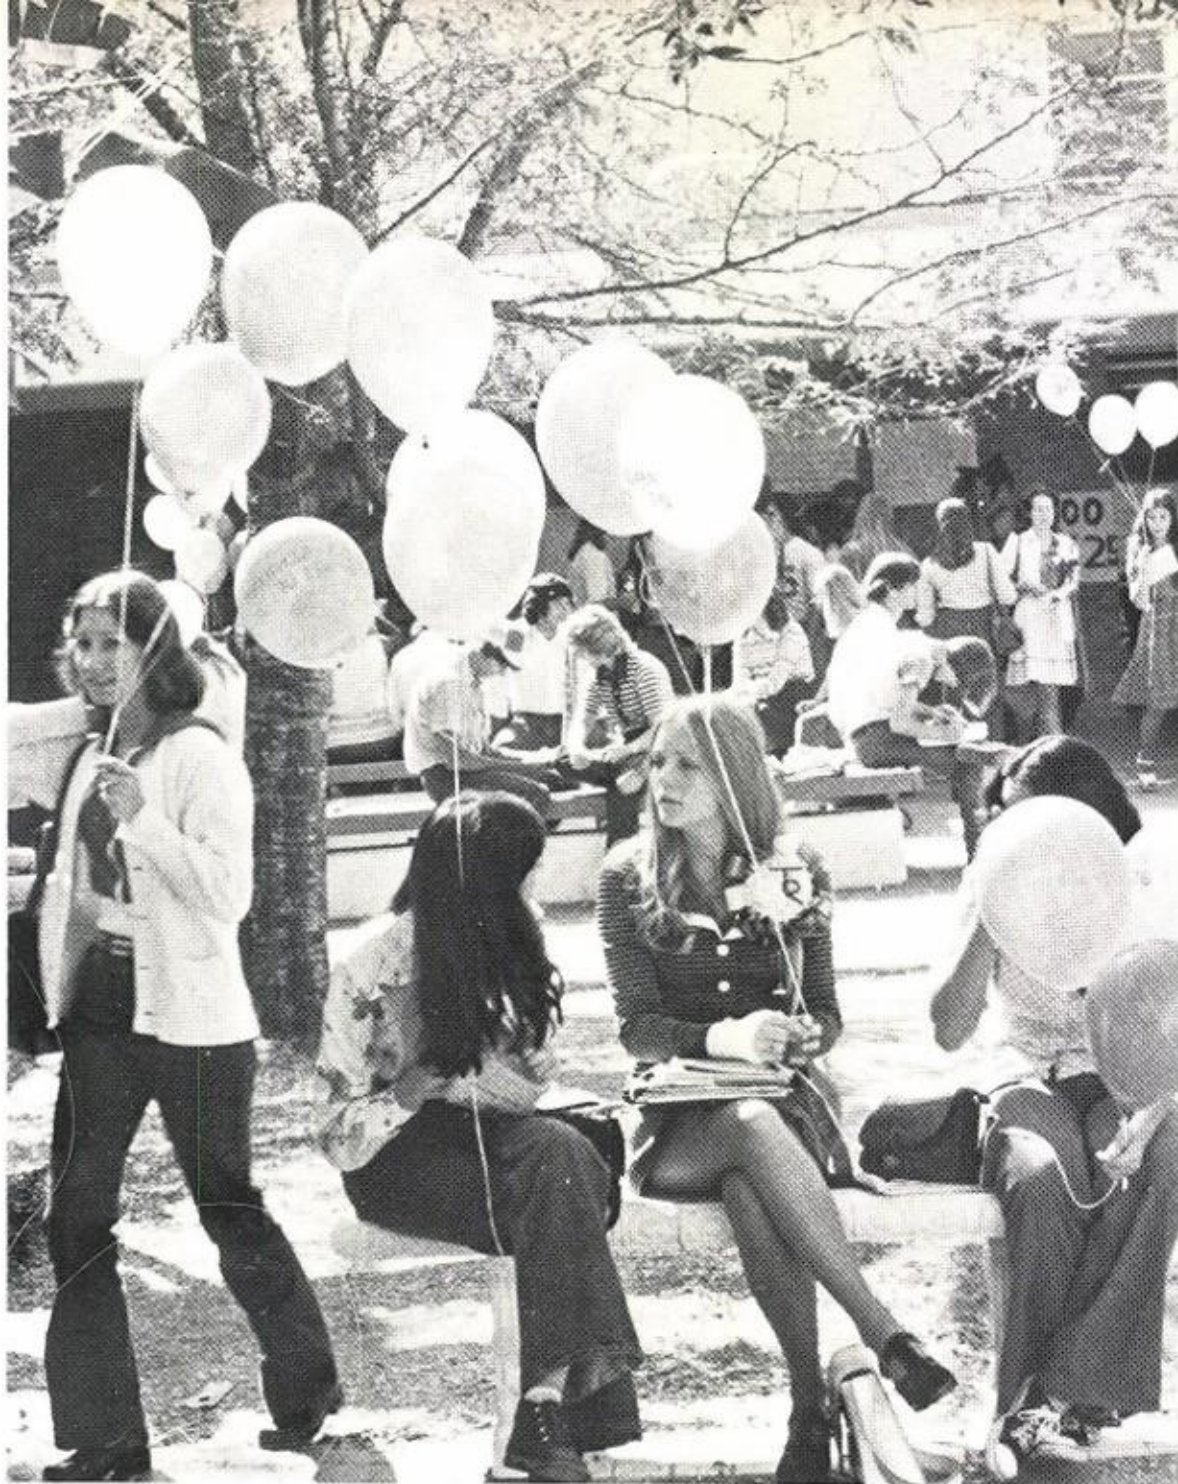

With the lack of fees coming in, many school districts were forced to discontinue some courses. Dr. Ivan Fitzwater, Superintendent, emphasized how some courses including Driver's Education, "which cannot be offered without the collection of fees," may be curtailed.

Under the ruling, such things as workbooks, lockers, uniforms, also had to be paid for by the district. The Superintendent estimated approximately $100,000 was required to cover these costs till the end of the year.

Also put into effect this year was the "Rights to Privacy Act." The act made it necessary to have the student's permission before any publication could publish his name, address, or telephone number.

Getting Ready For The Big Game

One week out of the year, everyone in Rough Rider Country begins to go just a little bit bazoonies. That time of year — between the chaos of the first five days and the onset of senioritis immediately after the Christmas holidays — is commonly called Spirit Week.

Coordinated by Student Council, activities ranged from mum and balloon sales to the traditional hall decoration contest (which the seniors won). Advisories were encouraged to take an active part in boosting school spirit by helping in the painting of posters and banners for the huge school-wide pep rally.

The rally climaxed the week-long preparations for our clash with the Rattlers. When it ended that Friday afternoon, everyone was riding high for the game.

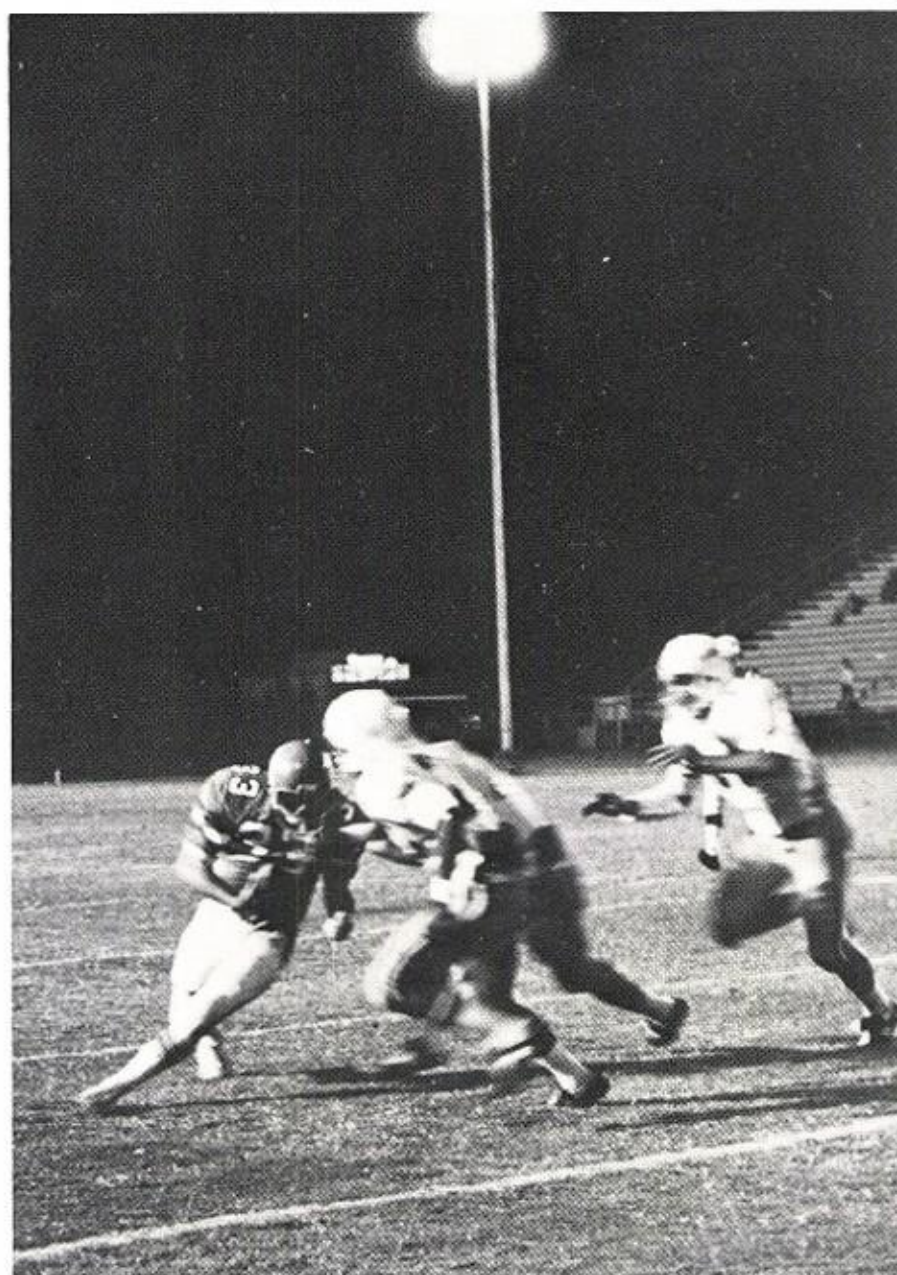

San Marcos Nips Riders

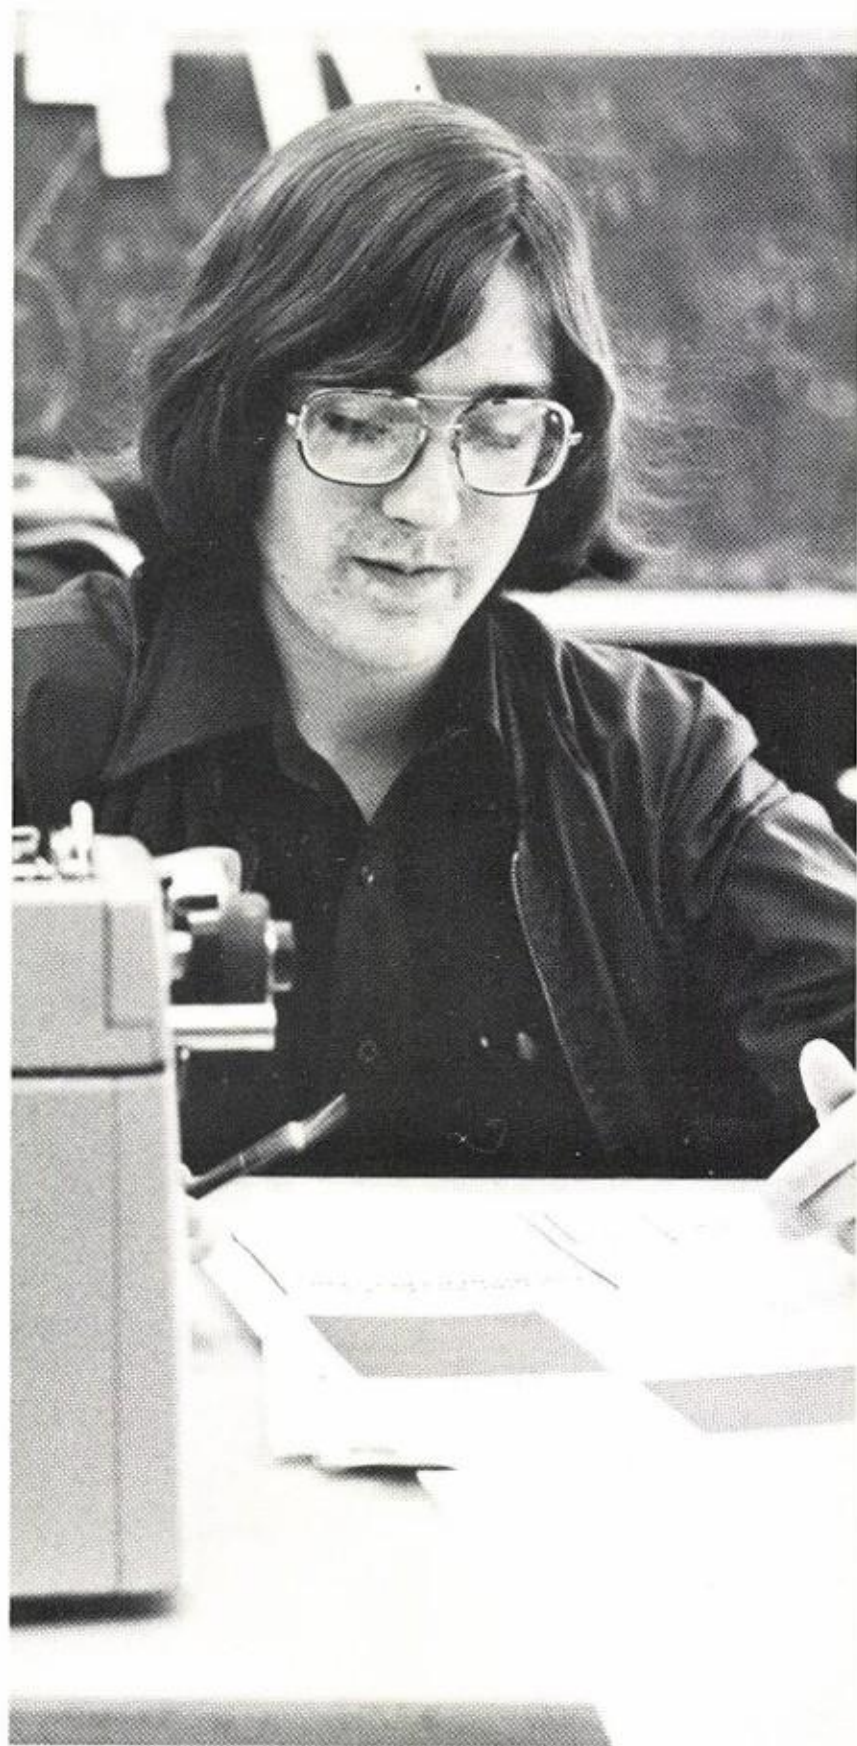

The Rough Riders held on stubbornly and scored 12 points in the final minutes of the game before falling to the San Marcos Rattlers, 20-18. With almost four minutes remaining in the game, the Riders unleashed a powerful offense that dominated the remainder of the quarter.

With drives of 44 and 49 yards, the Riders pulled to within two points of the Rattlers. Roosevelt kicked on sides again and recovered on the San Marcos 46 yard line.

With 1:38 left in the game, the Riders were stopped inches short of the first down, as the Rattlers took over and ran the clock out.

Students Develop Journalistic Talents

In putting together a publication, there are many complications left unseen by the reader. The work behind the production is done entirely by the students. These students work together spending many extra hours combining their efforts to produce four high quality publications: THE OUTLOOK, SPEAKING SOFTLY, BIG STICK, and SAGAMORE.

After acquiring an IBM copy setter, newspaper production became a much more complicated process for members of the BIG STICK staff. Reporters, mostly coming from the beginning journalism class, wrote stories which were then edited and approved by the advanced students.

Advanced students on the SAGAMORE staff were also responsible for the editing of all layouts, headlines, pictures, body copy, and captions used in the 75-76 yearbook.

"While we have had a few top quality students every year in the past, never have I had the depth of experienced, dedicated, totally involved student editors and staff members as are in this present crew. It is a distinct pleasure for me to see this type of student leadership develop," stated Advisor A. L. Moore.

TR Clinches Loop Title

After squeezing past the MacArthur Brahmas, 17-15, and devastating the Judson Rockets, 42-6, the Rough Riders finished up their season as district co-Champions, ending with a 5-2 record in loop play and 6-4 overall.

Randy Eklund's field goal from 33 yards out, gave Roosevelt a 10 point advantage over the Brahmas, and eventually decided the outcome of the game, as TR contained MacArthur by 2.

The Riders' defense scored twice and held the Rockets to only eight first downs, as TR's tough ground game did the rest of the work, with 285 yards rushing. Scoring for Roosevelt were Glenn Falconi, who paced the Riders with 3 touchdowns, Alvin Smith and Mike Millegan, both scoring on intercepted aerals, and Carl Speer, who scampered 5 yards for the touchdown.

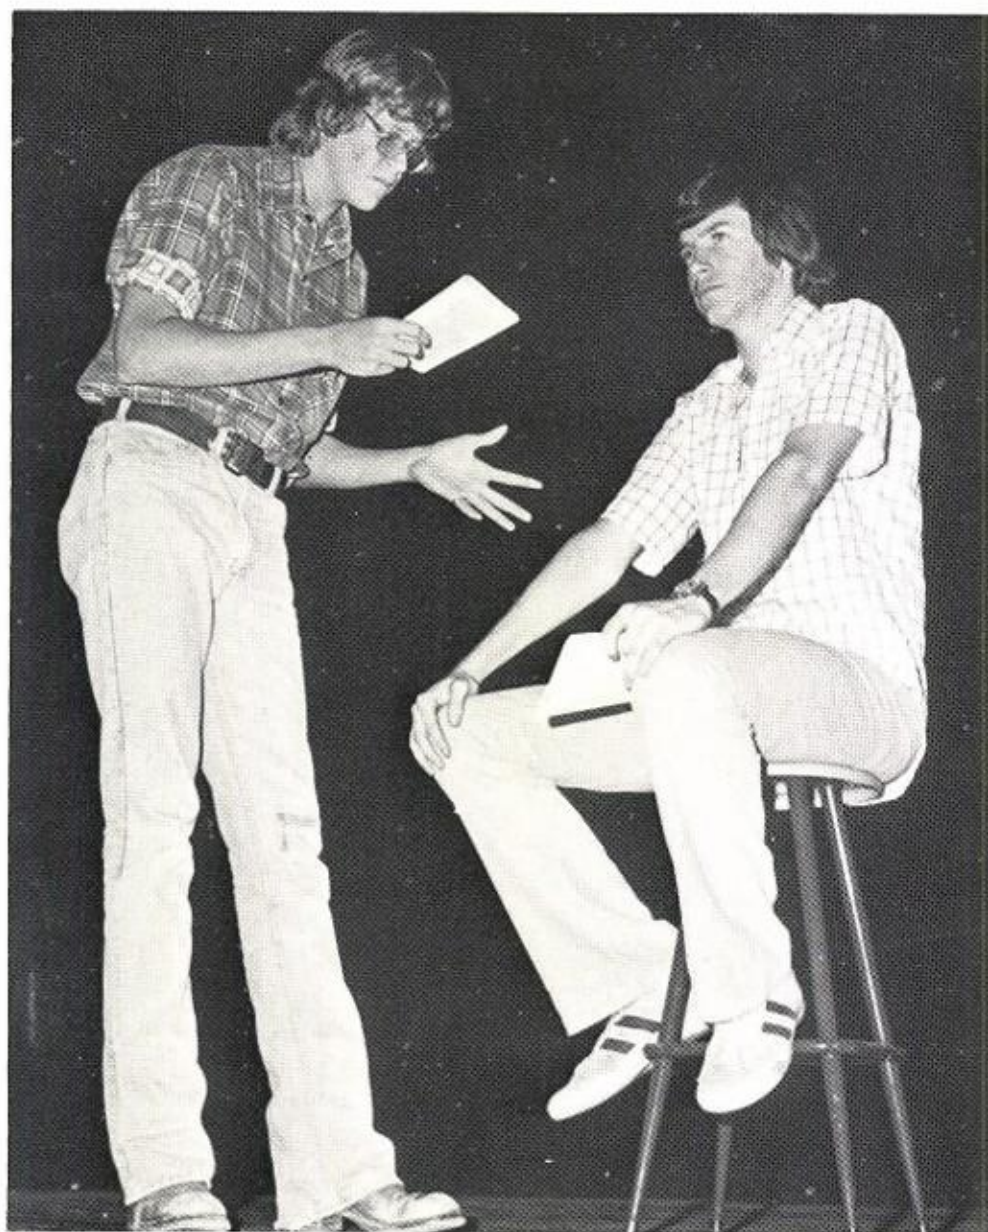

Thespians Honor Dramatists

It seemed as if every major activity here on campus had its corresponding honor society. Drama was no different. Thespians, the national organization recognizing outstanding drama students, had a local chapter here at Roosevelt sponsored by John O'Neill.

In order to become a member, students each had to earn 100 points by doing various jobs around the drama department. Each task had its own numerical value, and once the student had obtained the necessary amount, he was inducted into the society.

'Plaza Suite' Draws Raves

After many long weeks of rehearsing, drama students presented their version of Neil Simon's comedy, "Plaza Suite."

Explaining the unusual play, Director John O'Neill commented, "The three acts have no connection in plot — only in setting." After viewing the production one student considered the "the first act cool, the second act all right, and the third fantastic. It was out of sight!"

The play was a fast moving comedy, and touched on the somewhat ridiculous situations that frequently arise in life.

DECA Members Learn

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is a vocational program in which students are employed in part time jobs. Members of the three Roosevelt DECA Chapters spent the 1975-76 school year practicing business techniques especially in those businesses which deal with marketing and distribution.

Members of the DECA chapters worked at department and specialty type stores as well as in service selling (hotels, motels) businesses. Students also could be found working in banks, restaurants, and newspaper offices.

DECA was divided into three chapters each consisting of about 46 members. Harold Burris, Norman McPherson, and Howard Goldstucker each sponsored a DECA chapter. The chapters have three major activities during the school year. In February members attend Area 4 DECA Leadership Conferences. Then in March two delegates are sent to the State DECA Leadership Conference. In the spring DECA members end the school year with a city wide banquet honoring members and their bosses.

Through Practical Experience

ABOVE: Junior Angel Falto earns money and gains self-confidence in his DECA I arranged job at a local grocery business.

As well as receiving on the job instruction students enrolled in DECA are provided with individual training in their particular job field. Junior and senior students study marketing techniques while in class. DECA class time is spent playing business games, creating posters, participating in group activities, and working on individual studies. Along with marketing techniques students study color dynamics, ad design, infant wear, merchandising, basic selling, communication, business relations, and business organization. DECA II students also study sales promotion, windows, ad drawings, sales events, gimmicks, planning and buying merchandise, marketing research including methods of free enterprise, and parallels between different forms of government.

DECA students are released from campus for two or more periods a day in order to go to work. The time spent off campus is recognized by the Texas Education Agency as training and thus as school. Therefore, nine academic credits are awarded to students who satisfactorily complete the course each year. Students are graded by both their employer and coordinator. 36% of the six weeks grade is determined by the employer and the remaining 64% of the grade is determined by the coordinator. This portion of the grade is based upon participation, individual studies, and tests.

DECA students graduated with more than the usual high school education. They graduated with practical job experience and a saleable skill.

Flip Ends Playoff Hopes

The 29AAAA district race turned out to be a tight one. Following losses to San Marcos and Seguin, many people said TR was finished, but optimism still seemed prevalent in Rough Rider Country.

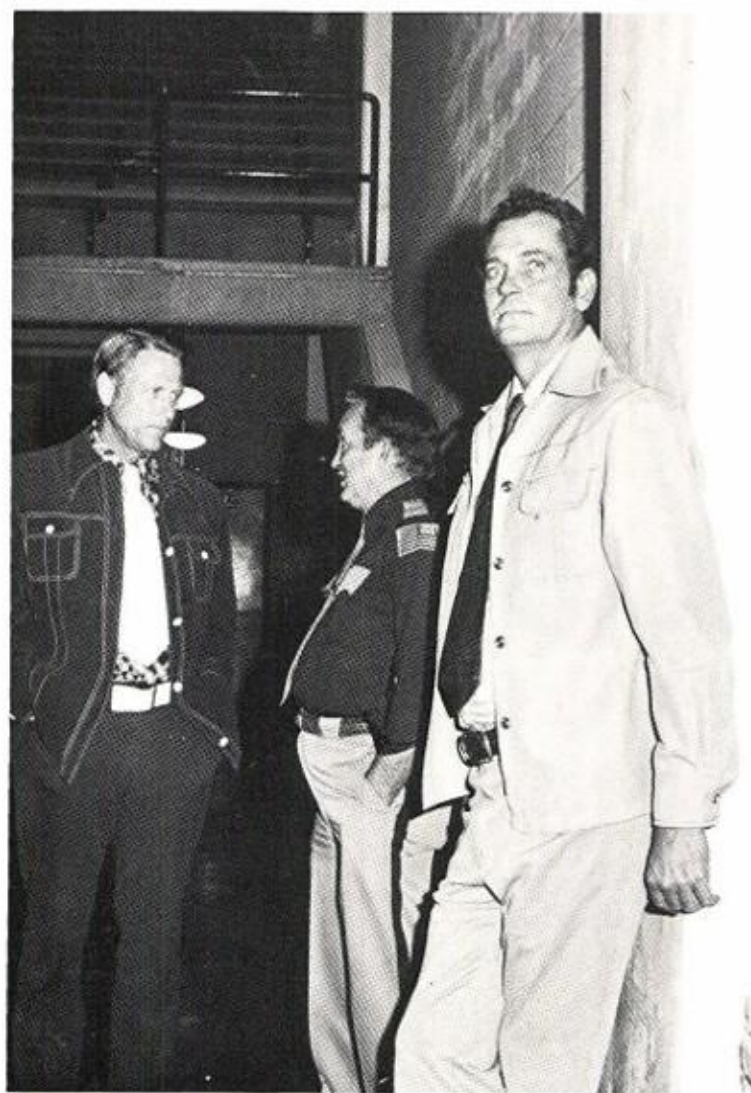

Roosevelt's chances were slim, and rested on a lot of ifs — if Sam Houston beat MacArthur, if Highlands beat San Marcos, if we beat Mac, and finally if they beat Sam Marcos, assuming we won the Judson game, we'd be co-champions. It seemed like a lot to hope for, but to the surprise of many people, it all happened, right down to the last if.

We were district champions for the second time in the school's history. But, we were tied with Seguin, MacArthur and San Marcos. So there was the matter of deciding who would represent 29AAAA in the playoffs. It was the simple matter of winning a four way coin toss.

The coaches met in Seguin, at 11 p.m. Tom Moseley was there to flip for the Riders' playoff berth. Team members, the other coaches, and supporters were stationed back in San Antonio, waiting word of the outcome. Radio stations promised to broadcast results the minute they were available; Coach Davis had a relay station set up to telephone the news.

It took four flips to determine a winner — the first and third an even split, and the second coming up all heads. The news finally came — Mac would represent District 29AAAA.

It came as quite a shock. Most people felt somewhat letdown — our guys had proved they were as good as any team, better than some, but the mere toss of a coin decided that the season was over for us. We had to settle for being co-champs, and support Mac as our representative, and, as one player put it, "Look at the bright side — at least we get patches for our letter jackets."

Davis Resigns As Head Coach

As November drew to a close, Derral Davis resigned from his post as Head Coach, disappointing many students and faculty members associated with him in the athletic program.

With the school since 1973, Davis ultimately led the Riders to a District co-championship title. After his resignation, he accepted a job as an Assistant Athletic Director at Blossom Athletic Center.

Having been a coach for more than 19 years, Davis stated, "I am glad that I could end it with the students at Roosevelt."

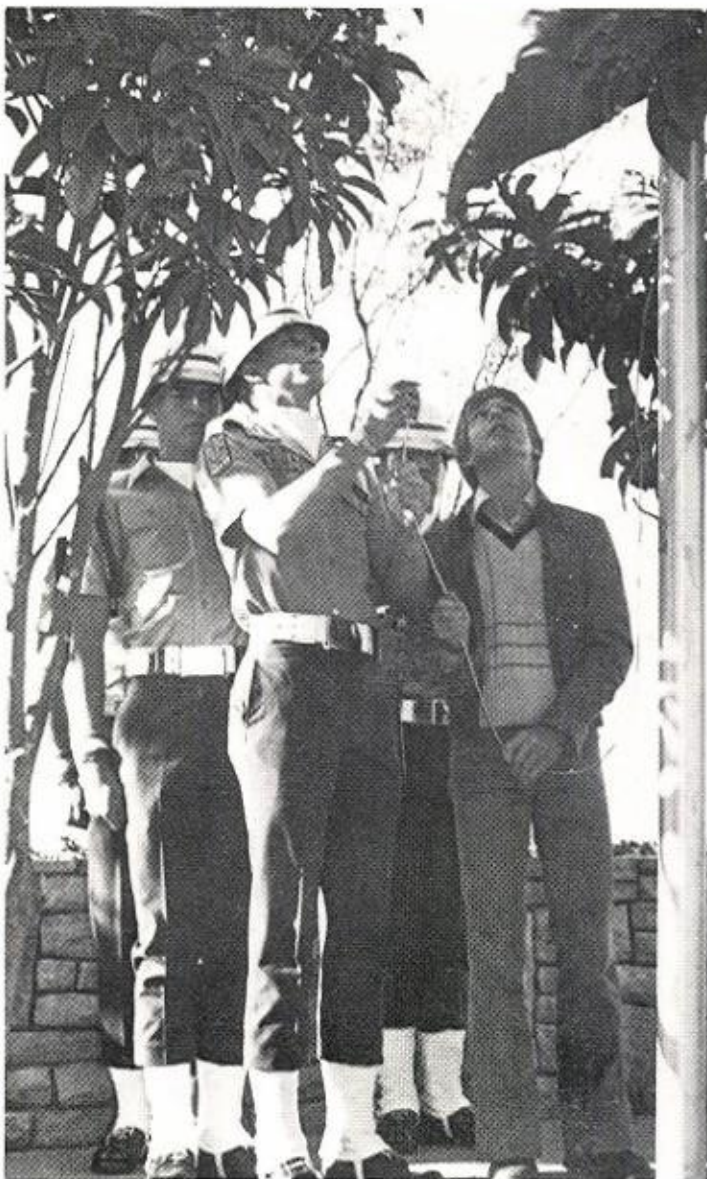

AFS Maintains Tradition

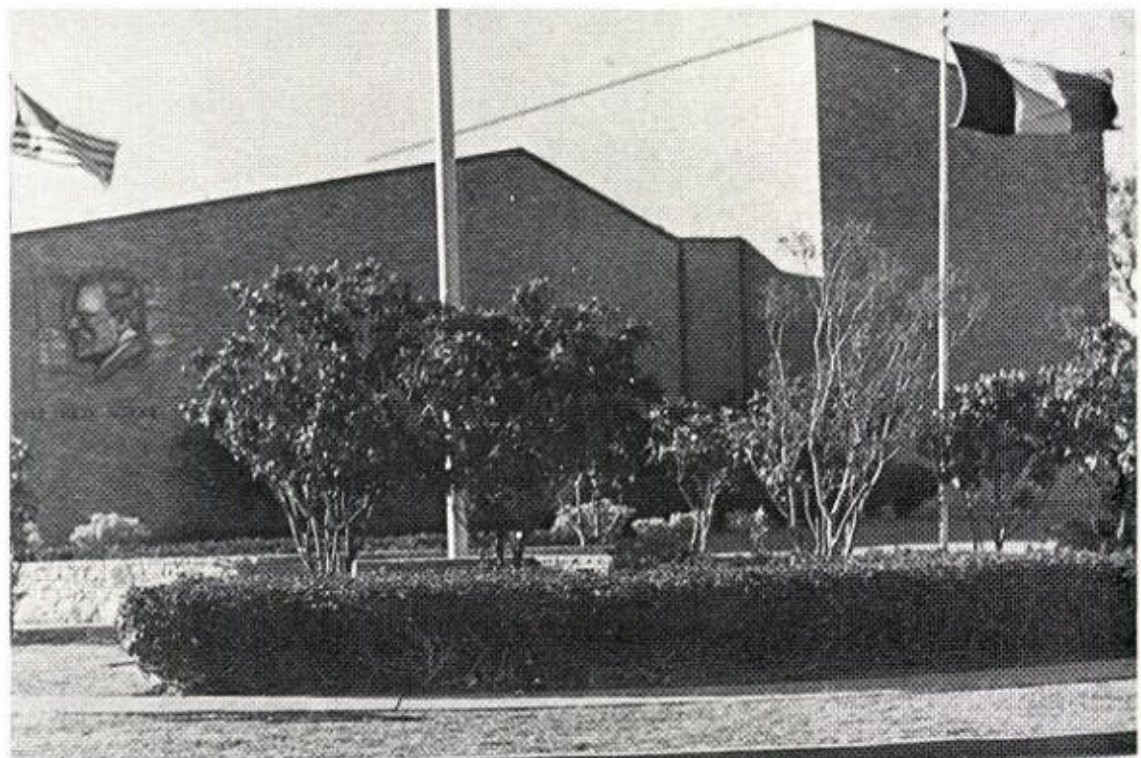

In 1969 the tradition of raising the foreign student's flag in a formal ceremony was initiated. This ceremony includes the raising of both the American flag and the Belgium student's flag side by side. For the remainder of the day the flags fly together over TR. Then the foreign flag is placed in the collection with those from countries of former foreign exchange students.

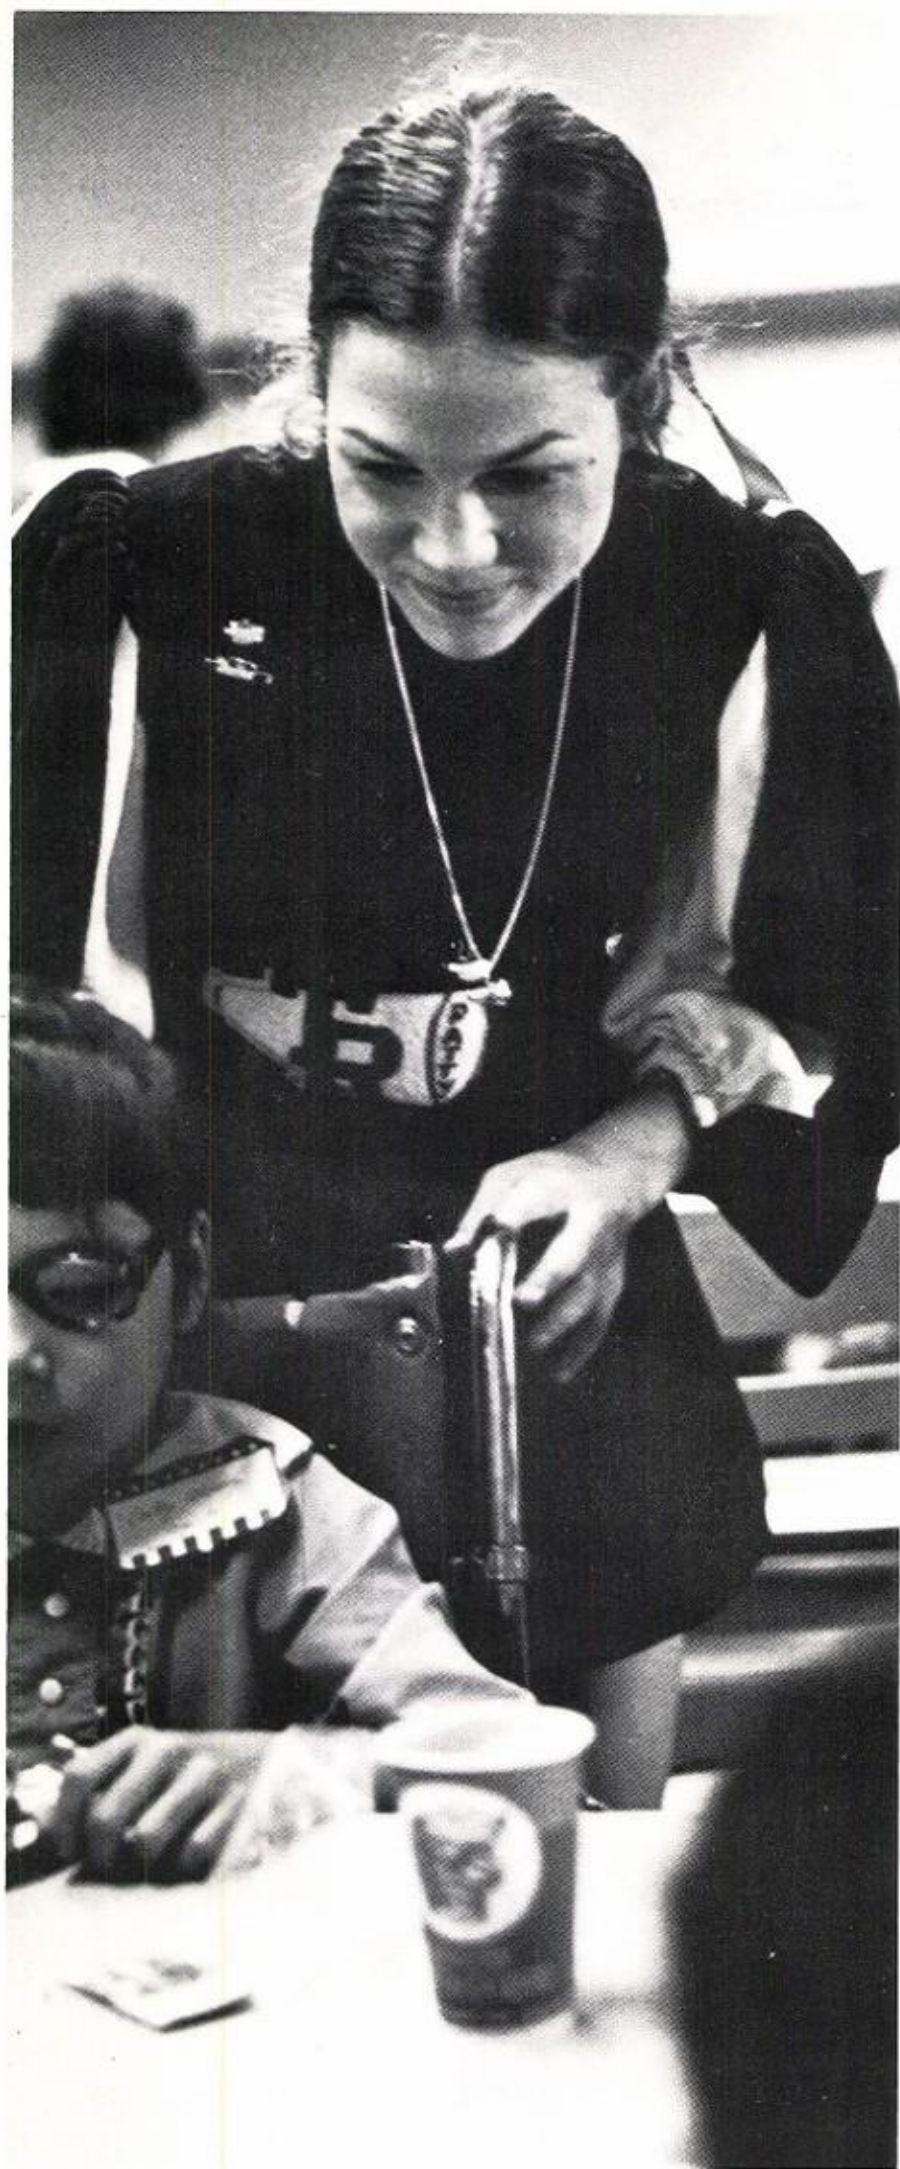

Stefan Van Bragt presented the flag of his country to Roosevelt at the annual ceremony, attended by government classes, foreign language classes and other interested students. Van Bragt was escorted in by San Juan Guard members. Then the band played Belgium's National Anthem while the flag was raised.

Van Bragt was given a souvenir to remember his days in Rough Rider Country and Texas — a genuine western belt.

Riders Take Time To Give

At Christmas many organizations presented special gifts to very special people. Several students participated in food drives, the gathering of clothes, and other necessities for underprivileged and poverty-stricken people. These students took their own time and effort to help those less fortunate. "Helping this family was the climax of my Christmas holidays," said senior Margo Oviedo.

Big Stick Rated "First"

At the Texas High School Press Association Conference in Denton the BIG STICK was recognized as the top "big" school newspaper in the State of Texas.

Through hard work and determination the BIG STICK staff reached the goal of having a high quality newspaper. The staff spent many extra hours after school in the journalism room laying out pages, writing stories, copy reading and combining all these things to form an excellent publication. Because of the extra effort put out by these students, the publication also received the MEDALIST rating from Columbia Scholastic Press Association. This is the highest rating given in national competition.

Exchange Program Allows Lavelle To Visit Russia

Through an exchange program, Alan Lavelle had an opportunity to see a side of Russia few Americans have experienced. Upon his return, the Russian teacher spoke to some journalism students about his stay.

"The Russians and the Americans have a great deal in common. We look alike, we have the same sense of humor, but of course there are basic differences. We're two different cultures. They're firmly convinced that capitalism as a system is on its way out; that it is going to be replaced eventually by socialism. They are quite sold on their system. They feel sorry for us because it appears to them that our system is deteriorating."

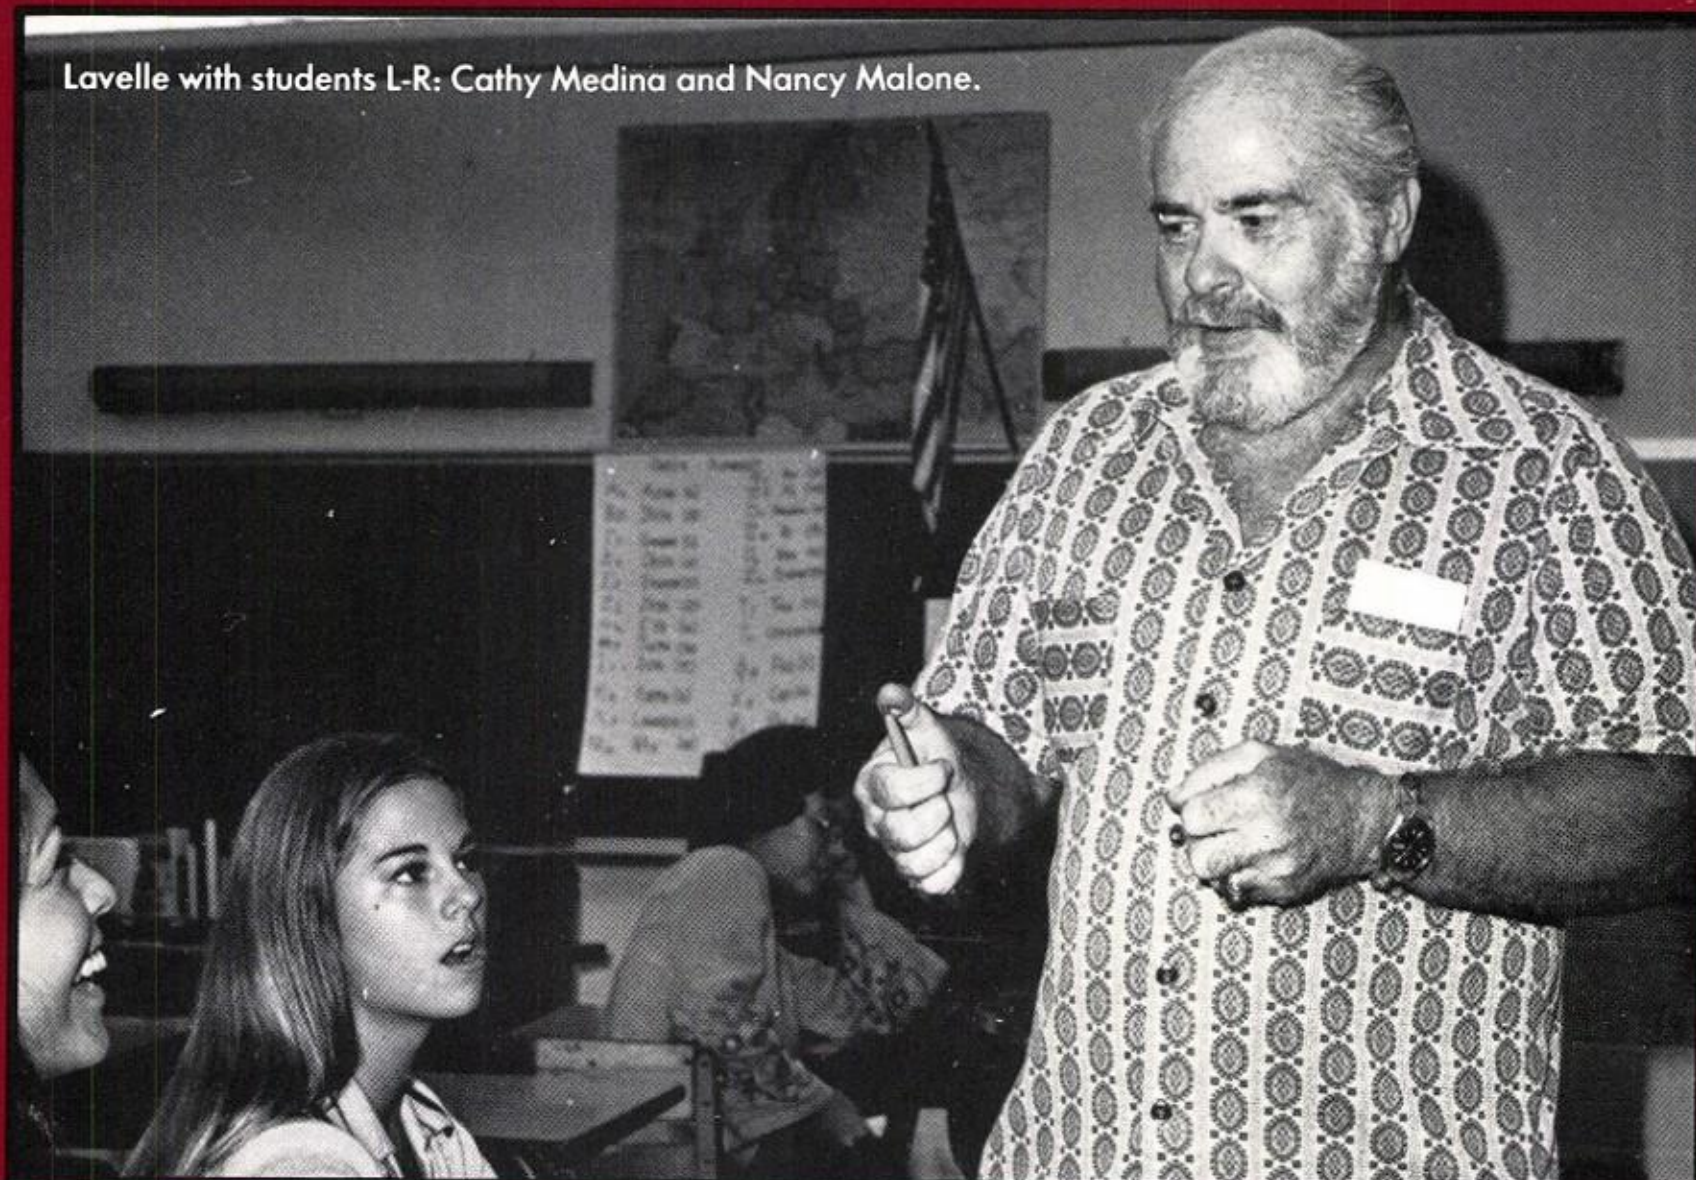

He continued, "It is a repressive society. They feel that we're oppressed and they're free. They really do."

Lavelle was a guest teacher while he was there. He said, "Generally speaking I had complete freedom to teach, but I know if I stepped out of line that they would not like it. They'd get uptight when we started to get into political differences."

Lavelle concluded, "I talked with a lot of students on the side and they asked what they could give me when I left there. I said give me a photograph of yourself, your name and address, so I can either write to you or get some of the kids to write. They said we'd like to very much, but we're afraid we'd get into trouble if we received too many letters from a non-communist country. Somebody keeps a list and then somebody would be around the house to ask questions."

Renaissance Sets Theme For Madrigal Feaste

The Renaissance set the theme of the choral department's Ye Old Madrigal Christmas Feaste. With the help of choir director Mary Ann Winden, the choir members presented a program designed as a traditional Old English Christmas during the Middle Ages. The singers, dressed in clothing of the period, served dinner to their guests and gave a Medieval show with songs and dances. The supper of roast beef and plum pudding with flaming brandy sauce included wassail, an old Anglo-Saxon drink customary at Christmas time in England.

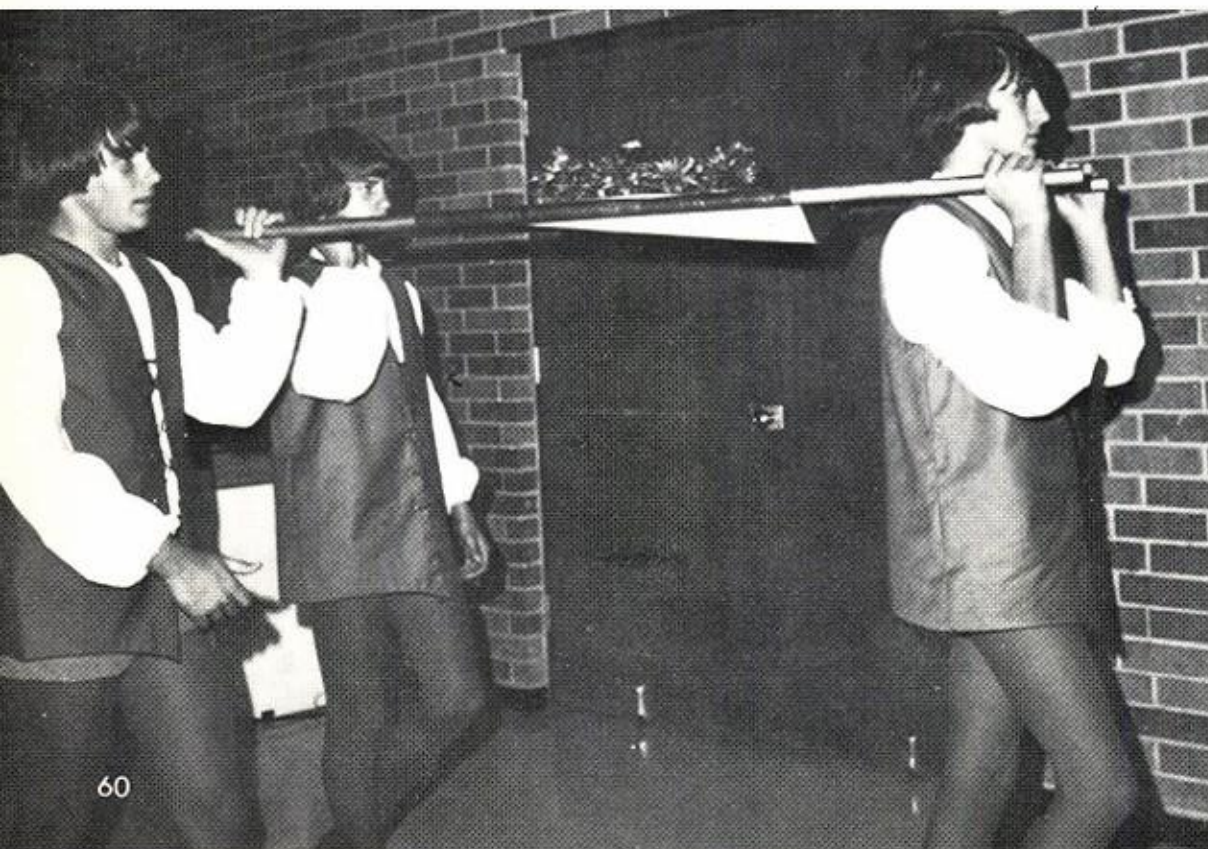

The show sparkled with the talents of soloists Letticia Austria, Margy Eddelman, and Mark Hokett. The court jester, Travy Remmert, emceed the evening show and music was provided by a woodwind ensemble from the TR band.

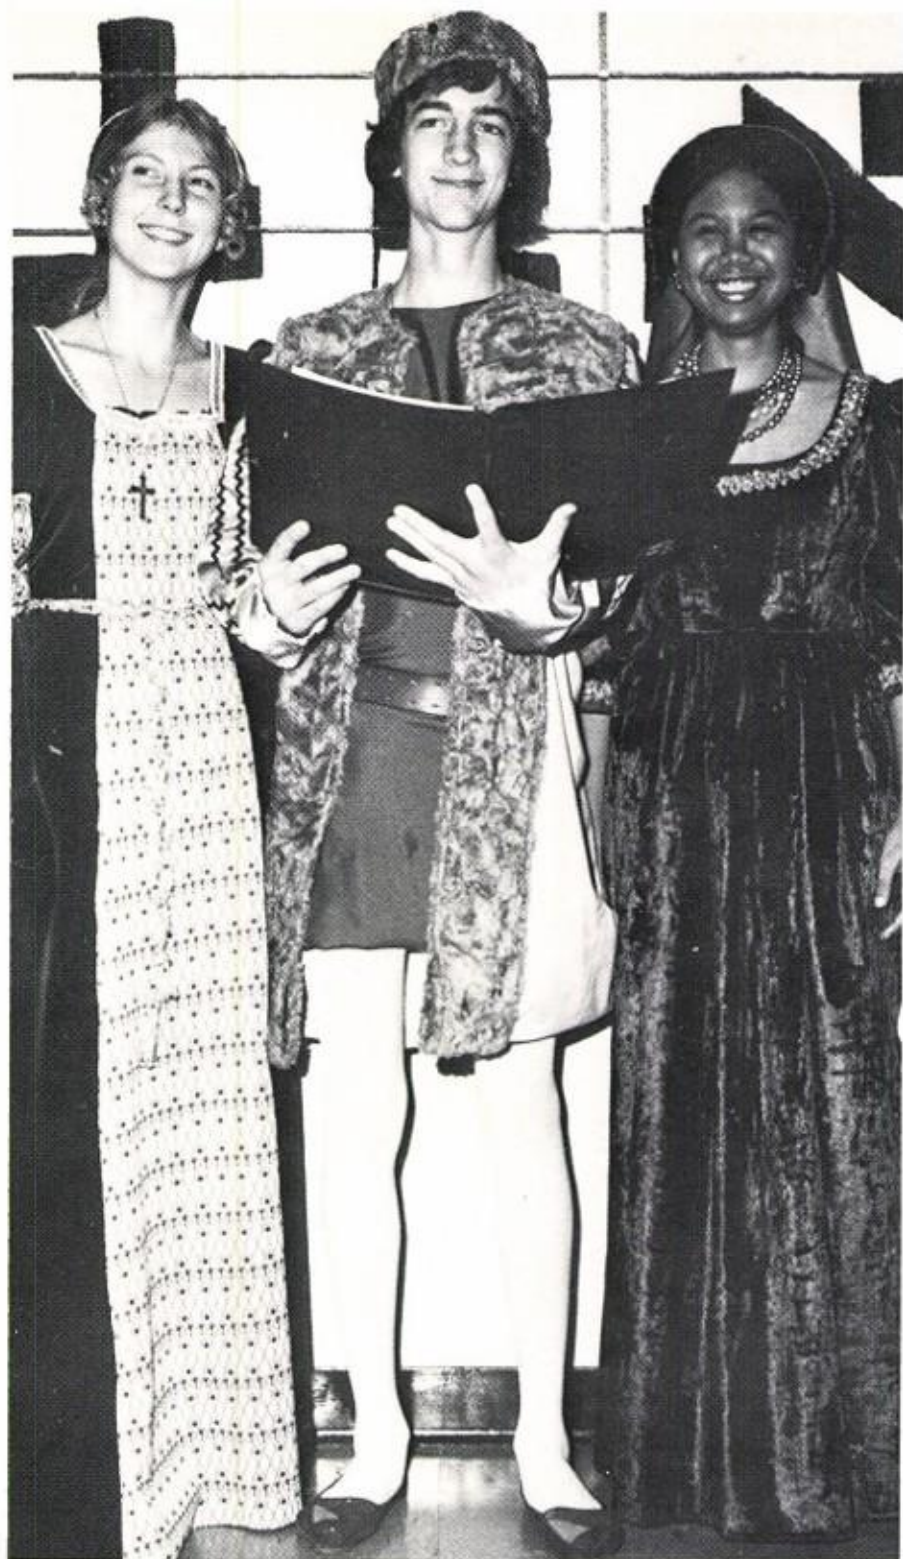

The feaste was such a success that Winden hopes to make it an annual occasion on an even more elaborate and sophisticated note.

Tyson, Team Ranks Fith In SA Area

Despite losing four of their opening six games, the Rider team gave their fans a thrilling brand of basketball. Several of these games were forced into overtime, and only one of the non-district losses was by more than three points. Following this early slump, the cagers came back to win all the regularly scheduled games, and lost only in the semi-finals of the South San Tournament, and in the finals of the Northside Tourney.

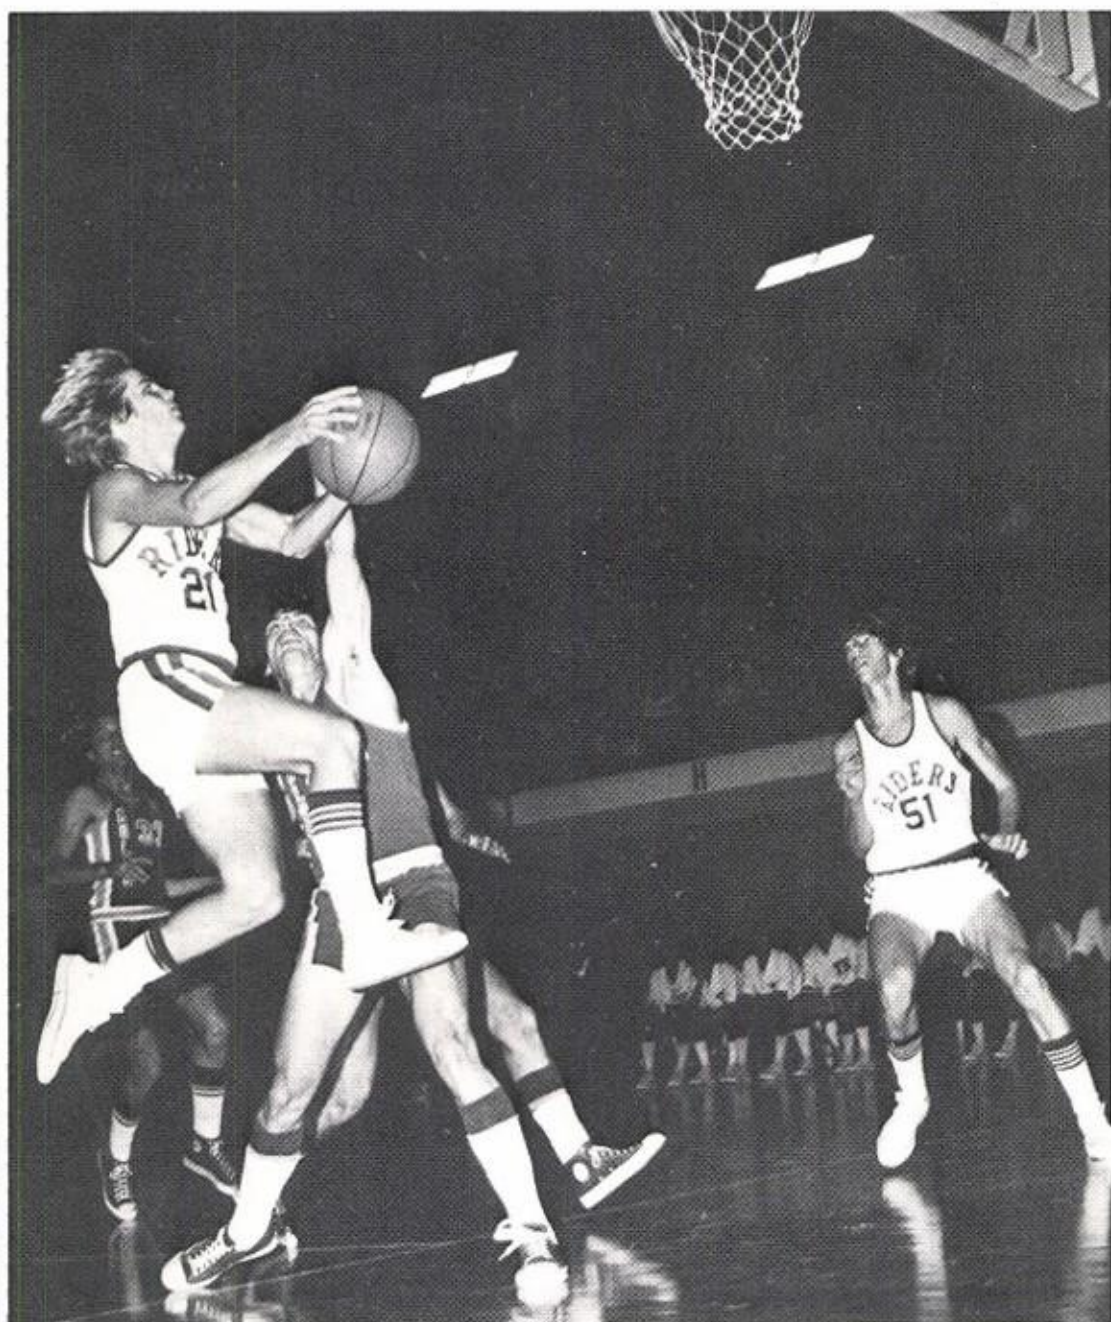

After they ended non-district play with a respectable 15-6 record, the area sports writers rated them fifth in San Antonio. Coach Jerry Tyson believed that they would be a top contender in a tough district.

NHS Becomes Service Club

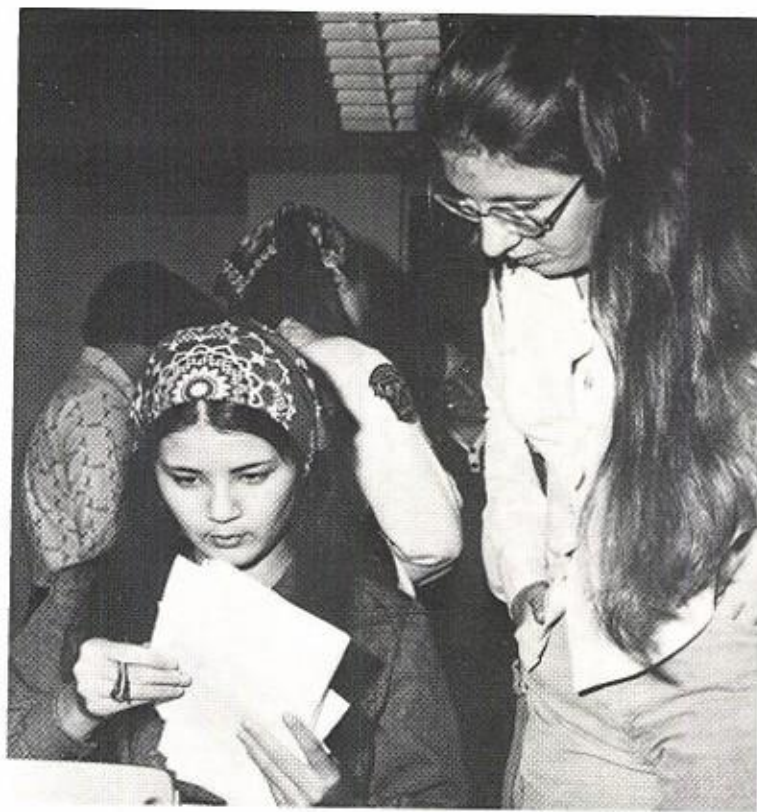

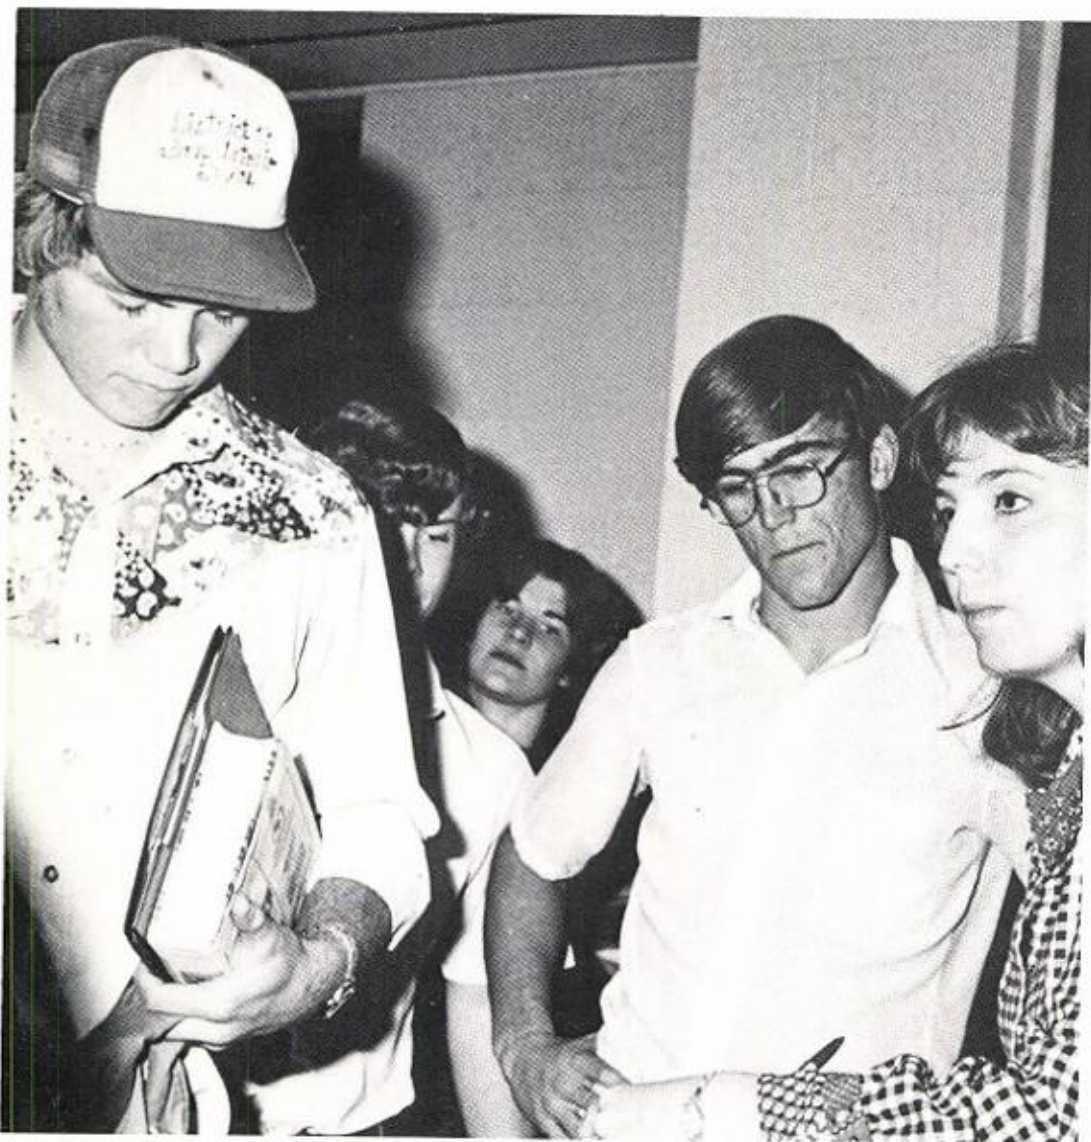

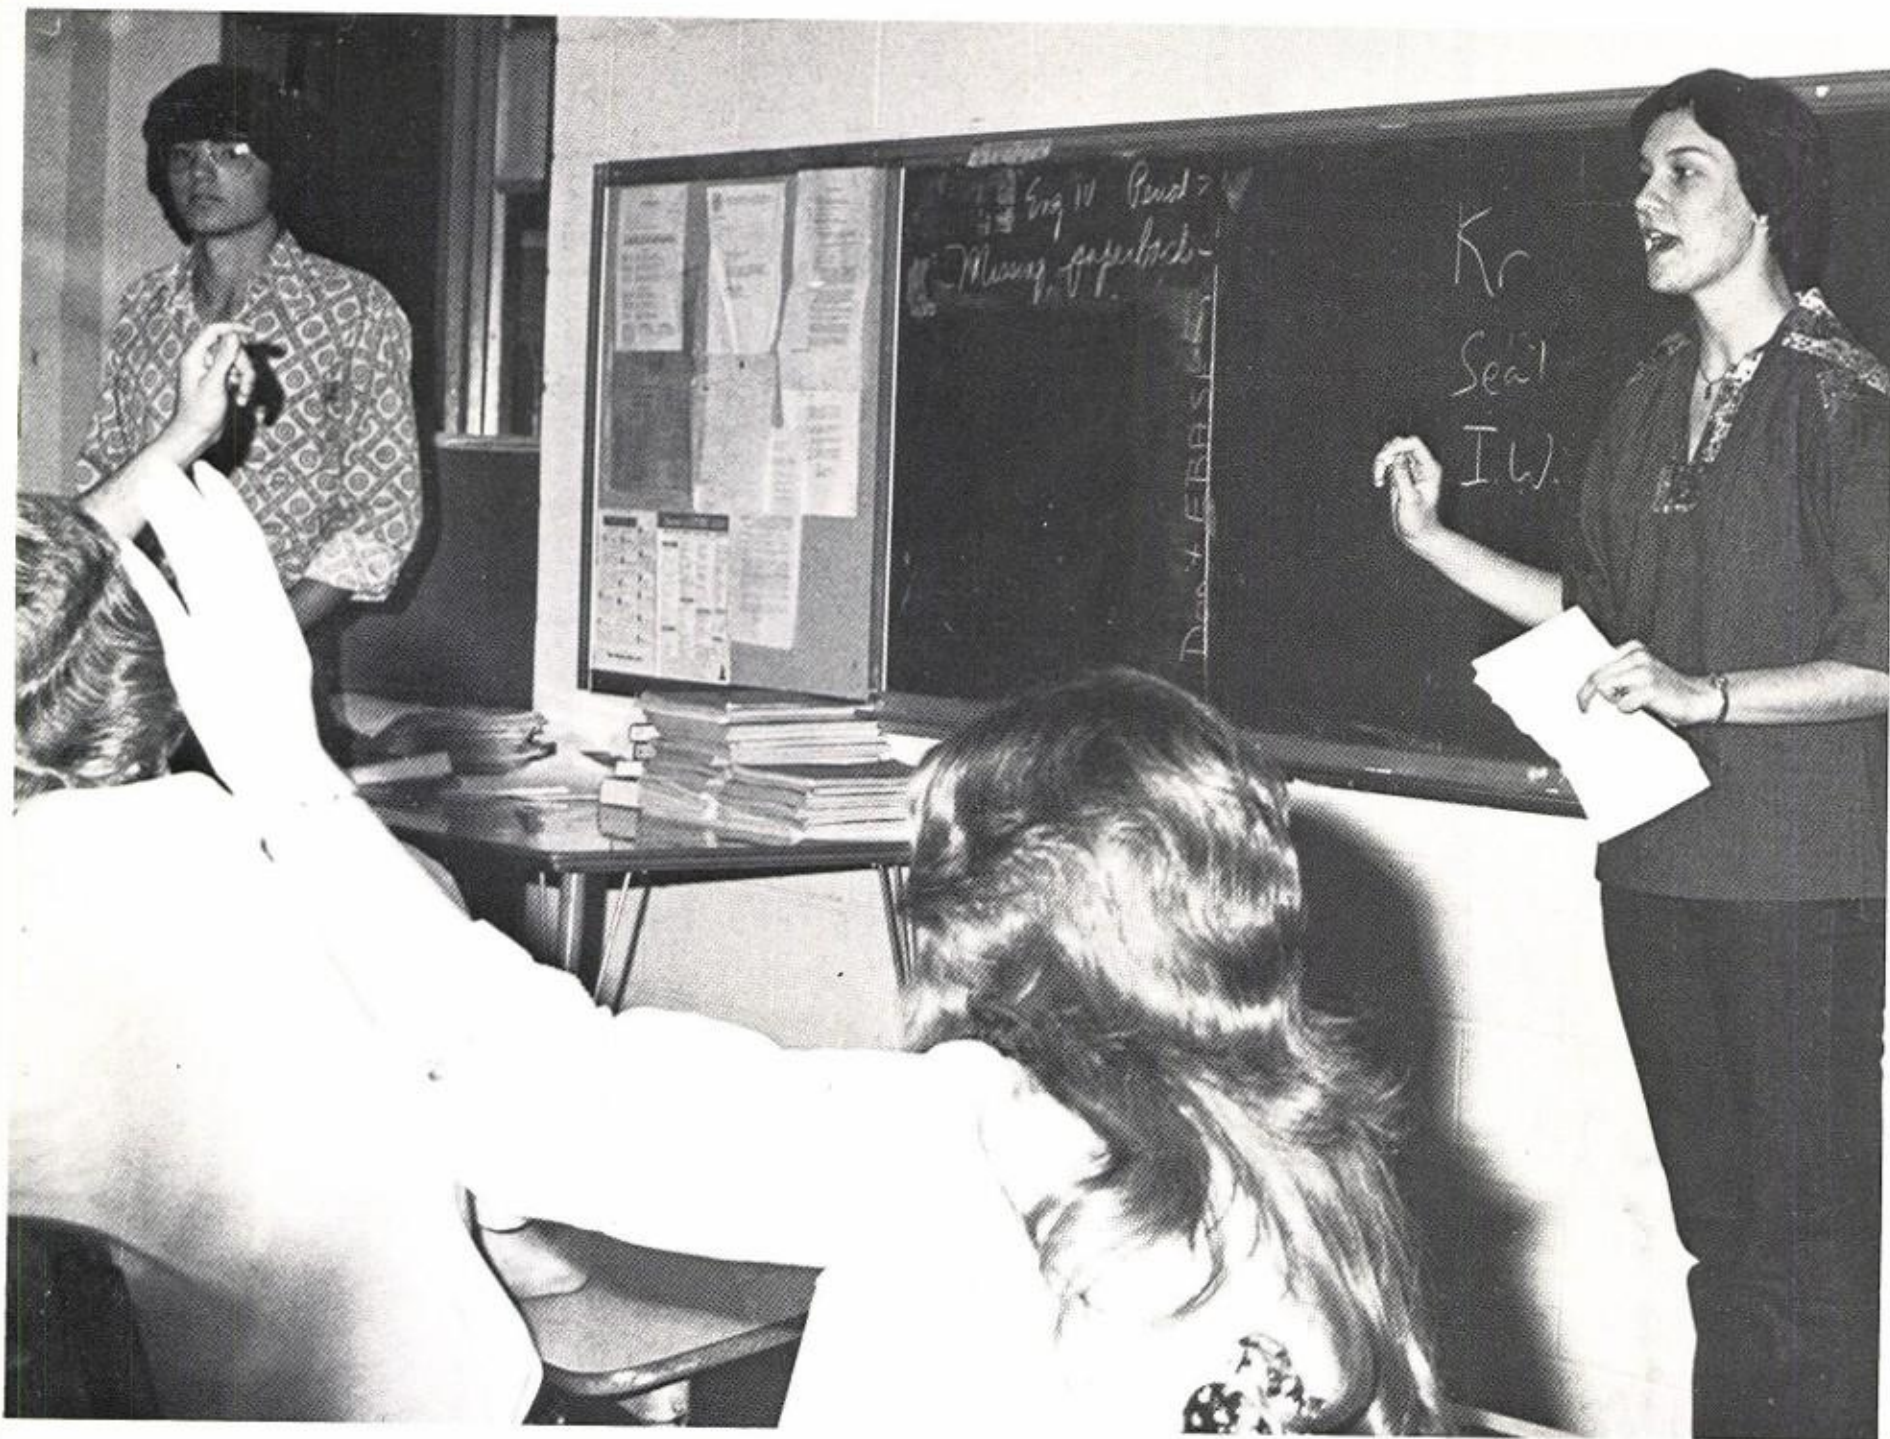

After existing for several years as a strictly honorary club, the National Honor Society changed to more of a service club this year. Members were asked to participate in at least one activity each six weeks ranging from giving parties at nursing homes and at Lackland for the soldiers to collection of food, clothes, and gifts for needy families.

The club extended its tutoring program for TR students, and participated in the San Antonio "Study Line" project. A new idea, suggested by Principal Thomas Moseley and implemented by a unanimous vote was the Secret Pals, where members anonymously gave cookies, candy, and cards to the faculty pals.

Crocker Hired As Head Coach

Following Derral Davis' resignation, the administration announced during a midyear press conference, that Mike Crocker had been selected as the new Head Coach.

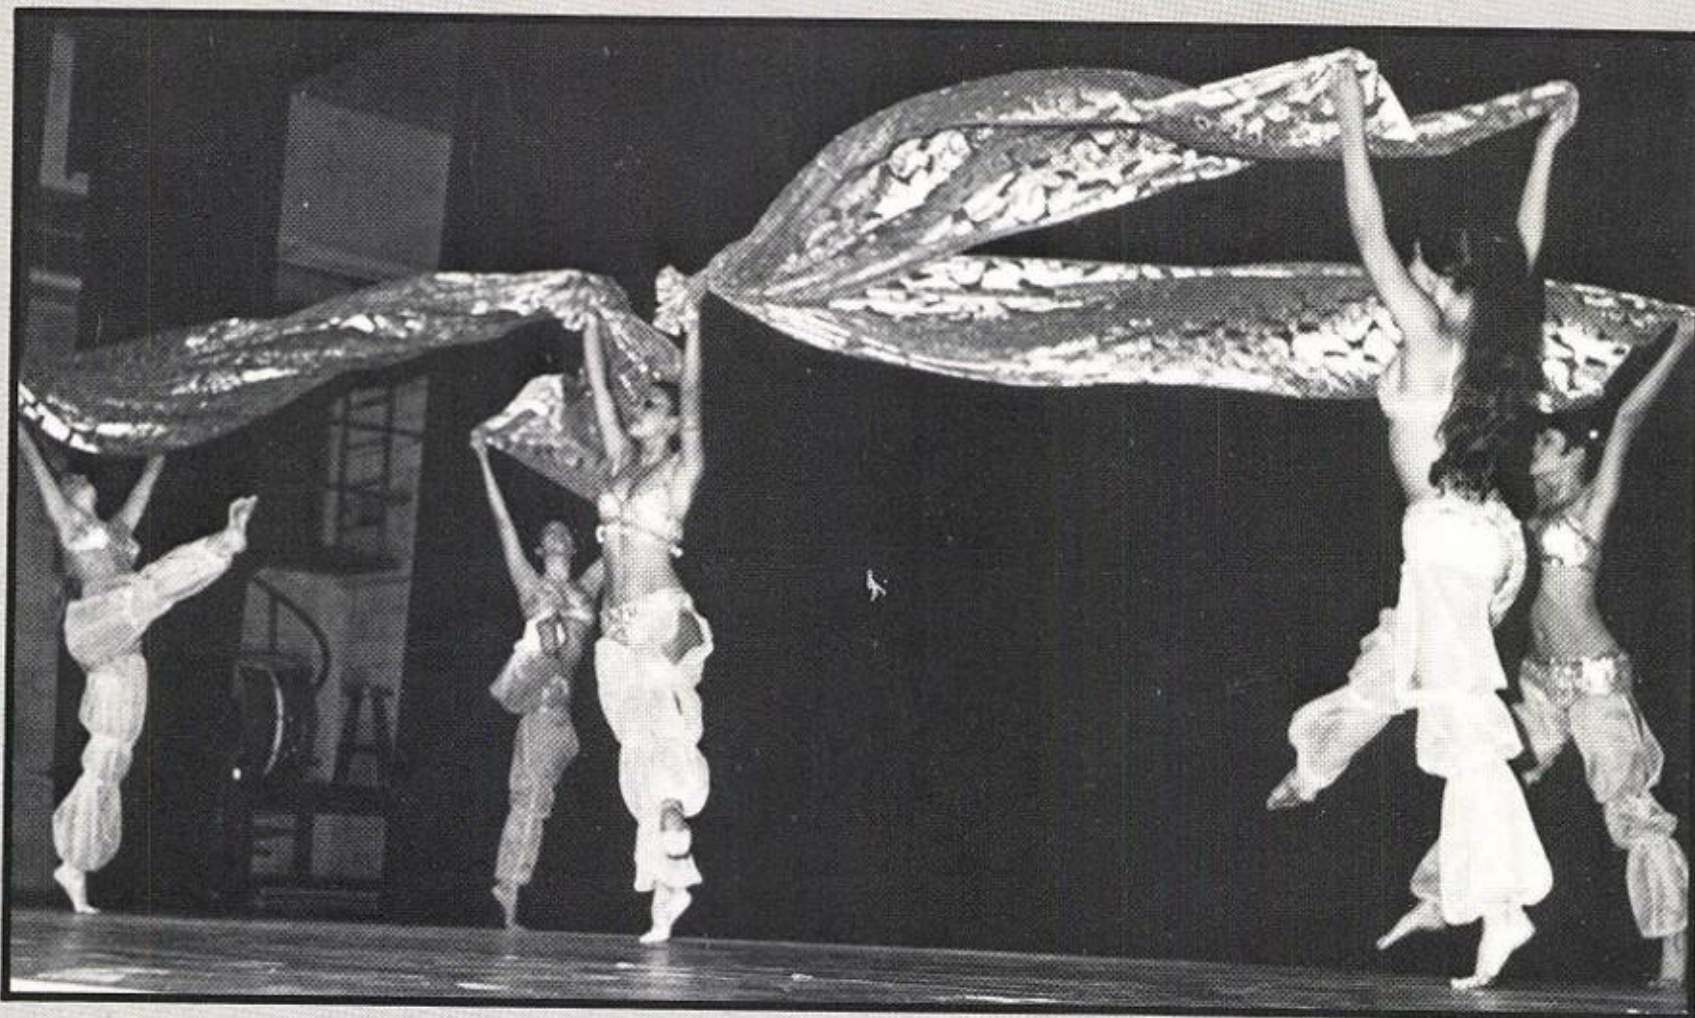

Crocker comes to Roosevelt from North Texas State, where he served as backfield coach for three years. Prior to that, he coached at Lee High School for seven years, aiding them to five District Championships, including a State title and producing such fine players as Pat Rockett, Tim Trimmier and Tommy Kramer.

"At this point, I'm impressed with the attitude and the hard work the players have put forth. They have responded very well to changes," stated coach Crocker. "The first year that I was at Lee, we were under similar circumstances, and produced a State Champion. How far the Riders want to go is up to them."

Student Council Promotes Community Projects

Mike Love, Denise Davenport, Phil Ricks and Fred Remmert tally food donations.

Student Council expanded their activities this year to include a number of community related projects. These activities included a blood drive, a voter registration drive, and a canned food drive. Representatives also participated in the KLRN Telethon to help raise money for the non-profit television station.

Student Council sponsored several projects which were beneficial to the student body. These included organizing the Roosevelt Shrimp Eaters, and sponsoring both the Howdy Dance and the Spring Dance. They organized all school elections, kept the marquis up to date, and issued ID cards.

Among other accomplishments, Student Council represented Roosevelt as the Secretary/Treasurer school for the American Association of Student Councils. Furthermore, the Council won first place in the bicentennial flag contest which was judged by City Councilman Al Rhode.

Freshman and sophomore representatives, front to back, are Cletis Gordon, Tambi Rice, Rayleen Sowell, Sharon Day, Nancy Rosendez, Kathleen Speier, Cindy Bowker, Denise Davenport, LuAnn Pierce, Mark Ricks, Mike Love, Kenneth Goetzke, Cynthia Lock, Phil Ricks, Pat Konick, and Diana Rolston. Fine Arts PTA Program

Beginning the year of celebration, the Fine Arts Department presented a PTA program in commemoration of the American Bicentennial. Working together, Chorale Choir, Patriots, Stage Band, and drama members presented the special pageant.

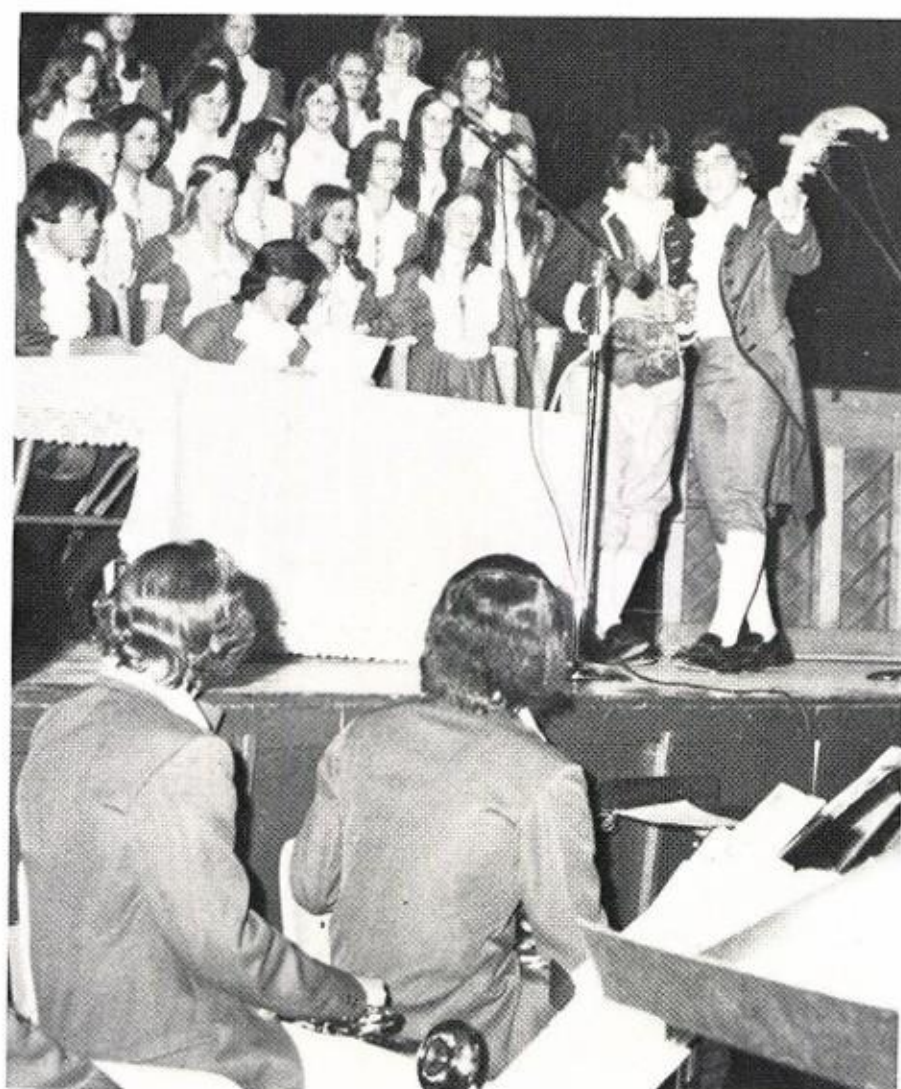

The highlight of the show was a presentation of the Bicentennial flag by Mrs. Robert E. Kennedy, from VISTA Republican Woman's Club. She also presented, to Student Council President Richard Stevens, an American flag which had flown over the United States Capitol. The flag was acquired by Senator John Tower and sent to Roosevelt to place additional emphasis on the bicentennial celebration.

Cagers Caught In Tie

After the football situation, ties were unpopular with Rough Rider fans. But, as soon as basketball season got underway, the Riders found themselves in the middle of another tie. After four games, four teams shared the top spot in 29AAAA. TR, MacArthur, Sam Houston, and Seguin all had equal 3-1 records.

The Riders' district play began at Highlands in a game that both teams felt they'd win. Referees said time had run out before an Owl player got off what could've been the game winning basket; therefore, the Riders won, 69-68. In their next outing, Roosevelt fell to highly rated Sam Houston, 75-65. Mac, ranked number one in the city, was TR's next opponent. The Riders were able to pull out a close one, with Ben Click's basket in the final seconds providing the winning 56-54 margin. The team then posted a fairly easy win over Judson, 64-57.

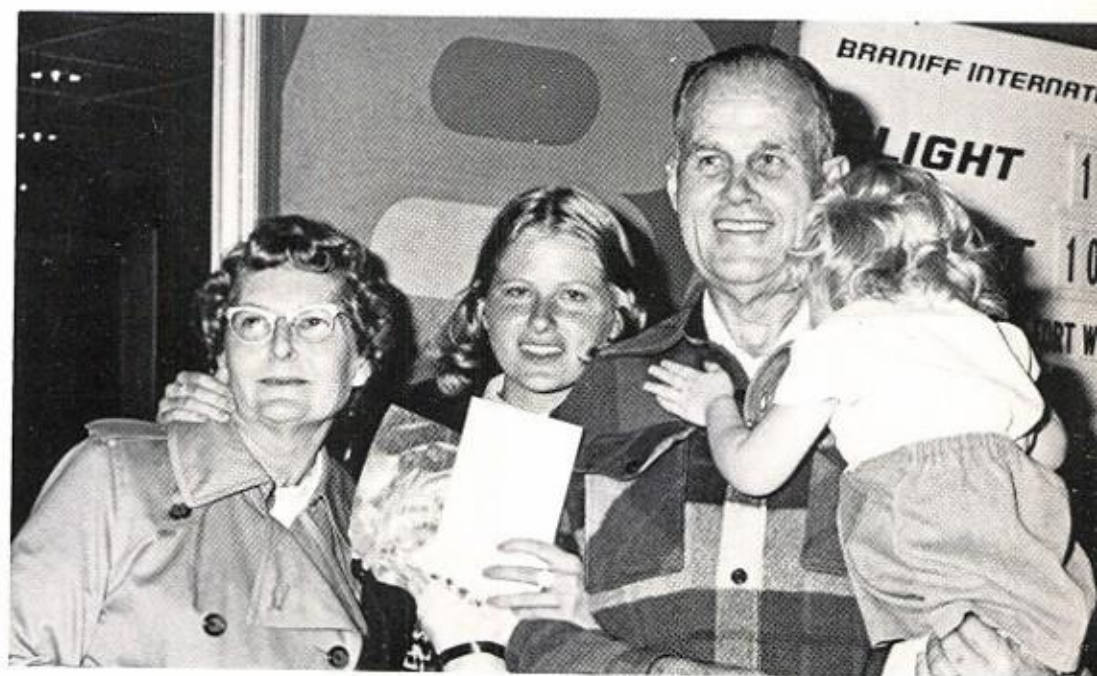

Nena Returns From Paraguay

Nena Shulte, selected last year by Americans Abroad to travel to Paraguay, returned to San Antonio in January to resume classes and graduate from Roosevelt. She left in the middle of the last school year, since the schools in Paraguay begin earlier than schools here.

Staying with Adip Chihan and his family, including four children, Shulte noticed that families are much closer in Paraguay than they are here. Attending Colegio Internacional, she studied all of the regularly required Senior courses except history.

Observing the influence of politics in government (public) schools, Shulte related that the official jobs and teaching positions are available only to members of the party in power. Because she was enrolled in a private school, the teachers were not necessarily obligated toward any party standards.

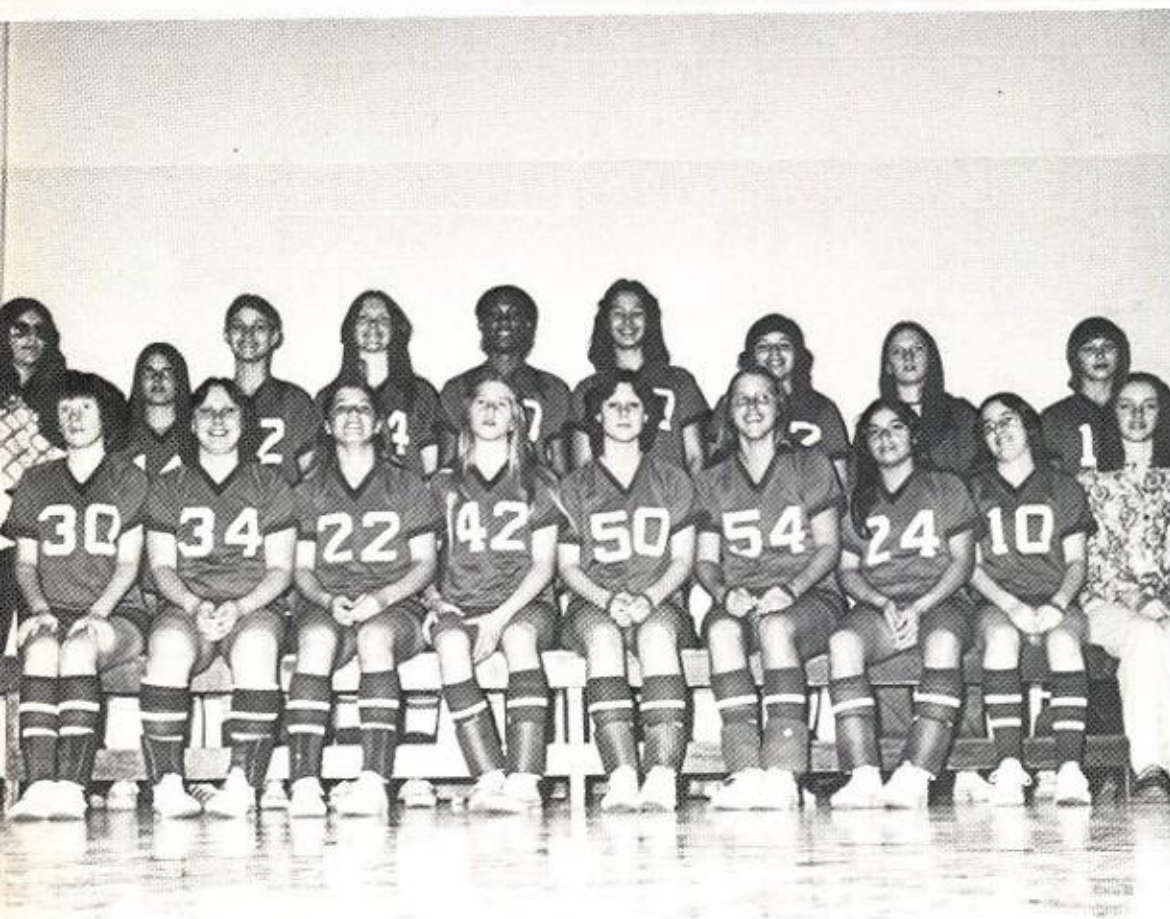

"It is not as Victorian as everyone thinks," said Shulte of Paraguay's modernness. She summed up her visit: "I wouldn't change that year for anything."

Bringing an end to a perfect season, wrestlers reached their goal when they won the district championship. Under the supervision of Coach Jim Ricker, they surpassed all other wrestling teams in the district by winning all the tournaments they entered. These included: The Dr. Pepper Invitational, the Samuel Clemens Invitational, and the LBJ Austin Invitational Tournaments.

Though hindered by the loss of a few team members due to injuries, the team kept moving toward the State Finals. Seven of the twenty-three members qualified. They were: Brent Gillespie, Billy Williamson, Stan Snyder, Jimmy Mathis, Tommy Howell, Mike Gibbons, and Roy McKenzie. Stan Snyder later captured first place in the 188-pound category at the State tournament.

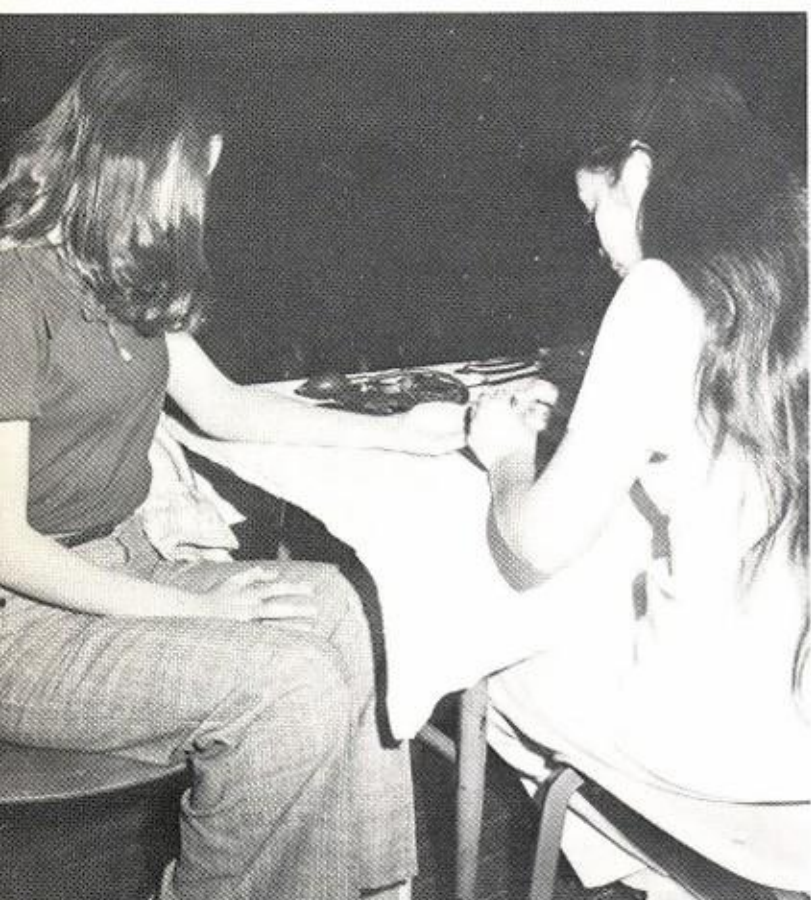

Donors Provide Valuable Blood

Due to a severe lack of blood, the South Texas Regional Blood Bank came to Roosevelt on January 29-30 seeking willing donors anxious to contribute. A total of 252 pints of the valuable liquid was collected which set a record for "first time" blood drives in high schools. "We could not begin to supply the 55-60 hospitals without the high schools," commented Bonnie Shriver, a STRBB representative.

Starting at 8:00 a.m., students (17 years and older), faculty, and members of the community (all with the proper forms and identification) began to report to the auditorium where six beds were set up with STRBB personnel on hand to supervise the taking of the blood. Students were released from their English class so that they could go through the 15-20 minute procedure and possibly win free tickets to a Spurs game.

"This blood drive is the first opportunity we've had to really give something of ourselves to a cause that desperately does need our help," commented Richard Stevens, president of the Student Council. The Council was the driving force behind the enormous success of the blood drive.

NASA Presents Space Summit

Featuring scientific demonstrations of the latest advances in space exploration, representatives from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration informed and entertained students during the North East Space Summit.

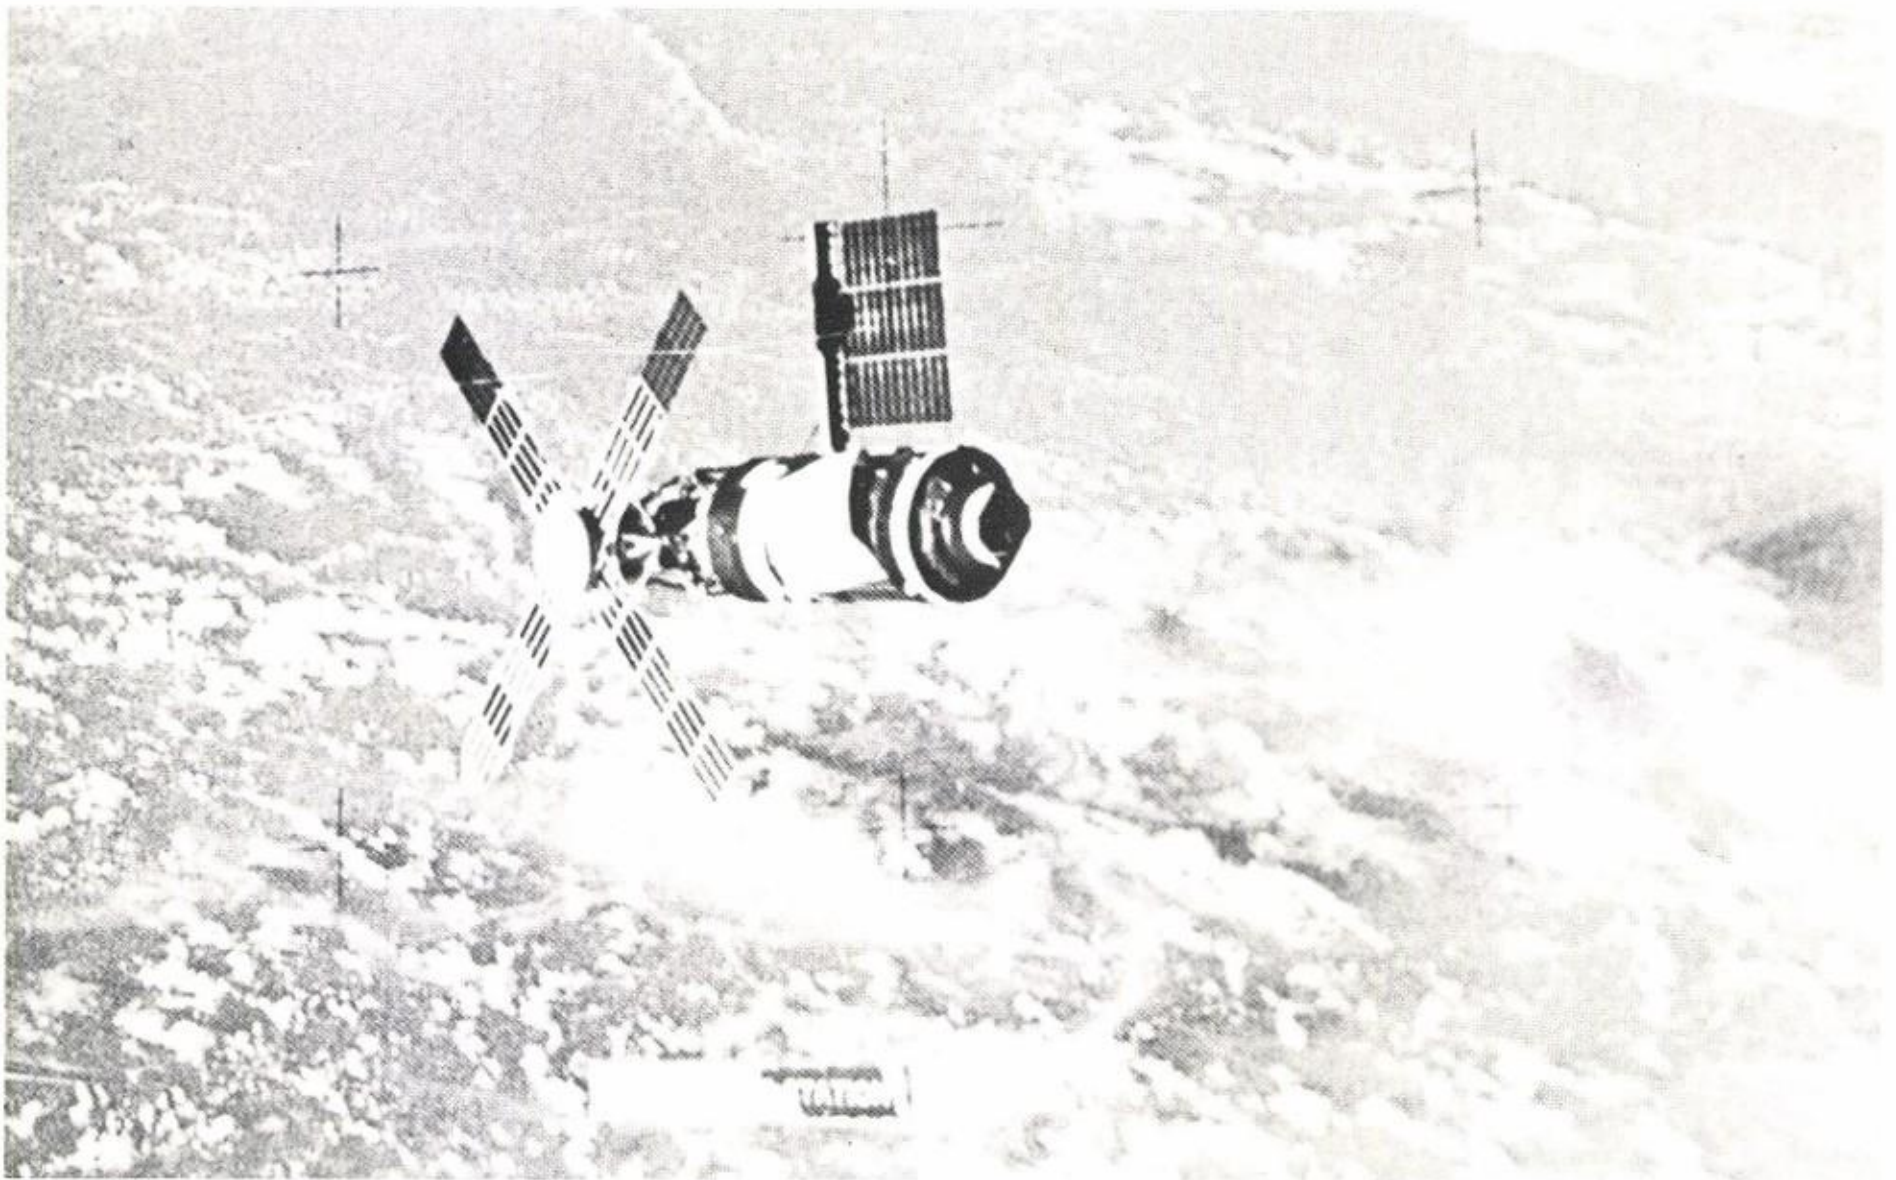

Headed by scientist-astronaut Karl Henize, the NASA team lectured on such subjects as aeronautics, communications, rocketry, and propulsion systems. These lectures gave interested science students a chance to participate in the summit.

Dr. Ivan Fitzwater, NEISD superintendent comments, "One of the most ambitious community projects ever undertaken in San Antonio, the North East Space Summit was designed to provide the latest information on the nation's greatest achievements in space science and related fields."

Jointly sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association and the North East Independent School District, the program was deemed a success by all involved.

It may have been the Year of the Dragon in China, but in the US it was here definitely the Year of the Woman. From Betty Ford to Gloria Steinham, Jackie Onassis to Cher, the American Woman was basking in the public spotlight.

Roosevelt was no exception. For years, the athletic world of TR had been dominated by males. The place for the girl interested in athletics had been in the pep, drill or cheering

All that has changed now. The female today at TR is gaining more and more recognition as she rises to claim a state-wide reputation for excellence. She may choose from such team sports as volleyball, and basketball, to the more individualized ones of golf, swimming, tennis and track.

Whitehead Stars In Melodrama

With sophomore David Whitehead in the title role, dramatists twice performed "Frankenstein," an old-fashioned melodramatic comedy revolving around the original classic by Mary Shelley.

Other cast members of the two act play were: Keith Barber, Earnst; Margaret Seely, Sophie; Mitchell Noble, the creature; Ed Bowers, Henry; Anita George, Frau Frankenstein; Carol Suggs, Justine; and Elaine Shipman, Elizabeth.

In addition to drama teacher John O'Neil, sophomores Sandy Birdsall and Kristie Moon assisted in the direction of the play. The student actors were also aided by a very efficient technical crew.

SM Win Narrows District Title Run

A decisive 72-51 victory over San Marcos combined with losses by other contending teams in the district 29AAAAA race, left only the Roosevelt and Seguin basketball teams sharing the top spot in the district, with the game between these two scheduled next. Almost everyone agreed that the winner of this game would also be the first round champion.

Even though the score was close in Seguin's favor at the half, the Matadors heavily dominated the remainder of the game, as they completely ran away from the tiring Riders in the end, winning, 69-53, and ending almost all of Roosevelt's hopes for any share of the first round title. In the final game of the round, TR met New Braunfels, and held the lead throughout most of the game, but just could not hang on, losing the lead, the game, and the championship.

Honors Group Reestablishes Beta Chapter

According to the National Beta Club Journal, the group is a "non-secret, leadership — achievement — service organization for high school students. Its purpose is . . . promotion of honesty, service, and leadership." As a state-accredited high school, Roosevelt has long been eligible to start a local chapter of the Beta Club and this year English teachers Linda Revere and Pauline Staggars did just that. As a first-year group, Beta Club members spent most of the year organizing. With the help of the sponsors and the club officers, however, members did participate in two lecture-discussions at local universities and several bake sales, as well as a formal induction ceremony.

Cheryl Sears was elected President of the Beta Club early in the year. Other officers were: Mark Dooley, Vice-President; Patty Hutzler, Secretary; and Kathy Edwards, Treasurer.

Why the competition is

occer, Europe's answer to our football, first hit Roosevelt's sports scene last year as the "sport of tomorrow." This time around, that promise for the future was becoming a reality.

For many people, soccer was a mystery sport. About all the information that the public knew off-hand was that it was big over in Europe and Kyle Rote, Jr. was its starring athlete. They had a lot to learn.

The team was out to show them exactly what soccer meant, but in order to do that, they knew they had to capture the limelight with a winning season. So they worked hard, practicing to make themselves each a member of one mighty unit. And when that first game started over on Olmos Field, they were ready. And they won.

Though the Rider team was not officially a part of the school or the NEISD, they did succeed in being recognized on campus and around the city as a winning part of RRC. And after all, that was all they really wanted.

The VOE department had an active year. They participated in the Vocational Fair and also gave a luncheon for the employers of the students. Also, the students attended the state convention held in Houston, with two of the eight students placing in competition. While there, the students visited Astroworld and also took part in the award ceremony.

Final Round Gives Riders New Hopes

Beginning a new round, it meant an even start for all the teams, and renewed hope of a District 29AAAA Championship for the Riders.

In the second round opener against Highlands, the Riders started off well, and stayed close during most of the game. A final minute score by the Owls, however, put them ahead, and Highlands hung on to win, 78-76.

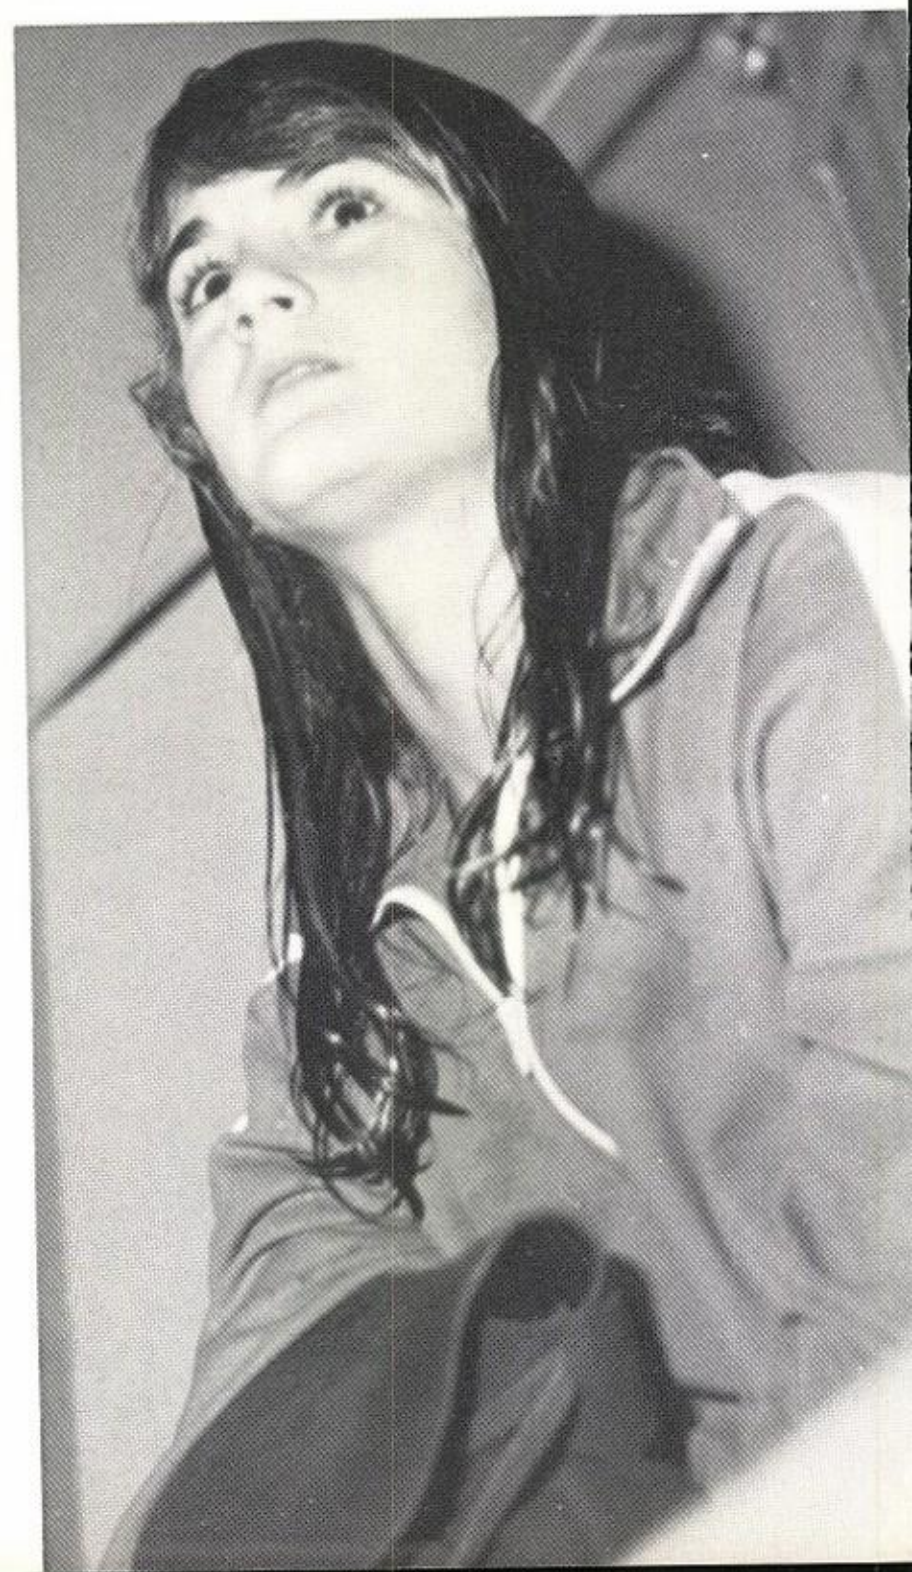

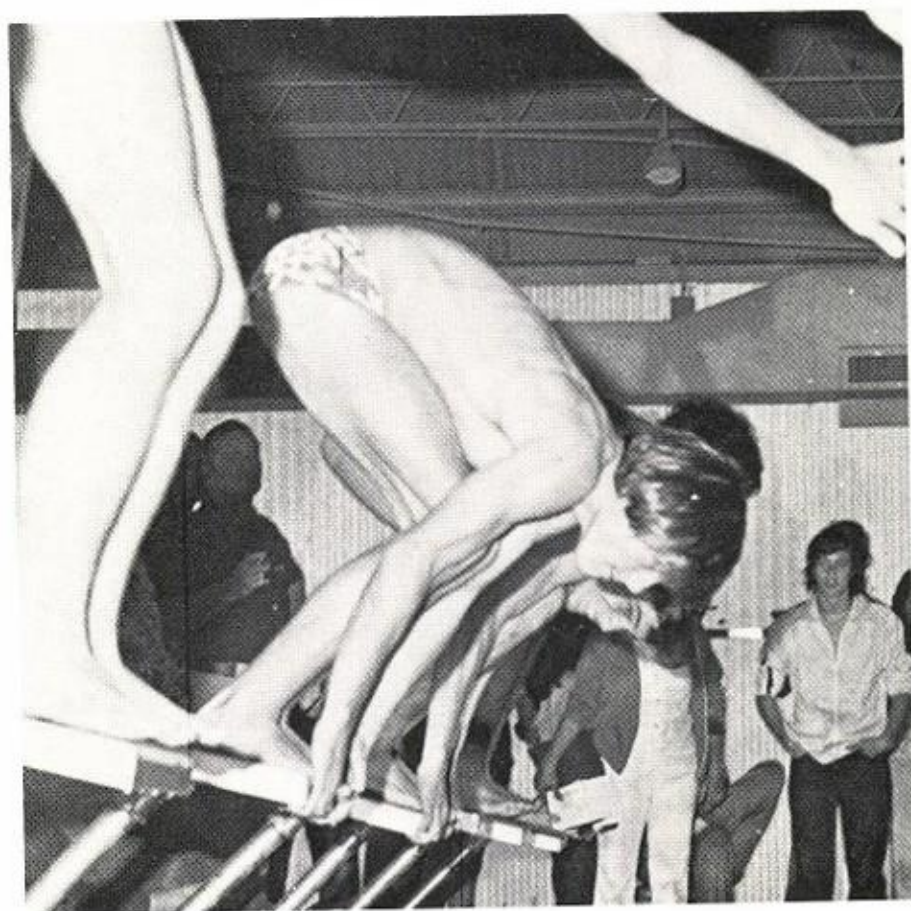

In the Sam Houston game, the Riders built up a lead that stretched to twelve points at times, but, as in the last few games, TR couldn't hang on in the last quarter. Roosevelt suffered its fourth straight defeat 63-58.

The Riders couldn't afford to lose to MacArthur. It was very balanced and if either of the teams dominated, it was TR — until the final seconds, when Mac made clinch free throws that the nervous Rider team failed to match, losing a heartbreaker, 71-69.

Despite being the youngest team in many years, swimmers competed in seven meets during the year. Led by Seniors Ann Dippo and Mike Lansing, one junior and 18 underclassmen, the team set several records.

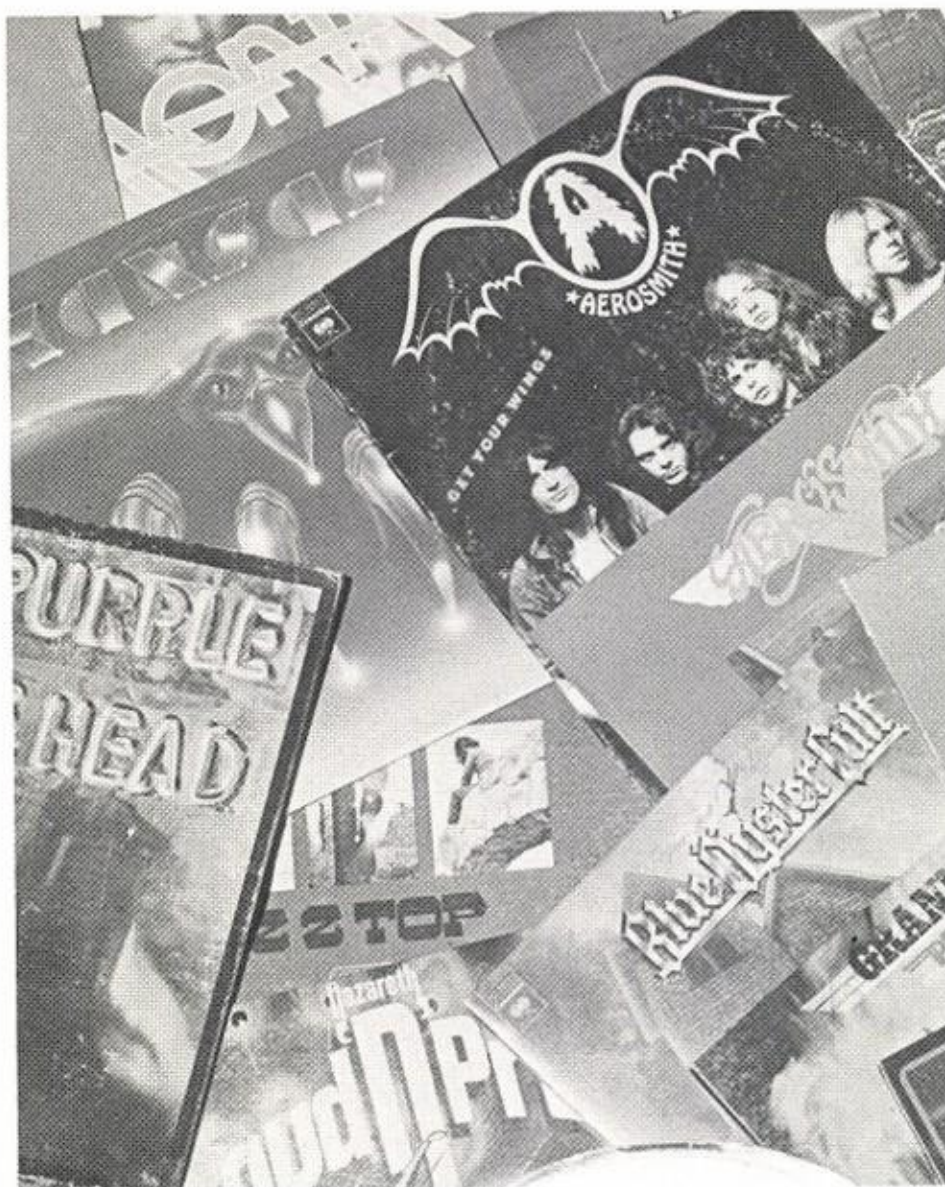

In Regional competition, nine swimmers won individual awards. Lansing placed first in the 100 yd. breaststroke in the preliminaries, but due to an unfortunate accident that happened on the starting block, he was unable to compete in the finals.

In the Junior Varsity Championships, Becky Price won a first in the 100 freestyle and Cheryl Foster placed first in the 200 individual medley. Bonnie Sorenson earned fourth in the 50 and 100 freestyle and Dean Gutmueller placed second in the 100 and 200 freestyle. Max Engle won first in the 500 freestyle and Marc Ognibene took second in the 100 IM and fourth in the 200 IM. Scott Eaton was fourth in the 100 freestyle and took second in the 50 freestyle. Boys' team also placed fourth overall at the meet.

New school records were set by Dippo, Lansing and Price at the Texas Interscholastic Swim Coaches Association Meet. Dippo swam the 200 yard IM in 2:20.47 and the 100 yard butterfly in 1:02.23. Price recorded a time of 57.5 in the 100 yd. breaststroke in 1:02.23.

Coach Coffey stated, "Since 19 of the 21 members will be returning, the upcoming year looks promising. We will be tough competitors."

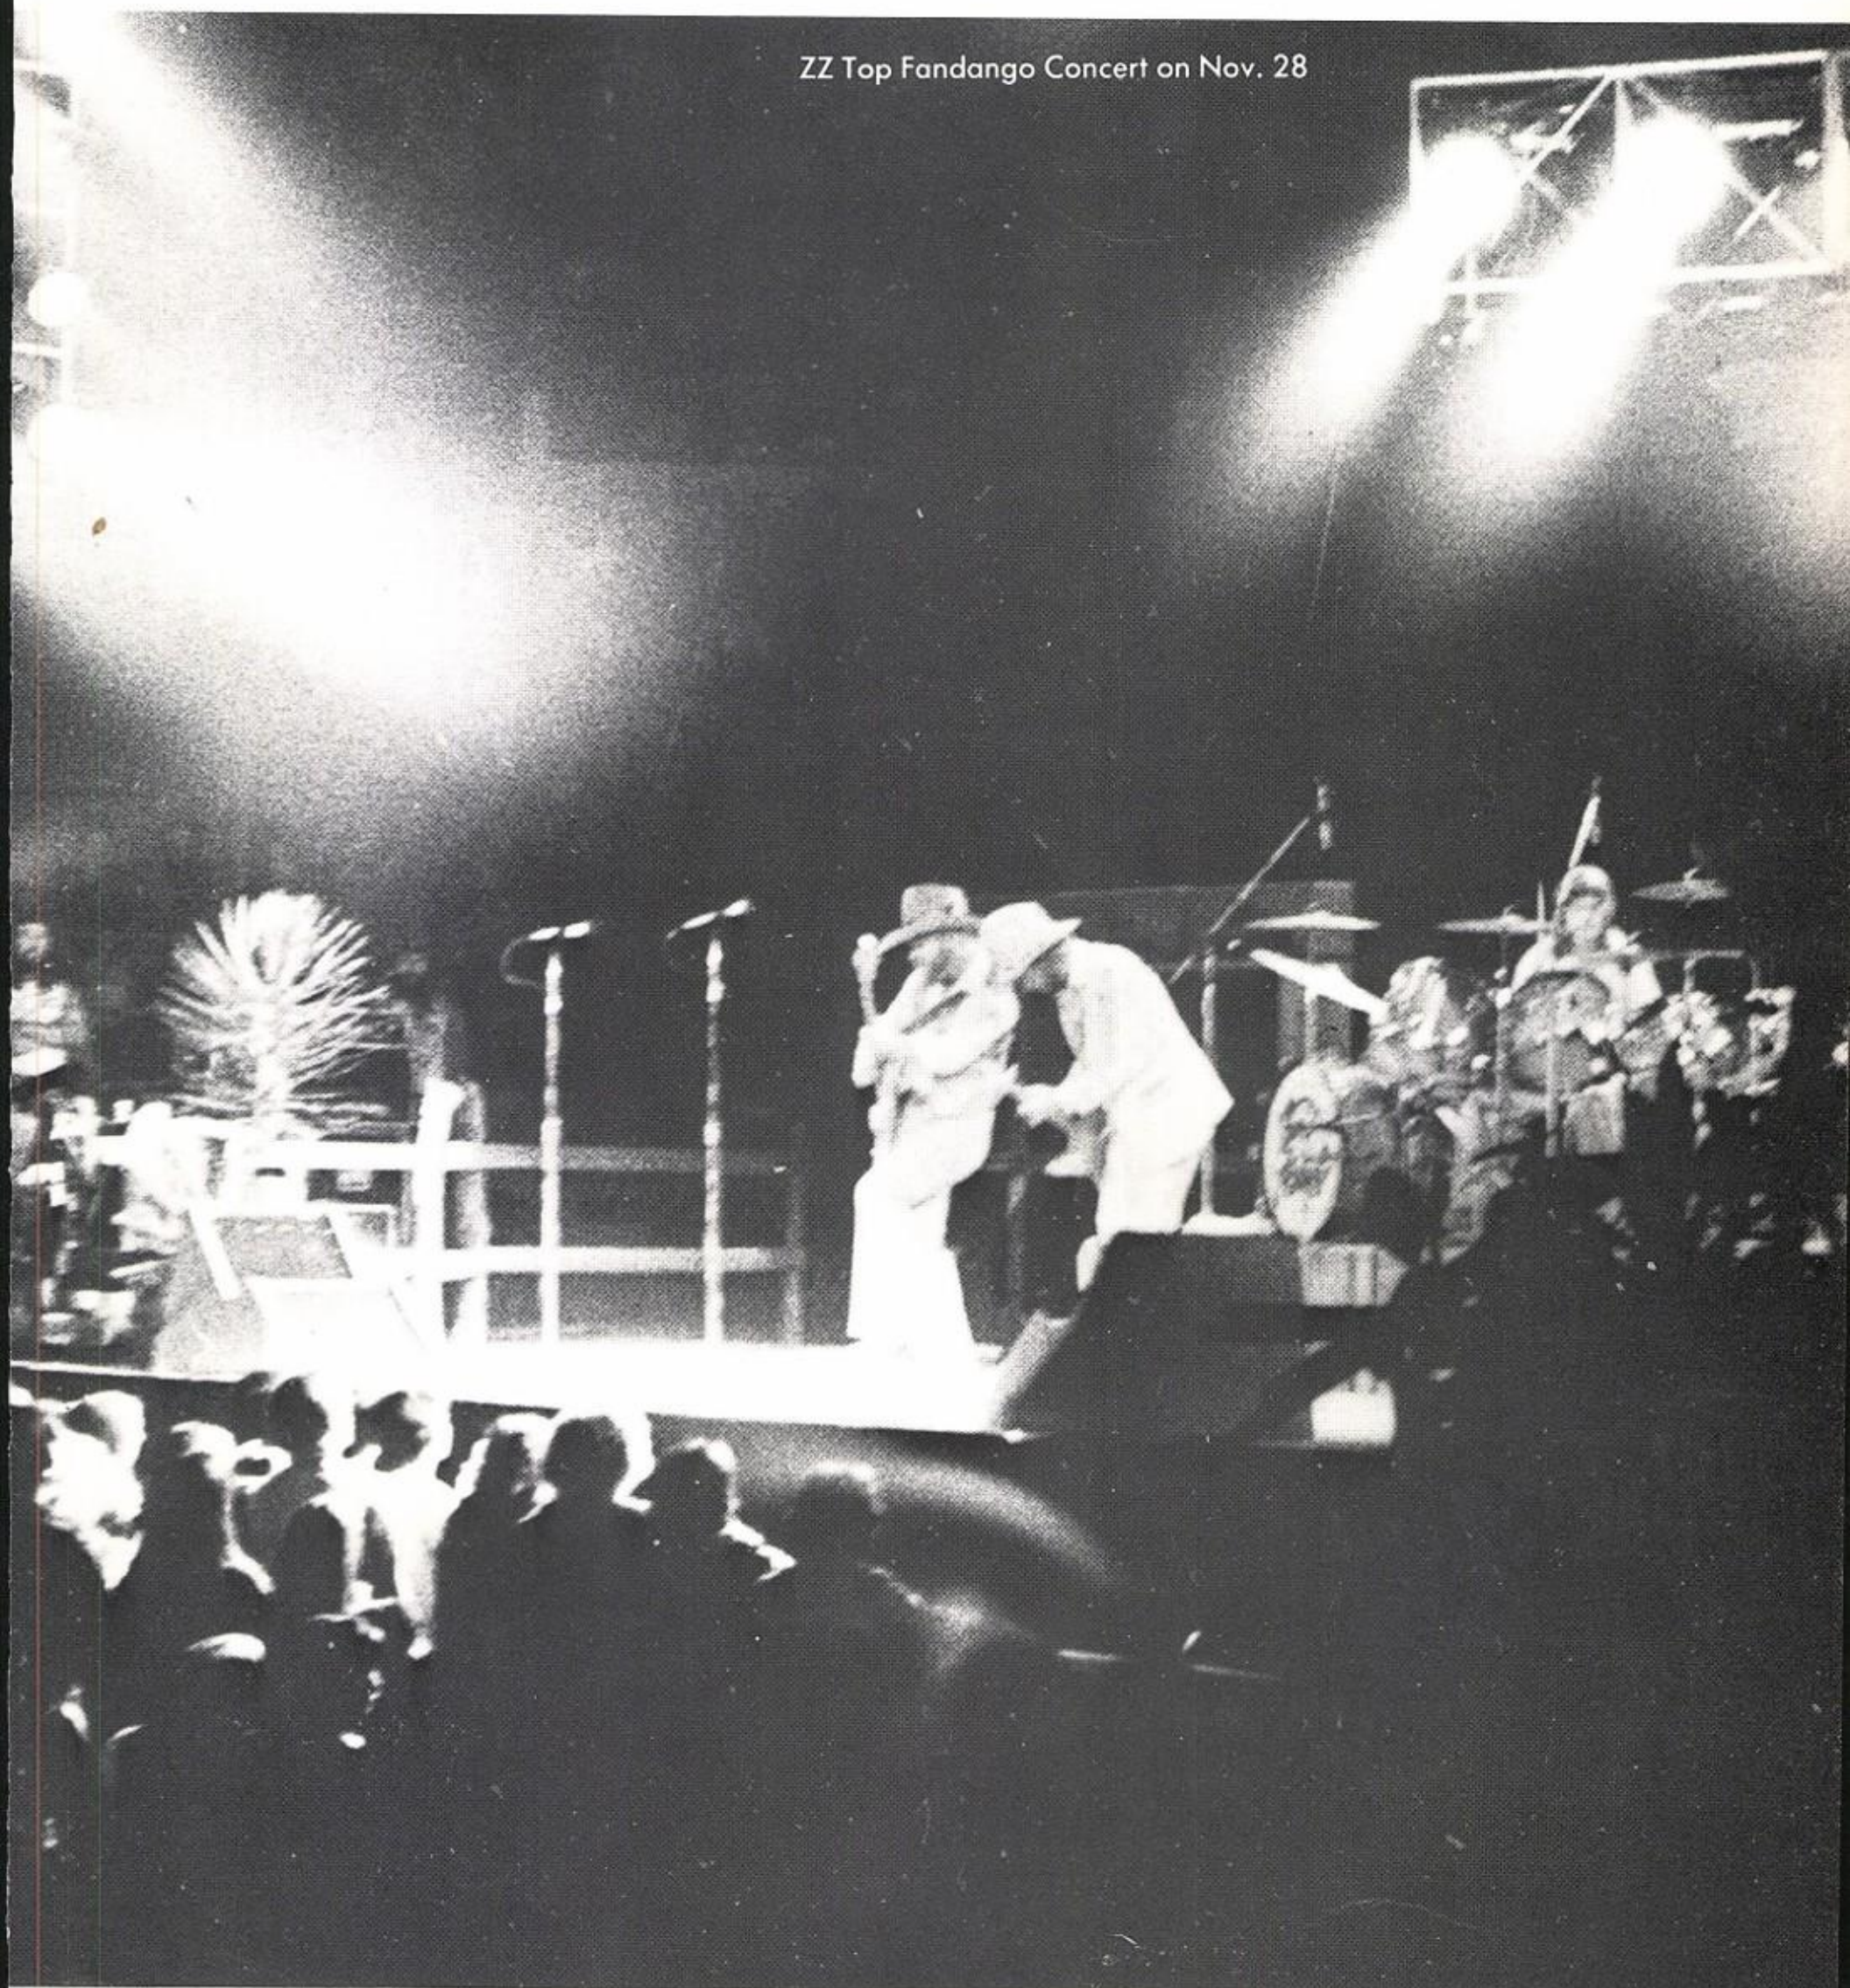

Within the last twenty years, many changes have occurred in the lifestyle of high school students. In contrast to the past when the '55 Chevy was a popular means of transportation, students today put great emphasis on fast moving sports cars equipped with such novelties as the CB radio and four speed transmission.

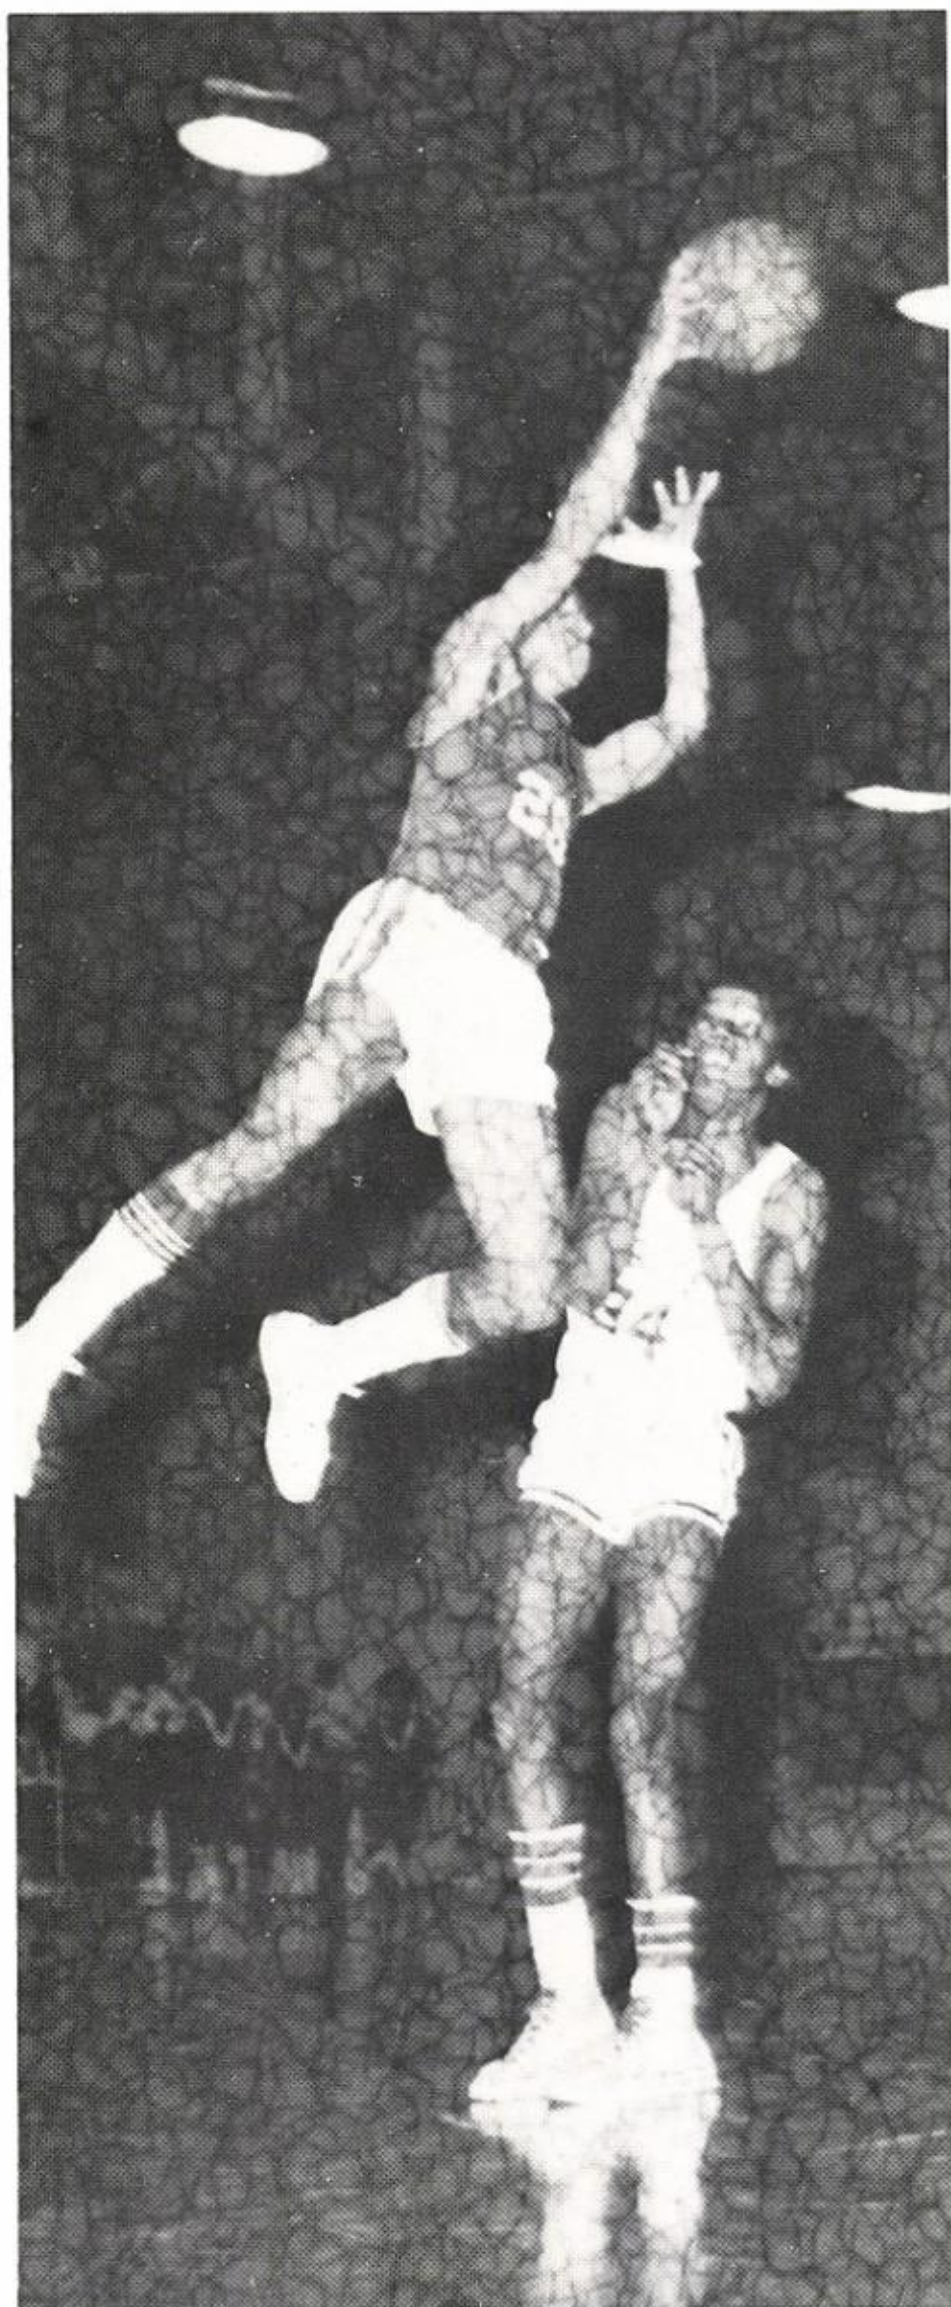

Once billed as the "King of Rock," Elvis Presley has given way to the new sounds of such groups as ZZ Top and Aerosmith. Despite the rising cost of concert tickets, students continue to contribute to the music industry by attending concerts and buying the latest albums.

Play Closes Without Hope

After a heartbreaking loss to Mac, Roosevelt had practically no chance for the district title. We didn't seem to be in a position to determine who would be the champion, since they had already played the three teams that would probably fight for the 29AAAAA crown.

Against Judson, TR easily managed to break a discouraging five game losing streak by posting a 78-72 victory.

At the San Marcos game, the final home game, all the senior players were recognized, and given extra opportunities to play. Before the end of the half, all the seniors had played, and for the first time during district play, all 15 team members were put into the game. The Riders won the game by an impressive 25 points, 91-66. The Riders then dropped a game to the first round winner, Seguin, 69-61.

The team travelled to New Braunfels to close out the season, and scored more points than they had in any of their other games, winning 93-69. This win brought the second round record to 3 wins and 4 losses, and a combined district showing of an even 7-7. The final standings rated them as eighth in the city with their 22-13 record.

NEWS • ISSUES IN THE NEWS •

Commanding the headlines ...

the fall of 1975 was the economy, as America attempted to recover from the worst business slump since the Great Depression. With unemployment stubbornly remaining at over 8% and double digit inflation only recently overcome, many wondered if the U.S. was truly on the road to recovery. With the onset of 1976, however, the economy began making impressive gains. Despite an unemployment rate of 7½%, Americans became optimistic the U.S. was finally recovering.

But the economy soon lost its prominence on the front page as America entered the election year. With a new campaign financing law affecting donations and spending and more than 30 primaries set, the '76 election promised many surprises.

The spring of 1976 also saw the Senate and the House Committees end their investigation of the U.S. intelligence activities. Sparked by a 1975 New York Times story alleging that the Central Intelligence Agency had engaged in illegal domestic spying, House and Senate investigation committees were formed. Their investigations revealed that both the CIA and the Federal Bureau of Investigation had spied on private citizens.

Panels Uncover CIA-FBI Abuses

particularly radicals and political activists. In addition, it was revealed that the CIA had engaged in a variety of covert operations against foreign governments, sometimes to the extent of being indirectly involved in assassination plots against foreign leaders. The House and Senate committees suffered from countless news leaks, with much supposedly secret testimony ending up on the front page. At last the committees delivered their reports, suggesting closer Congressional oversight to curb further abuses.

On the foreign policy front, Egypt and Israel initiated a temporary peace agreement, brought about by the influence of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. Controversy was stirred when it was revealed U.S. technicians would be used as monitors between the battle lines, but Congress eventually agreed to the settlement.

While peace was being achieved abroad, however, violence exploded back home. Two assassination attempts mounted against President Ford within a mere seventeen days. Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme pointed a gun at Ford as he waded into a crowd to shake hands.

Secret Service Agents grabbed Fromme, the gun never being fired. But on September 22, a bullet was fired at the President by Sara Jane Moore. A former marine in the crowd made a grab for the gun, deflecting the shot and possibly saving the President's life.

There followed a period of relative calm, broken only by a new long-term U.S. Soviet grain deal. Then, political news suddenly heated up the headlines as former California Governor Ronald Reagan announced that he would oppose Ford for the Republican nomination. Reagan's ardent conservatism and superb speaking abilities gave him strong appeal.

But politics soon took a back seat to a new crisis: the possible financial collapse of New York City. For several years, the city's tax base had been eroding as the better-off families and businesses moved to the suburbs to escape the city taxes. To meet the current expenses, New York had been borrowing heavily and was now in danger of defaulting on its bonds. At last Ford agreed to granting a federal loan to save the city, a move criticized by many, who said that New York should pay for its own fiscal irresponsibilities.

But such concerns as New York soon disappeared from the front page with the onset of the '76 primary battles; The normal functions of the country seemed to come to a standstill as the candidates geared up for the opening round in New Hampshire of February 24.

As the New Hampshire returns were tallied up, Ford and Democratic candidate Jimmy Carter, former Governor of Georgia, established themselves as the front runners. The following primaries in Massachusetts, Florida, and Illinois narrowed the field of contenders. Reagan lost all the primaries and seemed on the verge of quitting; on the Democratic side, Sargent Shriver, former Oklahoma Senator Birch Bayh dropped out,

Federal Loan Stops New York Collapse

leaving Carter, Washington Senator Henry Jackson, and Arizona Congressman Morris Udall as the major contenders. Alabama Governor George Wallace also remained in the races, but after a string of losses was given little chance of victory. Hovering in the background, however, was non-candidate Hubert H. Humphrey, Senator from Minnesota. Having become something of an elder statesman in the Democratic Party, Humphrey was considered to be the likeliest winner in the end, providing the primaries produced no convincing winner. At a so-called "brokered" convention, Humphrey was favored to win.

These same candidates fought each other throughout March and April. Ronald Reagan revived his candidacy with a surprise win in North Carolina, the result of his campaign theme of direct attacks on President Ford's foreign policy, charging that the U.S. had been sold out to the Russians and had fallen to second place in military strength. Carter trounced Wallace in the same primary, but Stalemated with Udall and Jackson in Wisconsin and New York.

The prominence of political news was momentarily interrupted, however, was the jury returned a "guilty" verdict in the Patricia Hearst case. The daughter of newspaper magnate William Randolph Hearst II, Patricia had been kidnapped by the Symbionese Liberation Army, a terrorist group. She then began participating actively in a number of their activities. She was eventually caught and brought to trial, where she was defended by the renowned F. Lee Bailey. He argued that Hearst had been brainwashed by the SLA and could not be held responsible for her actions. The jury, however, refused to buy the "brainwash" theory, and returned a guilty verdict.

Another of the spring's events was outside the usual realm of news, but was nonetheless exciting for it. Upon its opening, the motion picture "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest" drew enthusiastic praise from critics and moviegoers alike. Starring Jack Nicholson and Louise Fletcher, and a supporting cast of relative unknowns, "Cuckoo's Nest" was the story of an insane asylum, and one man's refusal to conform to the system. The picture swept the Academy Awards, becoming the first movie in 42 years to take all top five categories (best picture, actor, actress, director, screenplay).

But politics soon regained their prominent position with the Texas and Pennsylvania primaries. In Pennsylvania, Carter won by a surprisingly wide margin against heavy opposition in a Northern industrial State. This victory caused his chief opponent, Jackson, to drop out of the race, and, with Humphrey's decision not to enter the later primaries, left Carter virtually unchallenged with the exception of Udall, whose campaign had yet to really get off the ground.

Texas, however, proved to be an even bigger surprise. Reagan, waging a must-win battle, scored a totally unexpected landslide victory, thanks to crossover votes of conservative Democrats who no longer believed Wallace could win. With his delegates winning by better than two to one margins in most areas, the Californian captured all 96 Texas delegates. This triumph provided a spark that ignited a Reagan blitz in the Southern primaries of Alabama and Georgia. But its real significance was revealed when Reagan succeeded in invading Ford's strong hold in the Midwest with a slim win in Indiana, a State where Reagan had been trailing badly a short time earlier. Once again, crossover Democrats had made a difference. These new wins succeeded in putting Reagan ahead of Ford in committed delegate strength for the first time in the campaign. This new show of strength for the Governor virtually assured that the two contenders would be fighting it all the way to the convention.

Carter, meanwhile, opposed only the failing Wallace campaign, swept Texas, Indiana, and Georgia, although Wallace held on to his home State of Alabama. New candidates, Idaho Senator Frank Church and California Governor "Jerry" Brown, entered the later primaries,

Carter Crushes Foes With Primary Upsets

but were considered too late to be much of a threat to Carter.

So, while the Democratic race had been broken wide open, the Republican race suddenly became a pitched battle. With this new excitement, politics promised to dominate the news for the rest of the year.

Fair Proclaimed A Success

The purpose of the yearly Vocational Fair is to inform new students at TR of the many vocational opportunities open to them.

Grossing over $1700, the 1976 Fair held in the Academic courtyard was proclaimed a financial success by the Vocational Department. Vocational Office, Education, Auto Mechanics, Industrial Cooperative Training, Distributive Education, Coordinated Vocational Academic Education, Cosmetology, and Auto Paint and Body met an all time high profit of $1000. Each program kept the money it earned to help finance its individual needs.

At the close of the season, seniors Jon Hyman and Ben Click were both elected to the 29AAAA All District team. Hyman led the Rider team in scoring with 642 points, 209 in district, for an average of 18.9. Click scored 249 in district, leading in that area, and 592 total, averaging 17.8 a game.

Hyman also led in total rebounds, and in steals. Chuck Edmond set a school record for the best FG average, hitting, 58.5% of his shots, Junior Mark Tompkins set a school record with 153 assists.

The whole team set a new school record in total rebounds, and in field goals made and field goal average. The team also broke the record for most points all year. The Riders ended the season with a 22-13 overall record, and 7-7 in district. Although the team did not live up to their early expectations, it certainly exerted a strong influence in the area.

Coach Gary Shuler's Junior Varsity team completed their season with a 25-8 record. They finished loop play in second place.

FBLA Introduces Students To Business Skills, Future Job

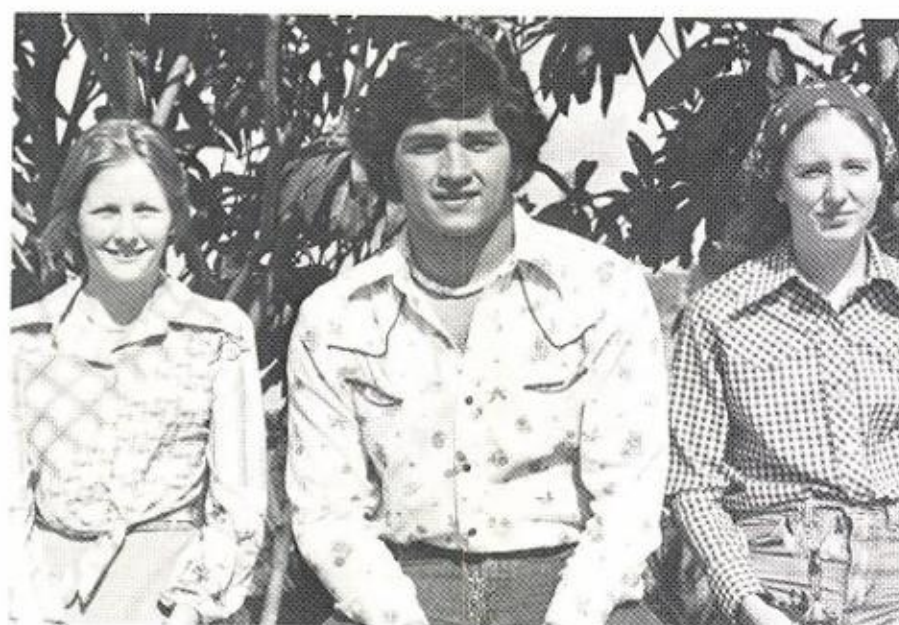

Future Business Leaders of America, FBLA, was primarily designed to introduce students to the serious part of living — working and making a living.

Frances Heath, sponsor of the organization, believes that "FBLA helps students understand the business world."

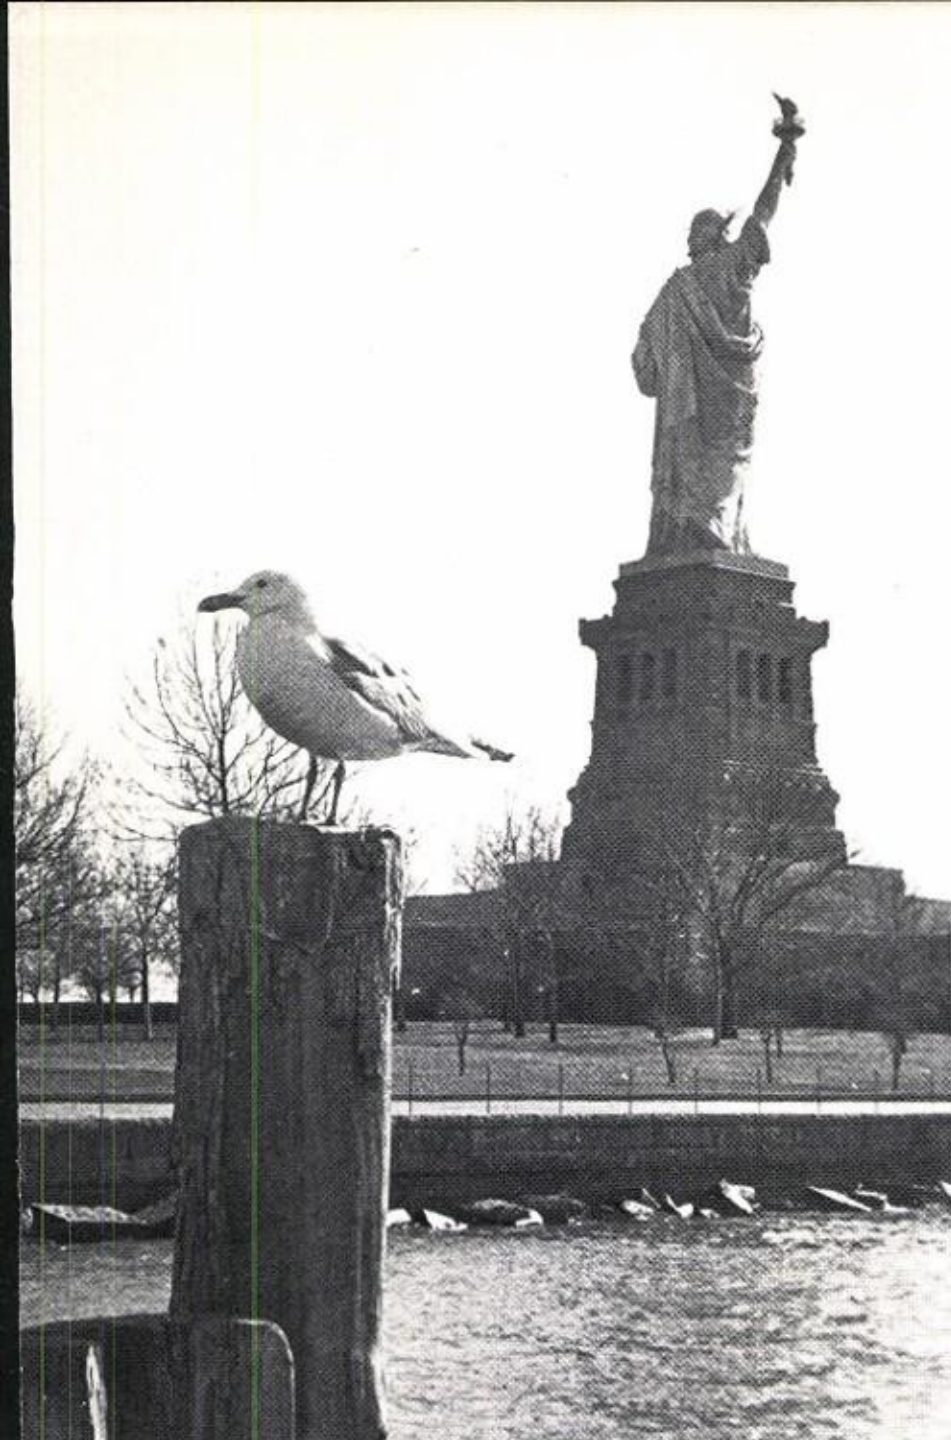

FBLA officers for the 1975-76 school year included Pam Harris, President; Terri Hicks, Vice-President; Denise Mize, Secretary; Karen Mott, Treasurer; Valerie Umphlett, Representative; Candy Faust, Chaplain; and Renee Janicki, Historian.

At the District Convention which took place Nov. 12 at Holmes High School Patty Smith rated second in bookkeeping, Andrea Starks was chosen as Vice-President of the FBLA Chapter and Dickie Calonge was titled Third in the Mr. FBLA contest.

FBLA members sold Tom Wat Kits to raise money for their organization.

Students Visit The 'Big Apple'

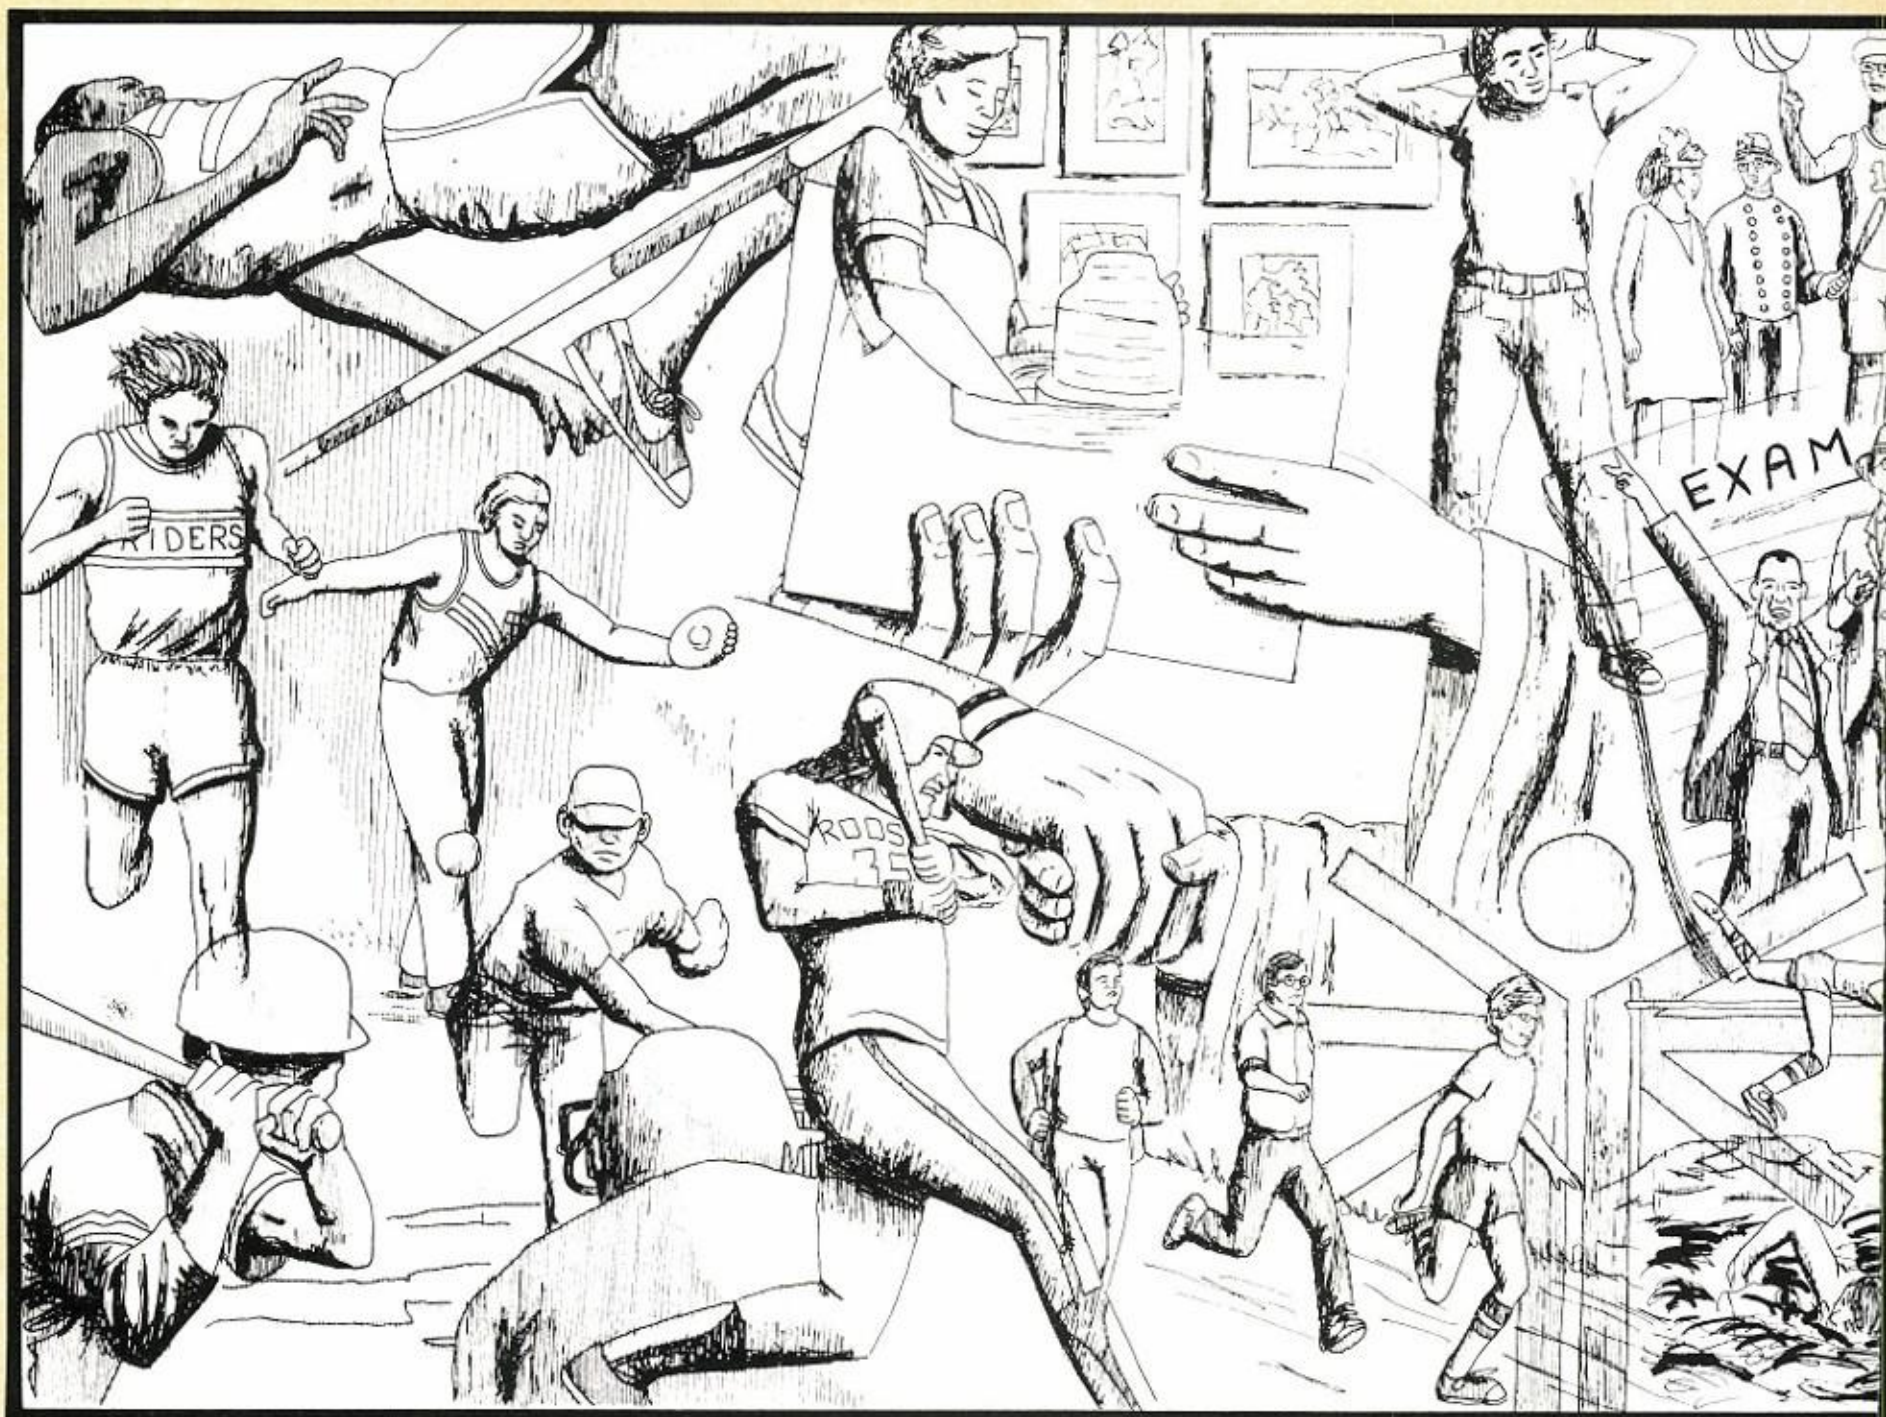

Marking their senior year as one of the most memorable, four journalism students traveled to New York City for a week of seminars and sightseeing.

Those attending the convention from Roosevelt were: BIG STICK editor Mark Dooley; SPEAKING SOFTLY editor John Parker; BIG STICK city editor Leslie Liedtka; SAGAMORE editor Reba Bennett and advisor A. L. (Gus) Moore.

Between work-shop sessions the journalism students found time to visit such places of interest as Radio City Music Hall, New York Stock Exchange and the Empire State Building.

"Our trip to New York was one of the best experiences of my life. We were all impressed with New York City and we plan to return someday," commented Mark Dooley.

Diamondmen's Hopes Remain Unfulfilled

Having the experience and potential that could at last lend prestige to TR baseball after many disappointing years, the diamondmen started the season with hopes of capturing the District title.

Defensively, the Riders were very impressive, but a lack of consistent offensive power left them a run or two behind in too many low scoring contests. Consequently, the team's record did not reflect their true performance.

New Service Club Formed

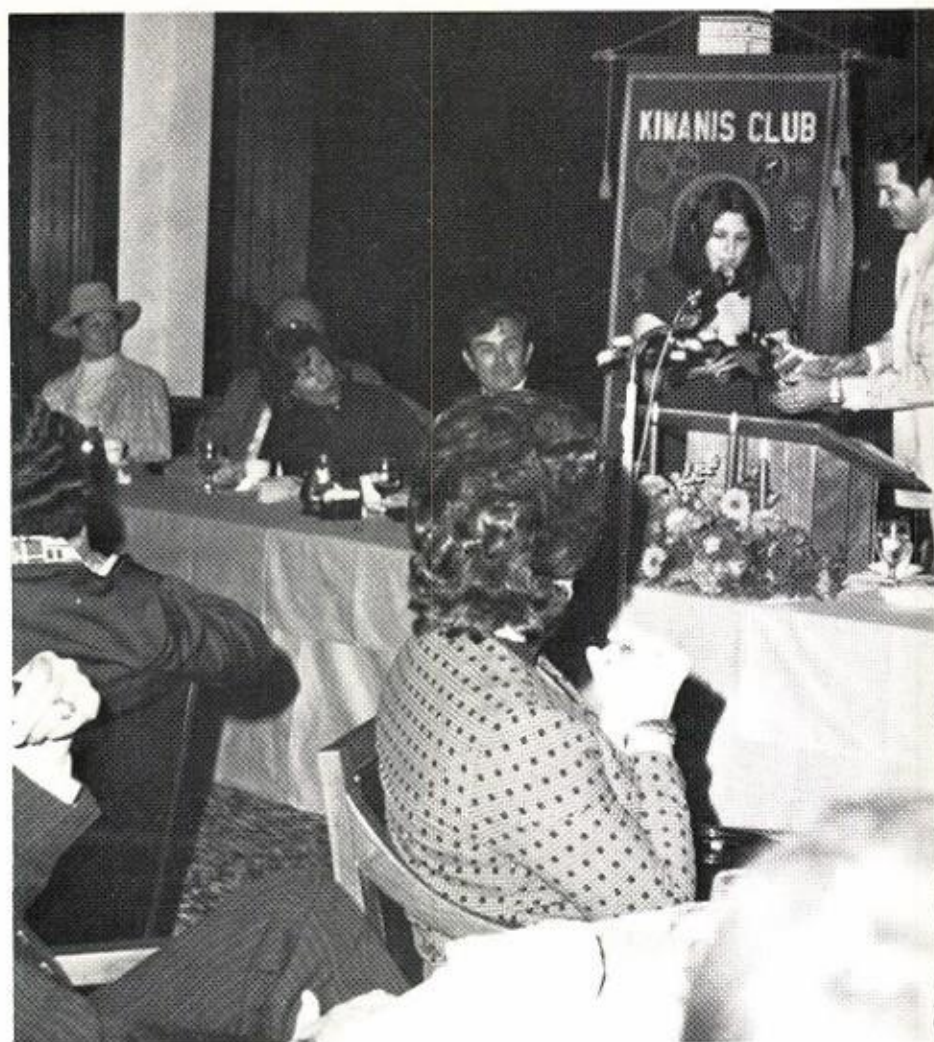

Thirty-four girls, two sponsors and an advisor working together formed a new honor service organization: Keywanettes. The female counterpart to the Key Club, Keyettes was the first club of its type in the Southwest.

The highly conscientious group of girls worked to improve themselves and the community through such activities as the Salvation Army's Christmas clearing Bureau, March of Dimes Haunted House, a Cancer Bike-a-Thon, and the Optimist Club's workathon.

During the bi-weekly meetings, the girls heard speeches on subjects such as parliamentary procedure and weight watching. They discussed the various fund raising projects which included a home-made doughnut sale, and an ice cream sale on the river. The profits went to buy the club's banner.

At a banquet held in January at Woodlake, the club received the charter which officially sanctioned them as an off-shoot of the Kiwanis.

Music was presented by Mike Laredo on drums, on guitar Craig Bowker, and Travy Remmert on piano. Three eligible bachelors, Dickie Colonge, Billy Love and Steve McNiff matched wits with each other to win the game. Mike Lansing and Judy Ognibene modeled as part of the style show.

JCL Emerges Active As Its Members Win

Open to any Latin student, the Junior Classical League emerged as one of the more active small clubs on campus. Participating in several contests during the year, they competed on subjects ranging from the Latin language and classical civilization to English derivatives and mythology subjects.

The club had a good-will gathering at Christmas which was called a "Saturnalia." In February, they participated in the Latin Olympics, where they placed third in the overall competition. Individually, James Moyer won first in the Decathlon, and second in Roman History; David Weichman placed second in Greek Life and Karen Hannah third in derivatives.

In March the club attended the Texas State JCL Convention, where Laura Hague was second in dramatic interpretation, and Moyer second in Greek Life. In May, JCL had a banquet on the river. At this event, Ronnie Davis was given a special award for his helpfulness all year, at the meetings and in special activities.

Artists Unite In Active Club

After a shaky start, the Art Club settled down into an eventful and productive year under the sponsorship of art teacher Jerry Frey.

Among the numerous activities the members participated in were bake and art sales which later helped finance trips to Mexico and the McNay Institute. "We hope to gain more membership next year in order to accomplish more art goals," commented Mrs. Frey. The Art Club ended its year with a trip to Corpus in early May.

Success Due To Practice

Time and determination were the two main factors behind the bowling members' success in competition. Every Wednesday afternoon the bowlers were to be found at Wonderbowl practicing for tournaments and improving their averages. Though each bowler had his own style, the team worked together to accomplish their goals.

Senior-Faculty Game Draws Crowd

It isn't exactly major league action, but the senior-faculty baseball game always manages to draw large crowds. With a 50¢ ticket, students were released from class to watch the annual student-council-sponsored battle between the teachers and seniors. Students led the game during the early innings but the faculty caught up, and eventually won 8-7.

Club Studies German Culture

Committed to gaining an understanding of the German culture, the German Club spent the year enjoying the foods and activities of Germany.

Beginning the year with an organizational meeting featuring German sausage and cheeses, the club initiated its first project — helping needy families enjoy a brighter Christmas by delivering toys, food, and clothing on Christmas Day.

On a more business-like note, the members attended the State convention of German students, held at Trinity University in March. A more relaxing activity followed in April at the Little Bavarian Restaurant where the students banqueted on authentic German foods.

German clubbers finished the year with their annual picnic at Lady Bird Johnson Park.

Seniors Fall To Faculty

Ending the basketball game with the score 70-61 the faculty triumphed over the seniors. Seniors and faculty both found the game profitable in the sense of competition and fun. The objective of having the game was to earn money and so that both teachers and students could vent frustrations initiated in the classroom. The game was held after school in the boy's gym and Wes Davis refereed. Many seniors volunteered to play in the game.

Key Club Aids The Community

The purpose of the Key Club is to aid the school, churches, and the community in various projects. This organization is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

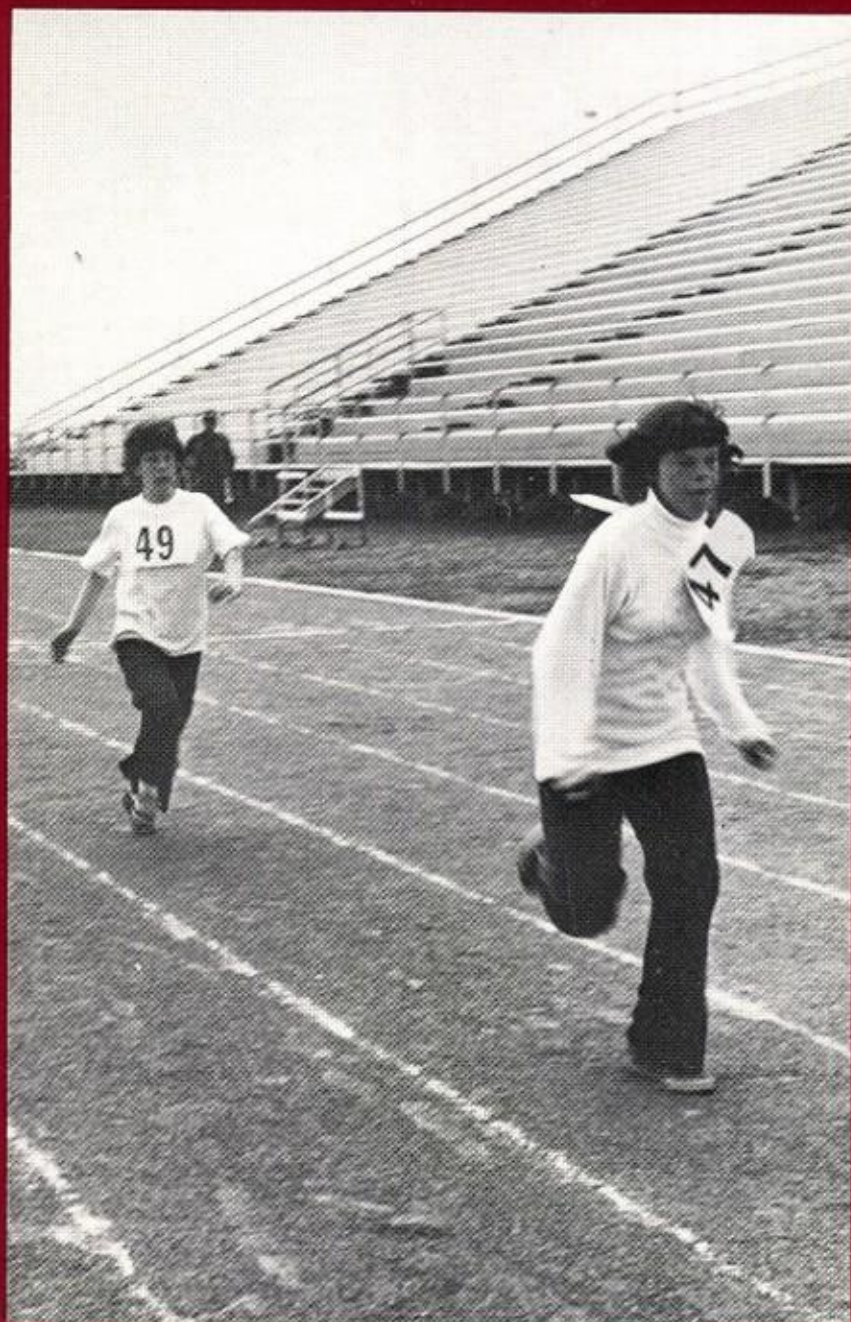

Some of this year's club projects included landscaping, cleaning of the trophy cases, and painting the trash barrels. The members also attended a banquet in which they hosted their sponsoring club.

THE WILL AND THE WAY

Athletes met this spring to participate in the Special Olympics Meet. Entering the meet with the enthusiasm and excitement that competition always generates, the participants found the Olympics to be a rewarding combination of fun and exercise.

Especially arranged to accommodate these students' special needs, the meet offers them the opportunity to actively compete on their own individual level.

ROTC Makes Impressive Show At AFI

The Roosevelt ROTC made an impressive showing at the Annual Field Inspection.

ROTC (Reserve Officers Training Corps) Brigade Commander Donald Jackman accepted a Certificate of Commendation on behalf of the Corps and Sergeant Major Stewart was awarded a personal Certificate of Commendation.

An Honor Unit with Distinction rating had been given to the corps in '74 and '75. This helped to put the Roosevelt ROTC in the top 15 of 653 competing schools.

A briefing for the ROTC students kicked off the AFI. In the briefing a short description of the commanders' duties was related and a movie was shown.

An inspection to check the student's knowledge of such subjects as marksmanship, first aid, and American History was given. The pass and review, when the corps marched in front of the stands where army officials were seated, followed.

Quill And Scroll Hosts Dinner

Quill and Scroll, the honor society for journalism students, inducted fifteen new members of outstanding scholastic ability and journalistic achievement.

The event sponsored this year by the club was an installation banquet for new members which was held at the Bayou Restaurant. The guest speaker was Express reporter, Joe Robinowitz.

This year's officers included Reba Bennett, president; Susan Jones, vice-president; Jenni Smith, secretary; Leslie Leidtka, treasurer; and Sue Cearlock, historian.

AFS Foreign Student Plan

American Field Service is an organization which raises money for foreign exchange students. They also sponsor all the foreign exchange students throughout Texas to attend Fiesta Week, an annual event in San Antonio. Several garage sales and a fund drive in the fall helped raise money for these activities.

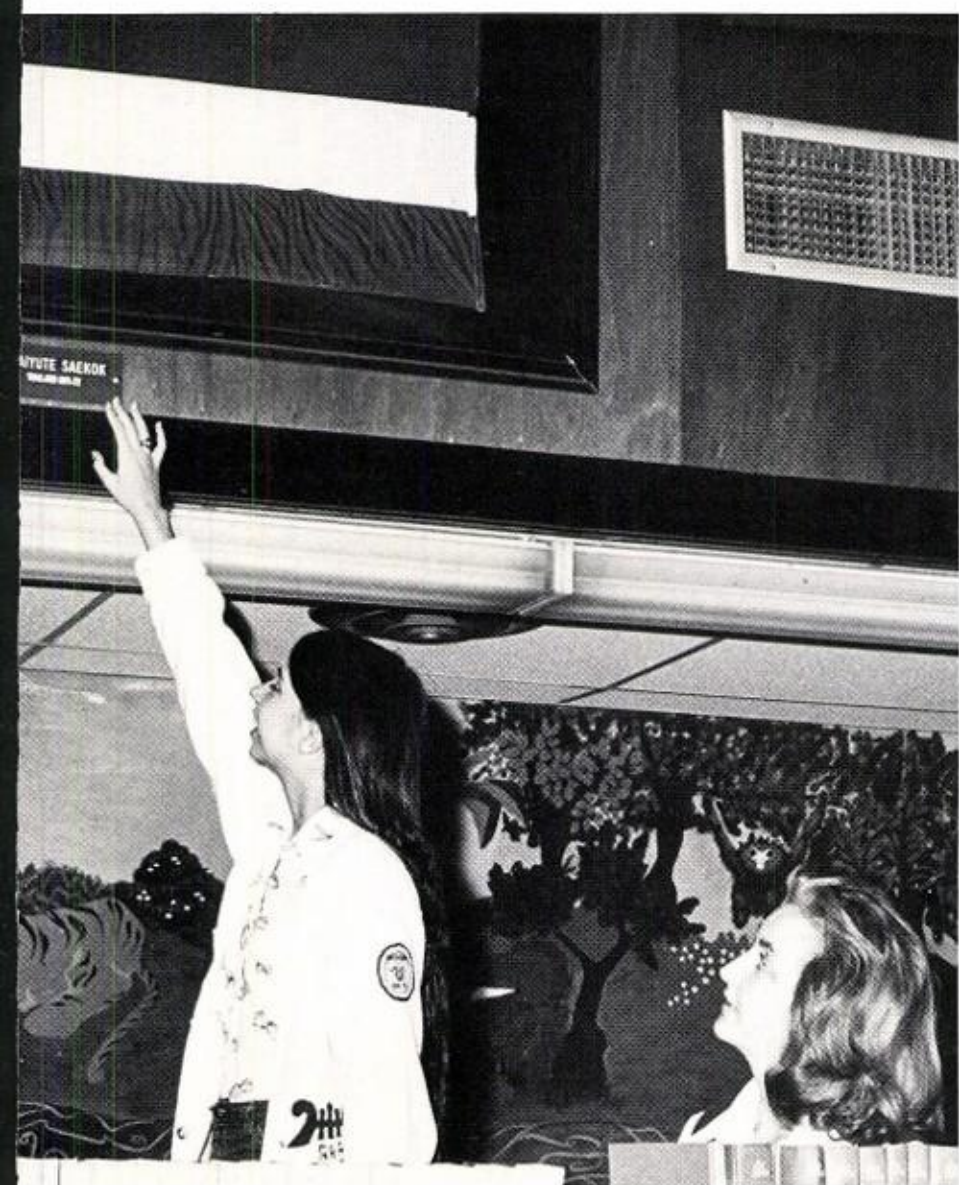

Included in this year's club activities was a "pot-luck" dinner, with members bringing dishes from the country that their foreign exchange student was from. Providing entertainment was guest speaker Allen Lavelle with movies of his recent visit to the U.S.S.R.

Program Helps Students Work

Home Economics Related Occupations — Future Homemakers of America, HERO-FHA is a program designed to encourage students to get jobs related to Home Economics. It also offers students the opportunity to work part-time and attend school.

HERO-FHA members made papier maché "Big Sticks and sold them. Other money-making projects included a one-week bake sale, rose deliveries, and a carameled apples sale.

The employer-employee banquet was held April 6 at the Oak Hills Country Club. Employers who had employed Home Economics Cooperative Education, HECE, students for the past two years were awarded a small certificate.

Club Explores French Life

Exploring French language and culture, Le Circle Francais started the year off with trips to three movies and a night meeting where home-made French foods were served. In December, club members attended a performance of "The Nutcracker Suite." Later in the same month, the club relived its trip to Europe through home movies of the adventure.

French clubbers were given an opportunity to find out more about French life through a visit from an AFS foreign exchange student, Caroline Binet. As a show of appreciation, the club treated her to lunch at Reed's Red Derby.

Later in the year, the students held a dinner at Fujiya Imperial Steakhouse. The club wound up the year with an opera starring Beverly Sills.

Change Helps FHA To Grow

Future Homemakers of America put a new concept of membership into effect. Every student who paid dues in his teacher's homemaking class was a member. This method was used in an effort to increase the membership of FHA.

Mrs. Denise Wayman's chapters, affectionately known as "Wayman's Wacky Women" were concerned with community services and the betterment of themselves. "FHA is a club where the ladies can enjoy themselves and not have to be worried with grades or activities and such things as that."

For their enjoyment, the ladies held a picnic at Landa Park. In connection with the March of Dimes, FHA participated in the Haunted House and the Walk-a-Thon. Money for dues and the picnic was raised by baked sales.

Mrs. Wayman and two ladies, Glenda Tomme and Bobbi Plum, went to the State FHA convention in Fort Worth. There they exchanged ideas about FHA with other students.

Girls Track Places Third In District

One of the bright spots in this year's athletic program has been the girls track team, that capped off a successful season by placing third in their 29AAAA district meet.

Led by senior Linda Reed, the track members compiled an impressive record by placing 2nd in the Northeast invitational, 2nd at Judson, and 2nd at Seguin, before their district meet.

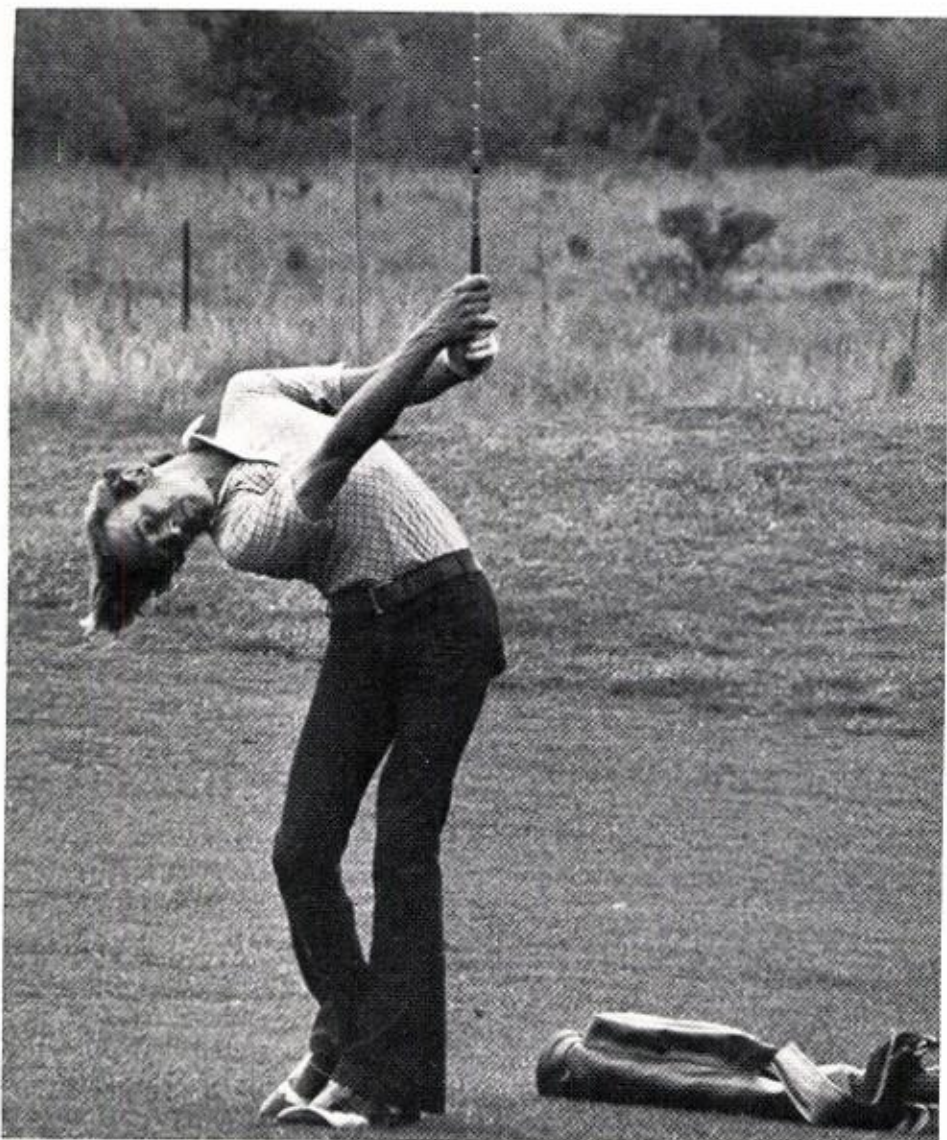

Although Reed will not be back next year, the future looks very promising with many of the freshmen and sophomores returning.

Boys Play Improves

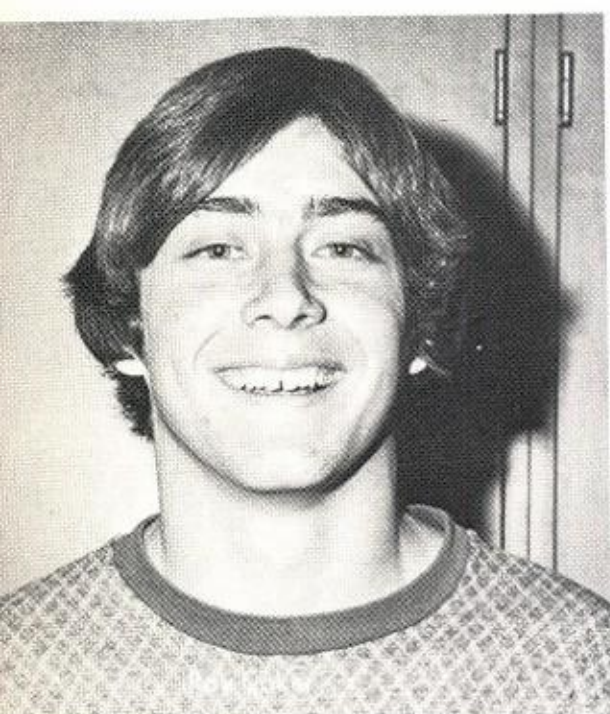

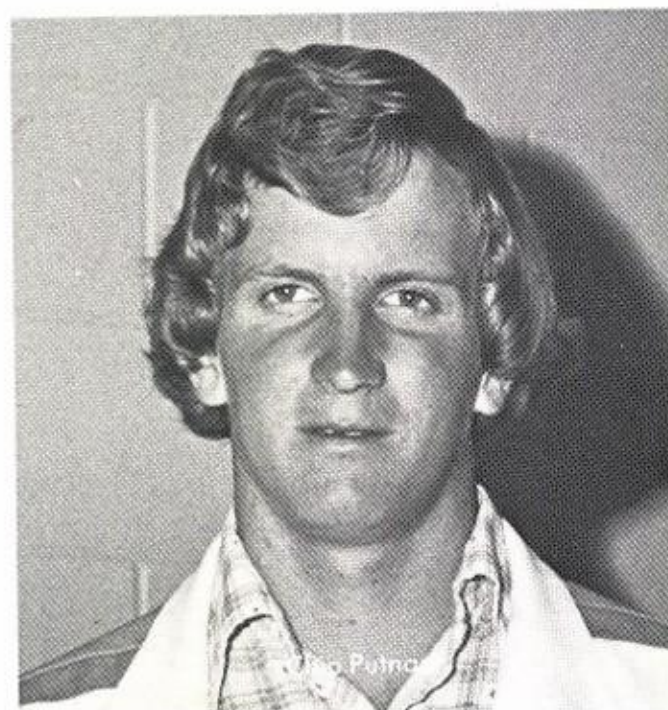

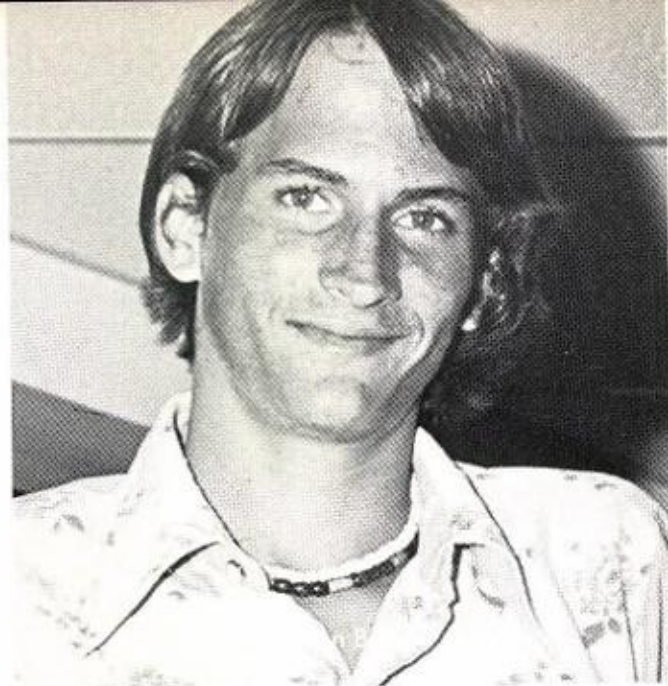

The Boys Golf Team played exceptionally well during the 75-76 year. Despite the fact they were young and trying to rebuild the team and playing without seniors, the group of dedicated boys slowly gained experience with each match. They ended the season by placing fourth in District 29-AAAA competition.

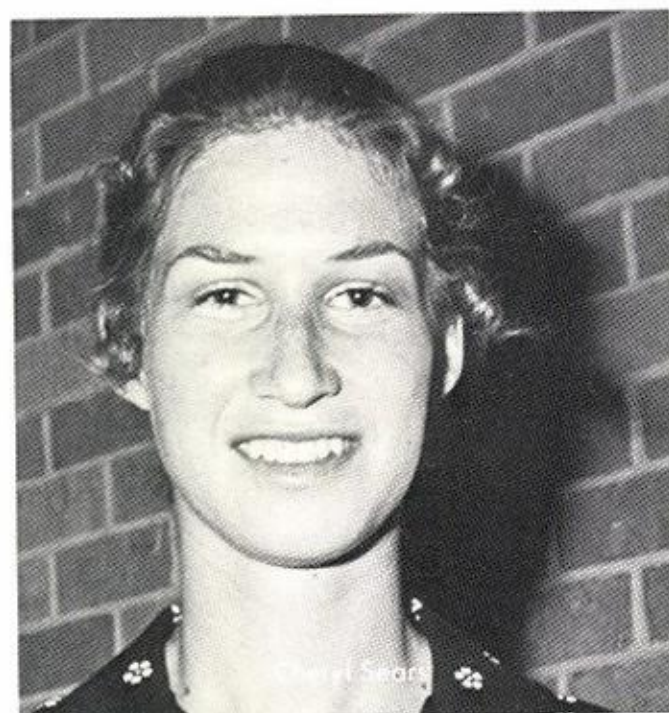

Peter Schob carefully sums up the shot.

9 Students Advance To State

Nine Rough Riders advanced to this year's state UIL competition. In science, Ray Coker and Karen Homme placed fourth and eleventh respectively, as Janiine Babcock ranked seventh and Kimberly Kiplin won ninth in slide rule, Representing girls track, Linda Reed placed sixth in the 440 yard dash. The boys Tennis doubles team of Chip Putnam and Glenn Barton advanced to semifinals to place them within the top four teams in the state, while Michelle Bratten and Cheryl Sears were eliminated in the first round of girls' doubles competition.

Girl Golfers Second In State

The girls golf team ended the season by winning both the district and regional meets, and also placing second in state competition.

Pam Skelly was medalist in the district and regional tournaments. During the season the girls won three of their seven tournaments, placing second in the remaining four.

Four lettermen will be returning next year, so the team is looking forward to a bright future.

Texans Join Nation In Choosing

May 1 Texas voters joined the nation in choosing delegates to eventually represent them in the Presidential Nominating Conventions. For Texas residents, it was the first time to participate in a Presidential Preference Primary, and for the many new 18 year old voters, it was the first time to take part in any election.

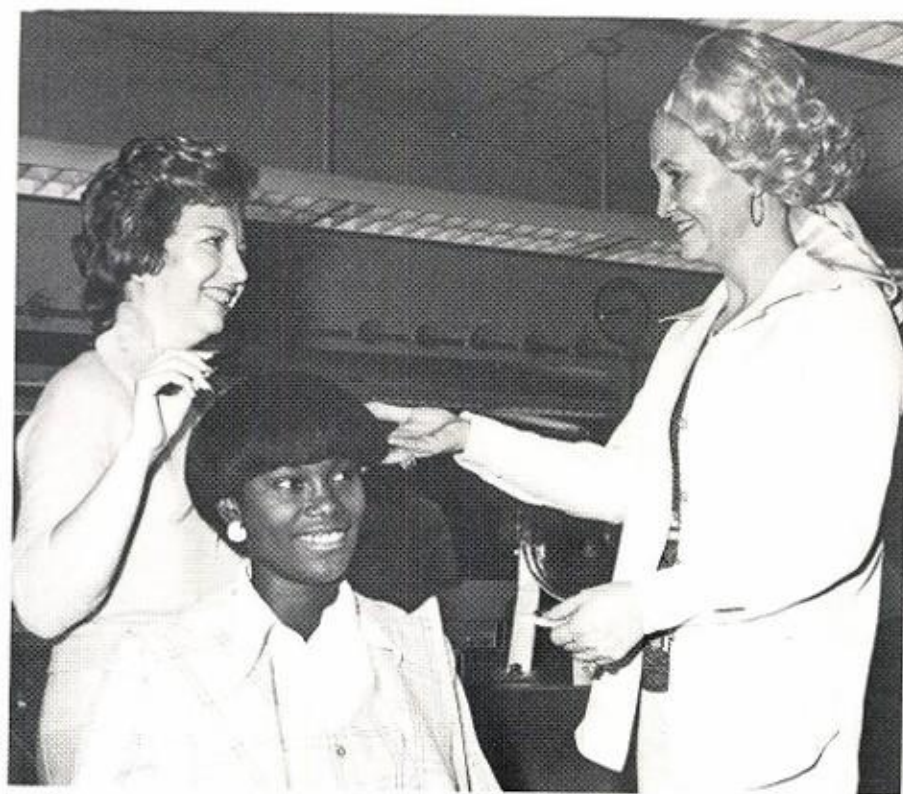

A New President

The results of the primary came as a surprise to many authorities. Ronald Reagan, although expected to hold a slight edge, literally walked away with all 96 Texas delegates and a landslide victory over Gerald Ford. In the democratic primary, as expected, Jimmy Carter defeated favorite son candidate Lloyd Bentsen.

Ballengee Advances To Nationals

Denise Ballengee is the first student from the Roosevelt cosmetology department to compete on a national level. Her category, Speed Skill Olympics, is composed of individual timed events, including demonstrating color techniques and permanent waving, setting, styling and cutting hair.

Denise's model, Vonzetta McCutchen, traveled with her to the nationals, along with instructor Charlotte Miller.

A senior, Denise worked in the cosmetology department for two years, devoting three hours each day to the profession.

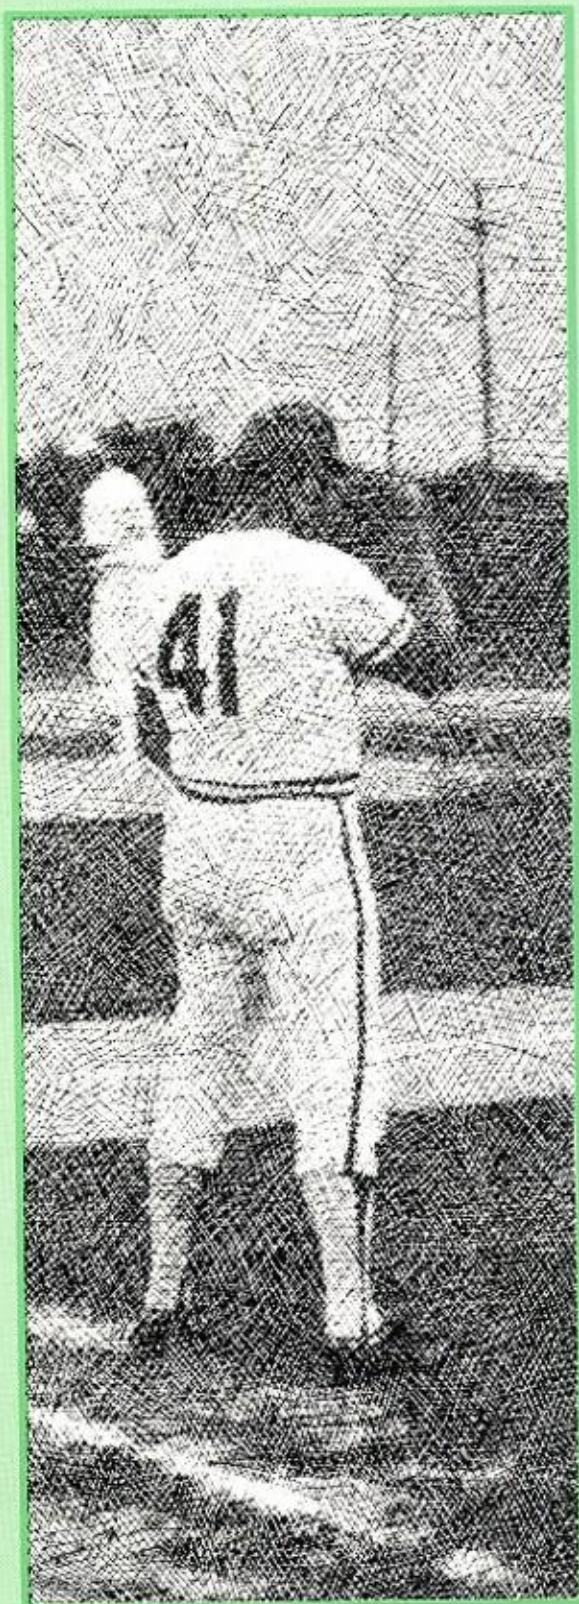

Denise is presently working at the Hair Fair and plans to stay in the beauty business in the future.

"Cosmetology is a good course if you don't want to go to college, but it is essential that you are interested in the beauty profession. Mrs. Miller is a fantastic instructor. If it was not for her guidance, I would probably not have won what I did."

"Never Lose Sight Of Your Goals . . ."

"Never lose sight of your goals, for what was yesterday's dreams can become tomorrow's realities" — with these words of the class motto, elected speaker James Roberts Noble began his commencement address, and the graduation ceremony. Following the speech, Principal Thomas E. Moseley presented the graduating class of 1976 to School Board President Tom T. Winn. After his acceptance, the 10 years isn't very long in the lives of schools. And on this tenth anniversary, we've undergone many changes. We've gotten a new principal. We've had a reorganization of our coaching staff. We've lost many of our strongest competitors through graduation. We've undergone a turnover in faculty.

(1st in State)

But we've still managed to make history. We became the first San Antonio school to ever capture Regional sweepstakes in both Literary and Athletic UIL competition in the same year. In addition, we've had eleven Choir and Band members achieve All-State ranking. We've seen seven students qualify as National Merit Finalists. We've had seventeen more students recognized as Outstanding Vocational Students. In the business of schools, these achievements are truly remarkable.

People Going Places

Traditionally, students who have excelled in leadership positions of the major organizations on campus are recognized for their outstanding works by being honored as the year's BIG STICKS.

This year eight people, seven of whom are seniors, have led the student body to reach the various high achievements attained during the past nine months.

These exceptional students are:

RICHARD STEVENS, president of the Student Council.

MARK DOOLEY, editor of the BIG

STICK.

REBA BENNETT, editor of the SAGA-MORE.

MARK WELCH, band President.

KEN TURNER, choir student director.

DONALD JACKMAN, ROTC brigade commander.

ANDREA STARKS, captain of the CAVALIERS.

NICKI TRIBBEY, colonel of the PATRIOTS.

NICKI TRIBBEY

isn't very long
in the lives of nations.
And already
we've slaughtered one race
we've enslaved another we've persecuted many more.
We've jailed the unpopular we've attacked the unusual.
We've granted privileges
we've violated rights.
We've been unfair
we've been corrupt
we've been cruel

greedy
unjust
callous
blind petty irresponsible pompous vicious stupid.

HELLO UNCLE SAM
HERE. WELL, I'M 200
YEARS OLD THIS YEAR
I UNDERSTAND A LOT
OF YOU ARE WORRIED ABOUT ME WHAT WITH
THE ECONOMY, UNREST,
INJUSTICE, CORRUPTION,
AND SO FORTH.....

WELL, I'VE BEEN DOWN THIS ROAD
A FEW TIMES BEFORE, AND I'VE BECOME SOMETHING OF AN EXPERT
IN THESE MATTERS. I'VE SEEN ONE QUARTER OF AMERICA STANDING
IN BREAD LINES AND SELLING APPLES
ON STREET CORNERS. I'VE SEEN
HUGE BUSINESS MONOPOLIES
TURN THE GOVERNMENT INTO A PIECE OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.....

INJUSTICE? I'VE SEEN ONE RACE
ENSLAVED BECAUSE ITS COLOR WAS BLACK, ANOTHER SLAUGHTERED BECAUSE ITS COLOR WAS RED. UNREST?
I'VE WATCHED AS FATHERS
KILLED SONS AND BROTHERS KILLED BROTHERS... I
ALMOST DIDN'T MAKE IT
THAT TIME.....

But
we've stopped the slaughter
we've freed the slaves
we've institutionalized freedom.
We've cherished liberty
we've fought for our ideals we've died for our principles.
We've made room for the unpopular we've accepted the unusual.
We've brought hope to the hopeless.
We've built a nation
we've made democracy work.
We've been generous
we've been magnanimous
we've been tolerant kind peaceful reasonable forgiving
resolute resourceful conscientious.

Do not judge us harshly for our vices
for they were never stronger than our virtues.
In the business of nations that is a magnificent achievement.

BUT IT PASSES; LIFE GOES ON.
YOU SEE, I CAN ROLL WITH THE PUNCHES. THAT'S ESSENTIAL IN MY BUSINESS.
I'VE BEEN HIT HARD IN MY TIME AND I'VE BEEN HIT OFTEN.
BUT I'VE ALWAYS MANAGED TO STAY ON MY FEET.....

...I EXPECT I'LL MANAGE AGAIN....

off to a FRESH START

He came to Roosevelt with the desire to breathe new life into the school. He was Thomas E. Moseley.

Moseley proudly proclaimed the '75-'76 year as the "Year of the Rider." He supported all the various competitions and often showed up for the contests. His appearance at the contests served as a booster to the team spirit.

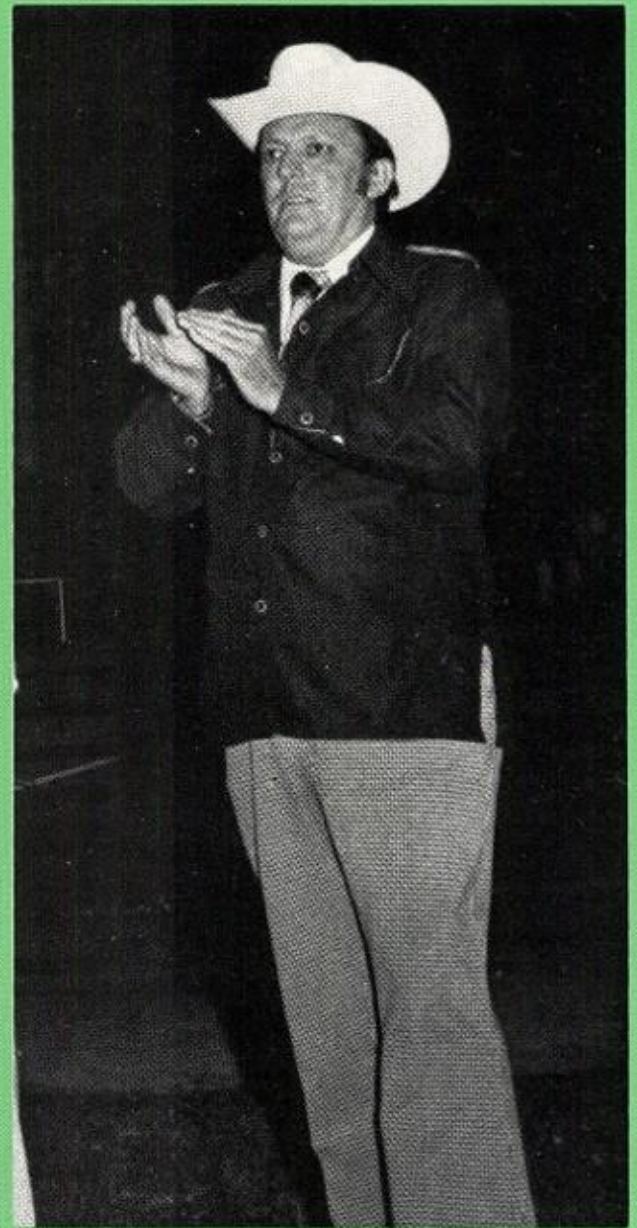

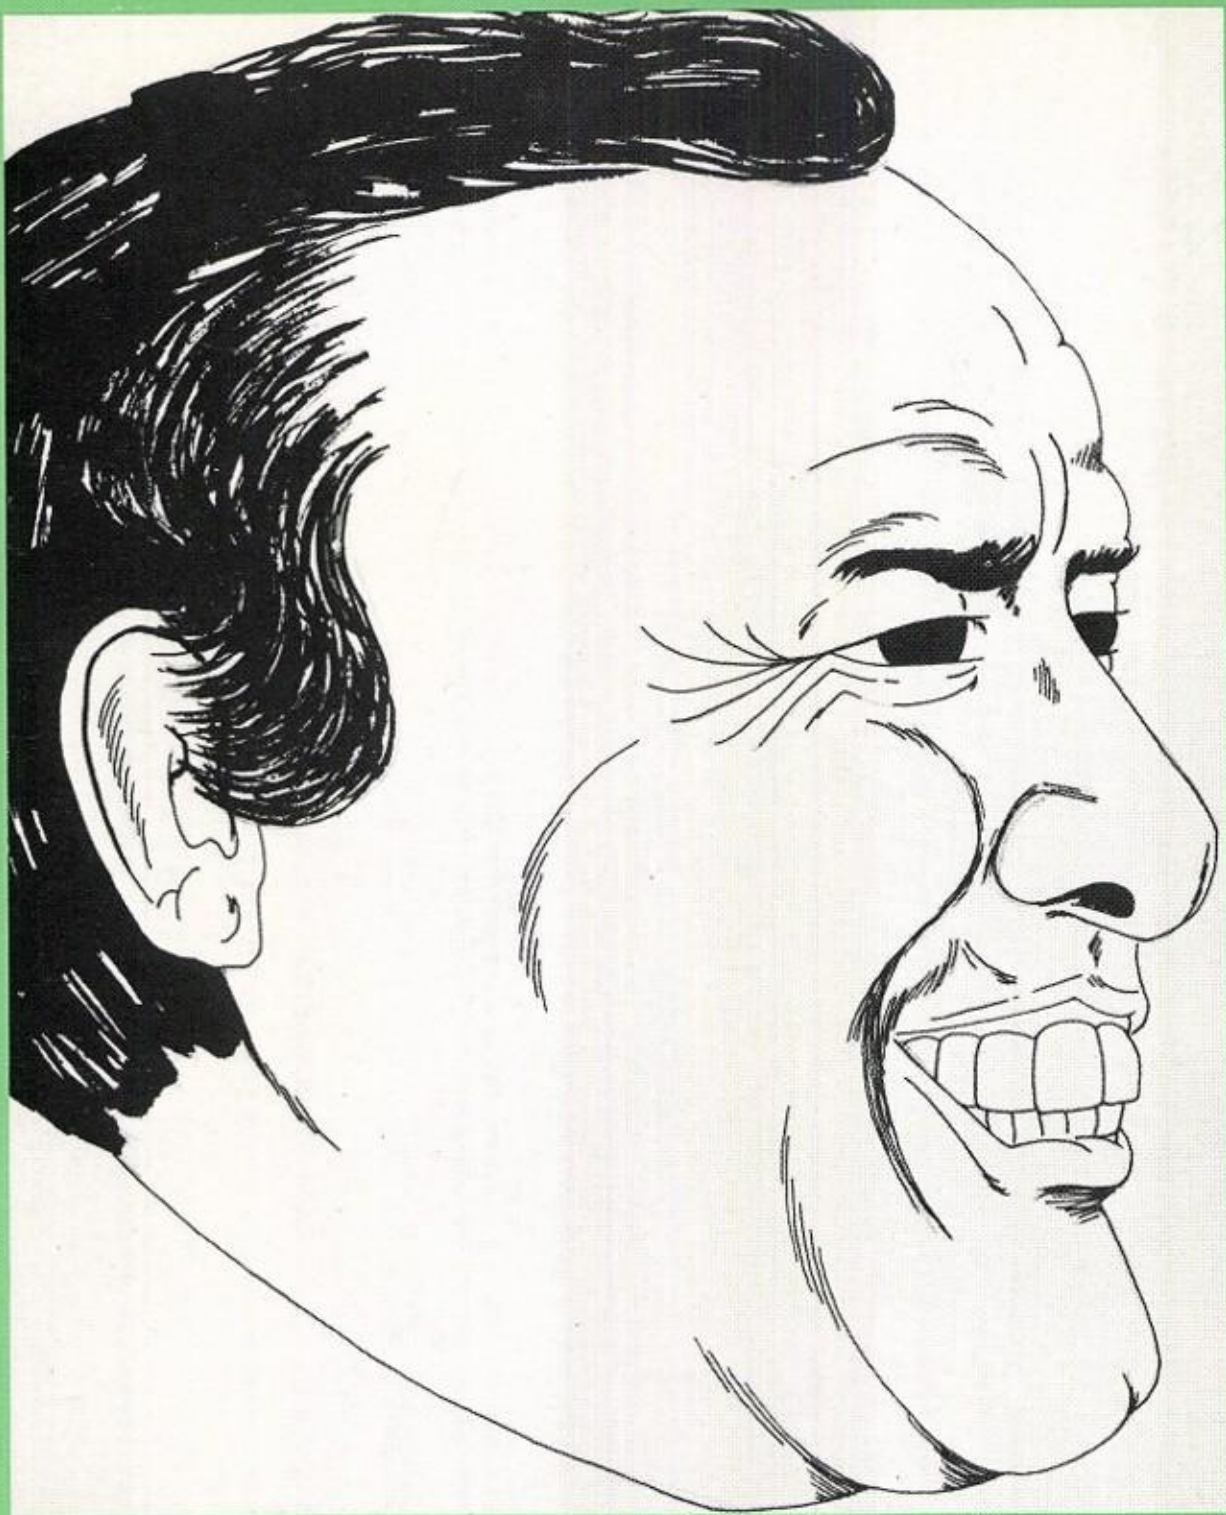

Policy changes were minor. He tried to keep the campus running as smoothly as it had during the previous years. He changed only the things he felt needed it.

Moseley came to Roosevelt after having spent three years as principal at Nimitz Middle School. Prior to that Moseley spent four years as a member of the Lee faculty and five years as a Vice-Principal. He began his career in education at Hondo High School where he taught Biology and coached for eight years.

The almost endless accomplishments include involvement in many civic and professional organizations. He was also instrumental in establishing, both locally and state-wide, many junior PGA golf tournaments.

Assistant Principals

CLOCKWISE FROM RIGHT: Wesley Davis, Ronald Reaves, Bob Bendele, administrative aide, and R. Boyd Vaughn.

NEISD Board

NEISD Board, composed of seven elected members and a board approved superintendent is legally responsible for the district as well as being the voice of the patrons. The board member must establish all general policy and approve all matters dealing with personnel, instruction, and budget.

The board performs many important functions one of which is the selection of the superintendent, the chief administrator of the district.

Belonging to the Bexar County Federation of school boards the NEISD Board was an active agent in the court hearings concerning the billing of schools by the City Public Service Board. The Board has also appealed the timing of the fee ruling. All decisions made by the board are done so after public sessions, careful consideration and deliberation.

(R-L) SEATED: Tom T. Winn, secretary, a residential and commercial developer, is also involved in the San Antonio Children's Center, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Windcrest Fire Department. Maxwell Higginbotham, Board President, served in the Navy as a Captain in the Judge Advocate Corps and as a corporation lawyer. As a practicing attorney, he instructs a fact course. Donald W. Harris, Vice President, manager of an industrial firm was instrumental in the formation of the Texas County Federation of School Boards and is now its leader. Harris is also active in many civic groups. STANDING: Robert B. O'Connor, an attorney, is the state's highest Masonic official, The Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, and is a member of many law associations. Mrs. Lamar P. Collie Jr. served as President of the PTA Council, the Christian Woman's Club, and the Texas County Medical Auxiliary, Dr. Ivan Fitzwater, superintendent, leads on the state level as president of Suburban school superintendents. Bernard S. Rose, a business executive, is involved in many civic organizations, as well as the Red Carpet Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. George H. Wenglein, in the restaurant service, has been commended for his outstanding achievements. He is also a consultant for several area businesses, along with being involved in the Chamber of Commerce.

we still forged ahead, at differing speeds, on our own roads.

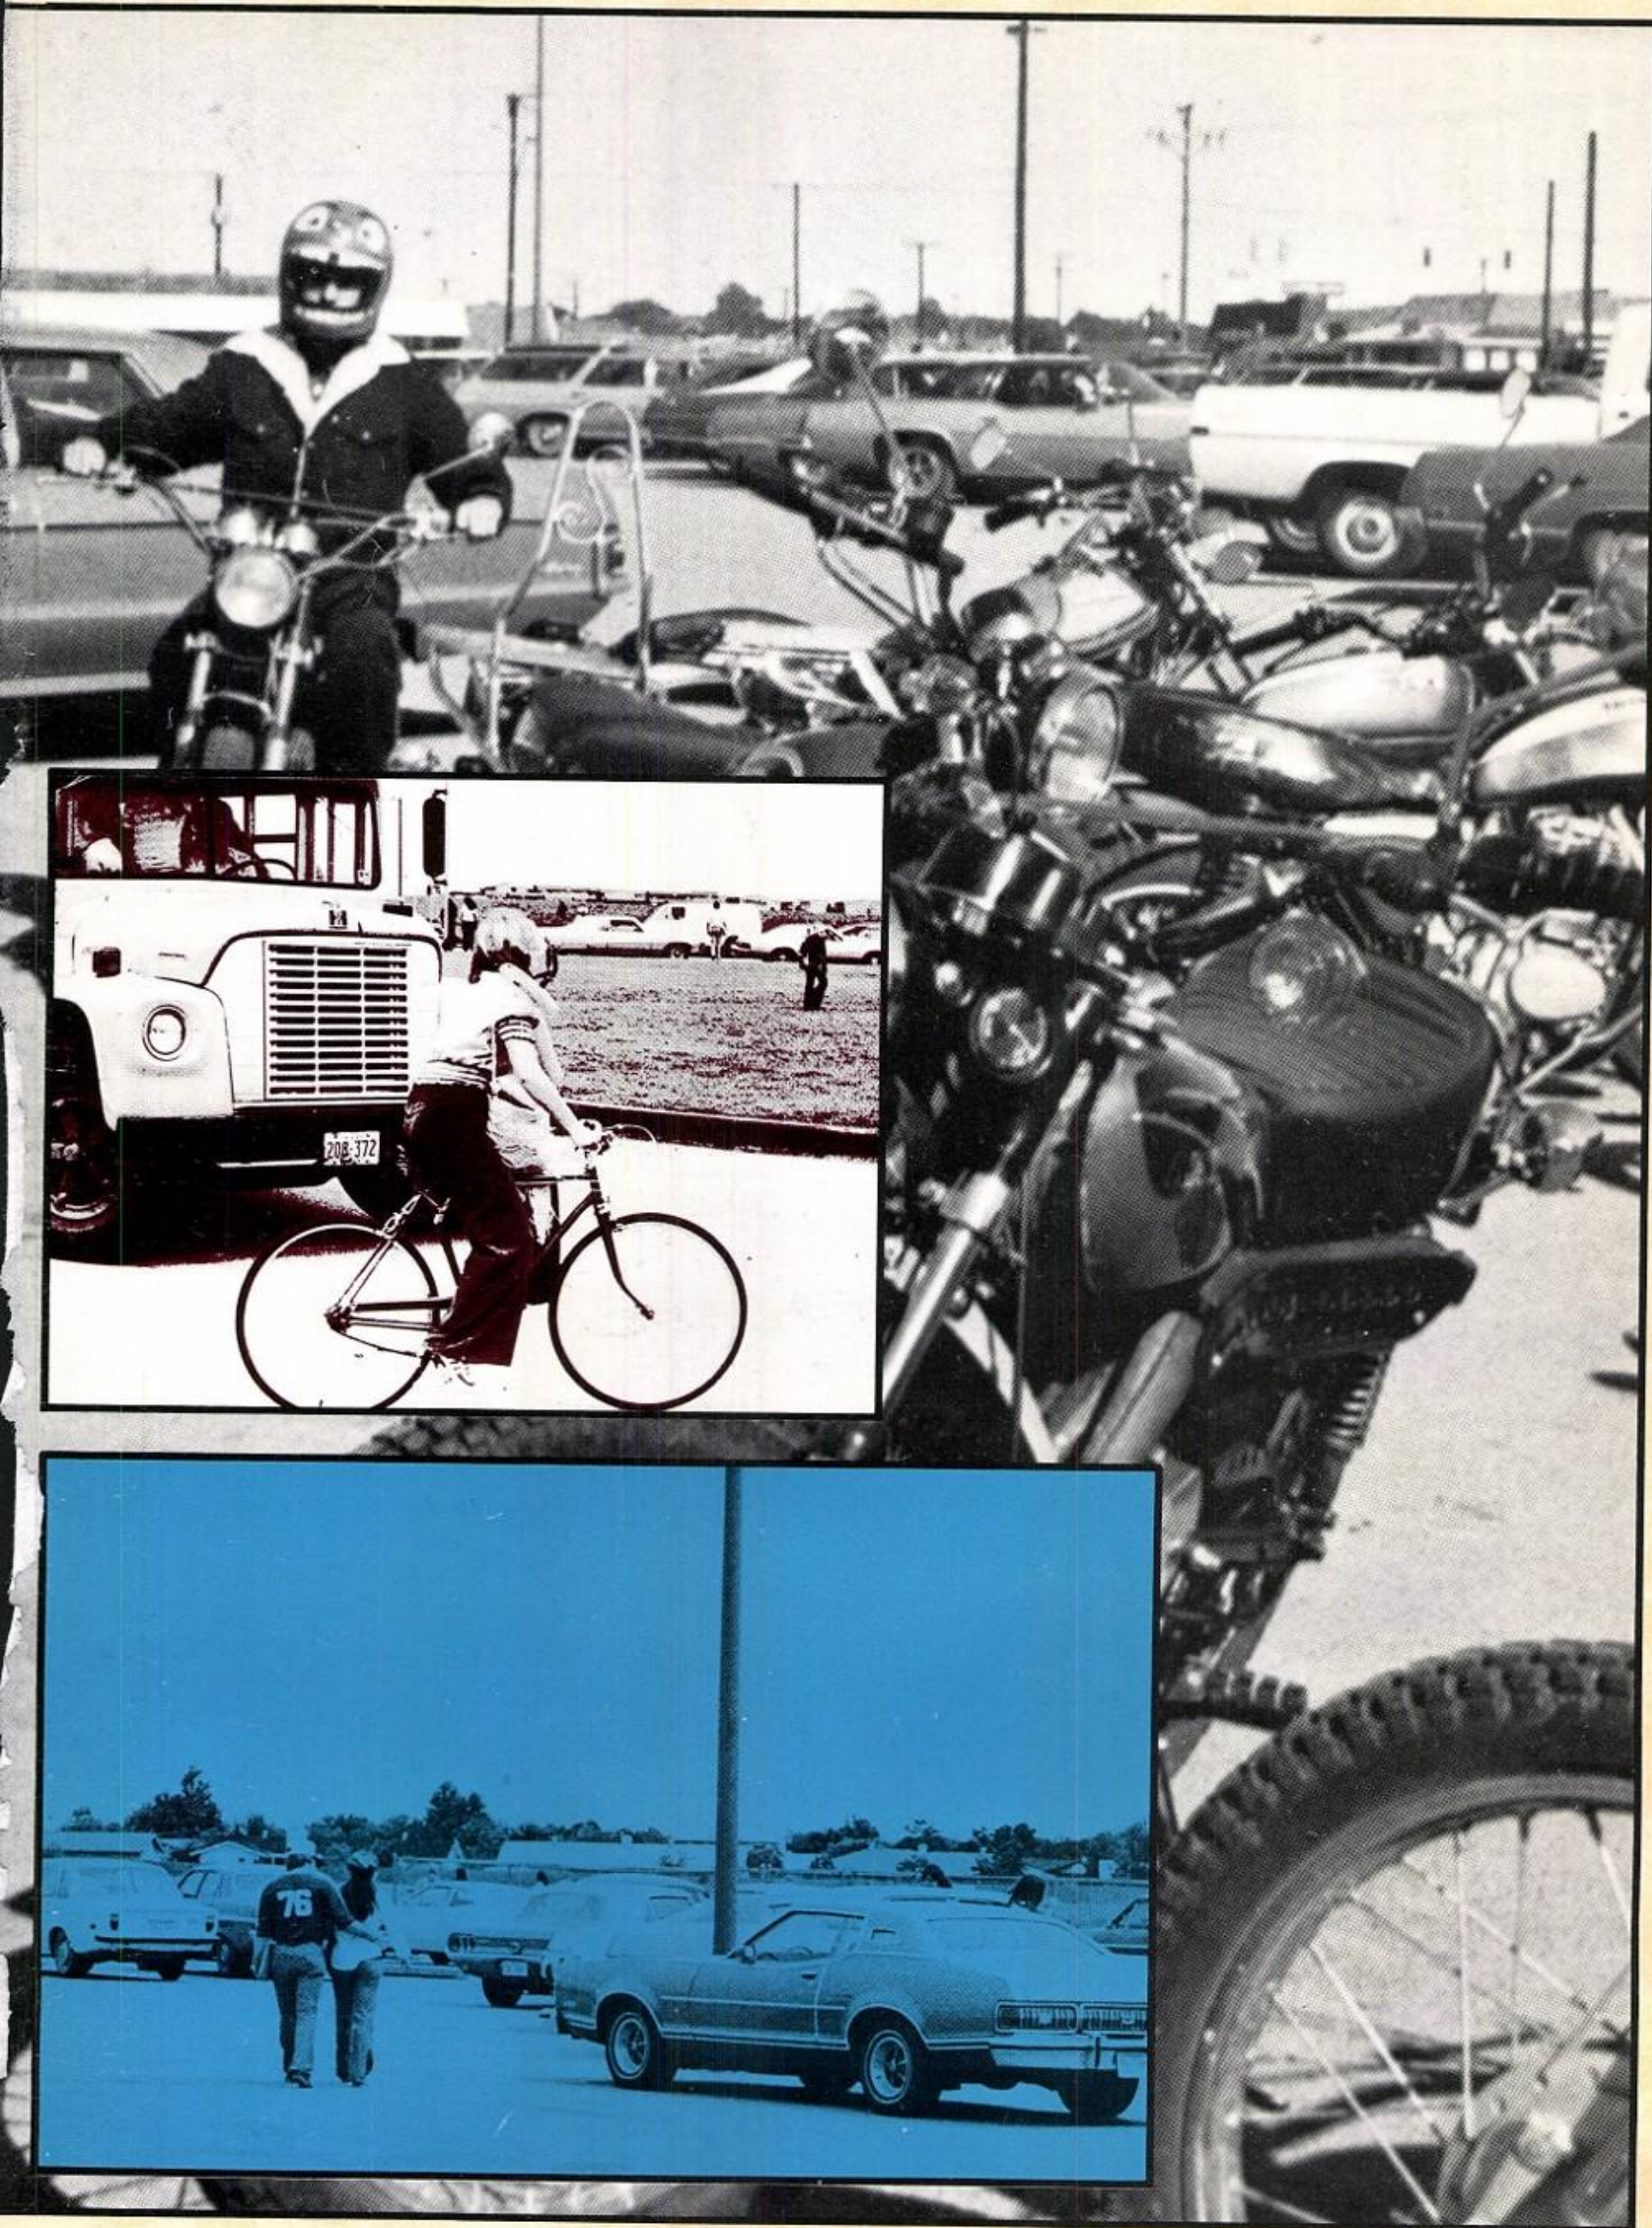

It hit us about mid-year. The unity . . . the pride in ourselves as an entity. We did not only represent Roosevelt; we 'were' Roosevelt. Maybe it was the fact that we won district in football. Maybe it was the contagious spirit biting the nation as a whole — the Spirit Of '76. Whatever it was, here we were, standing tall and sharing a special pride in ourselves as Rough Riders. All 3200 of us.

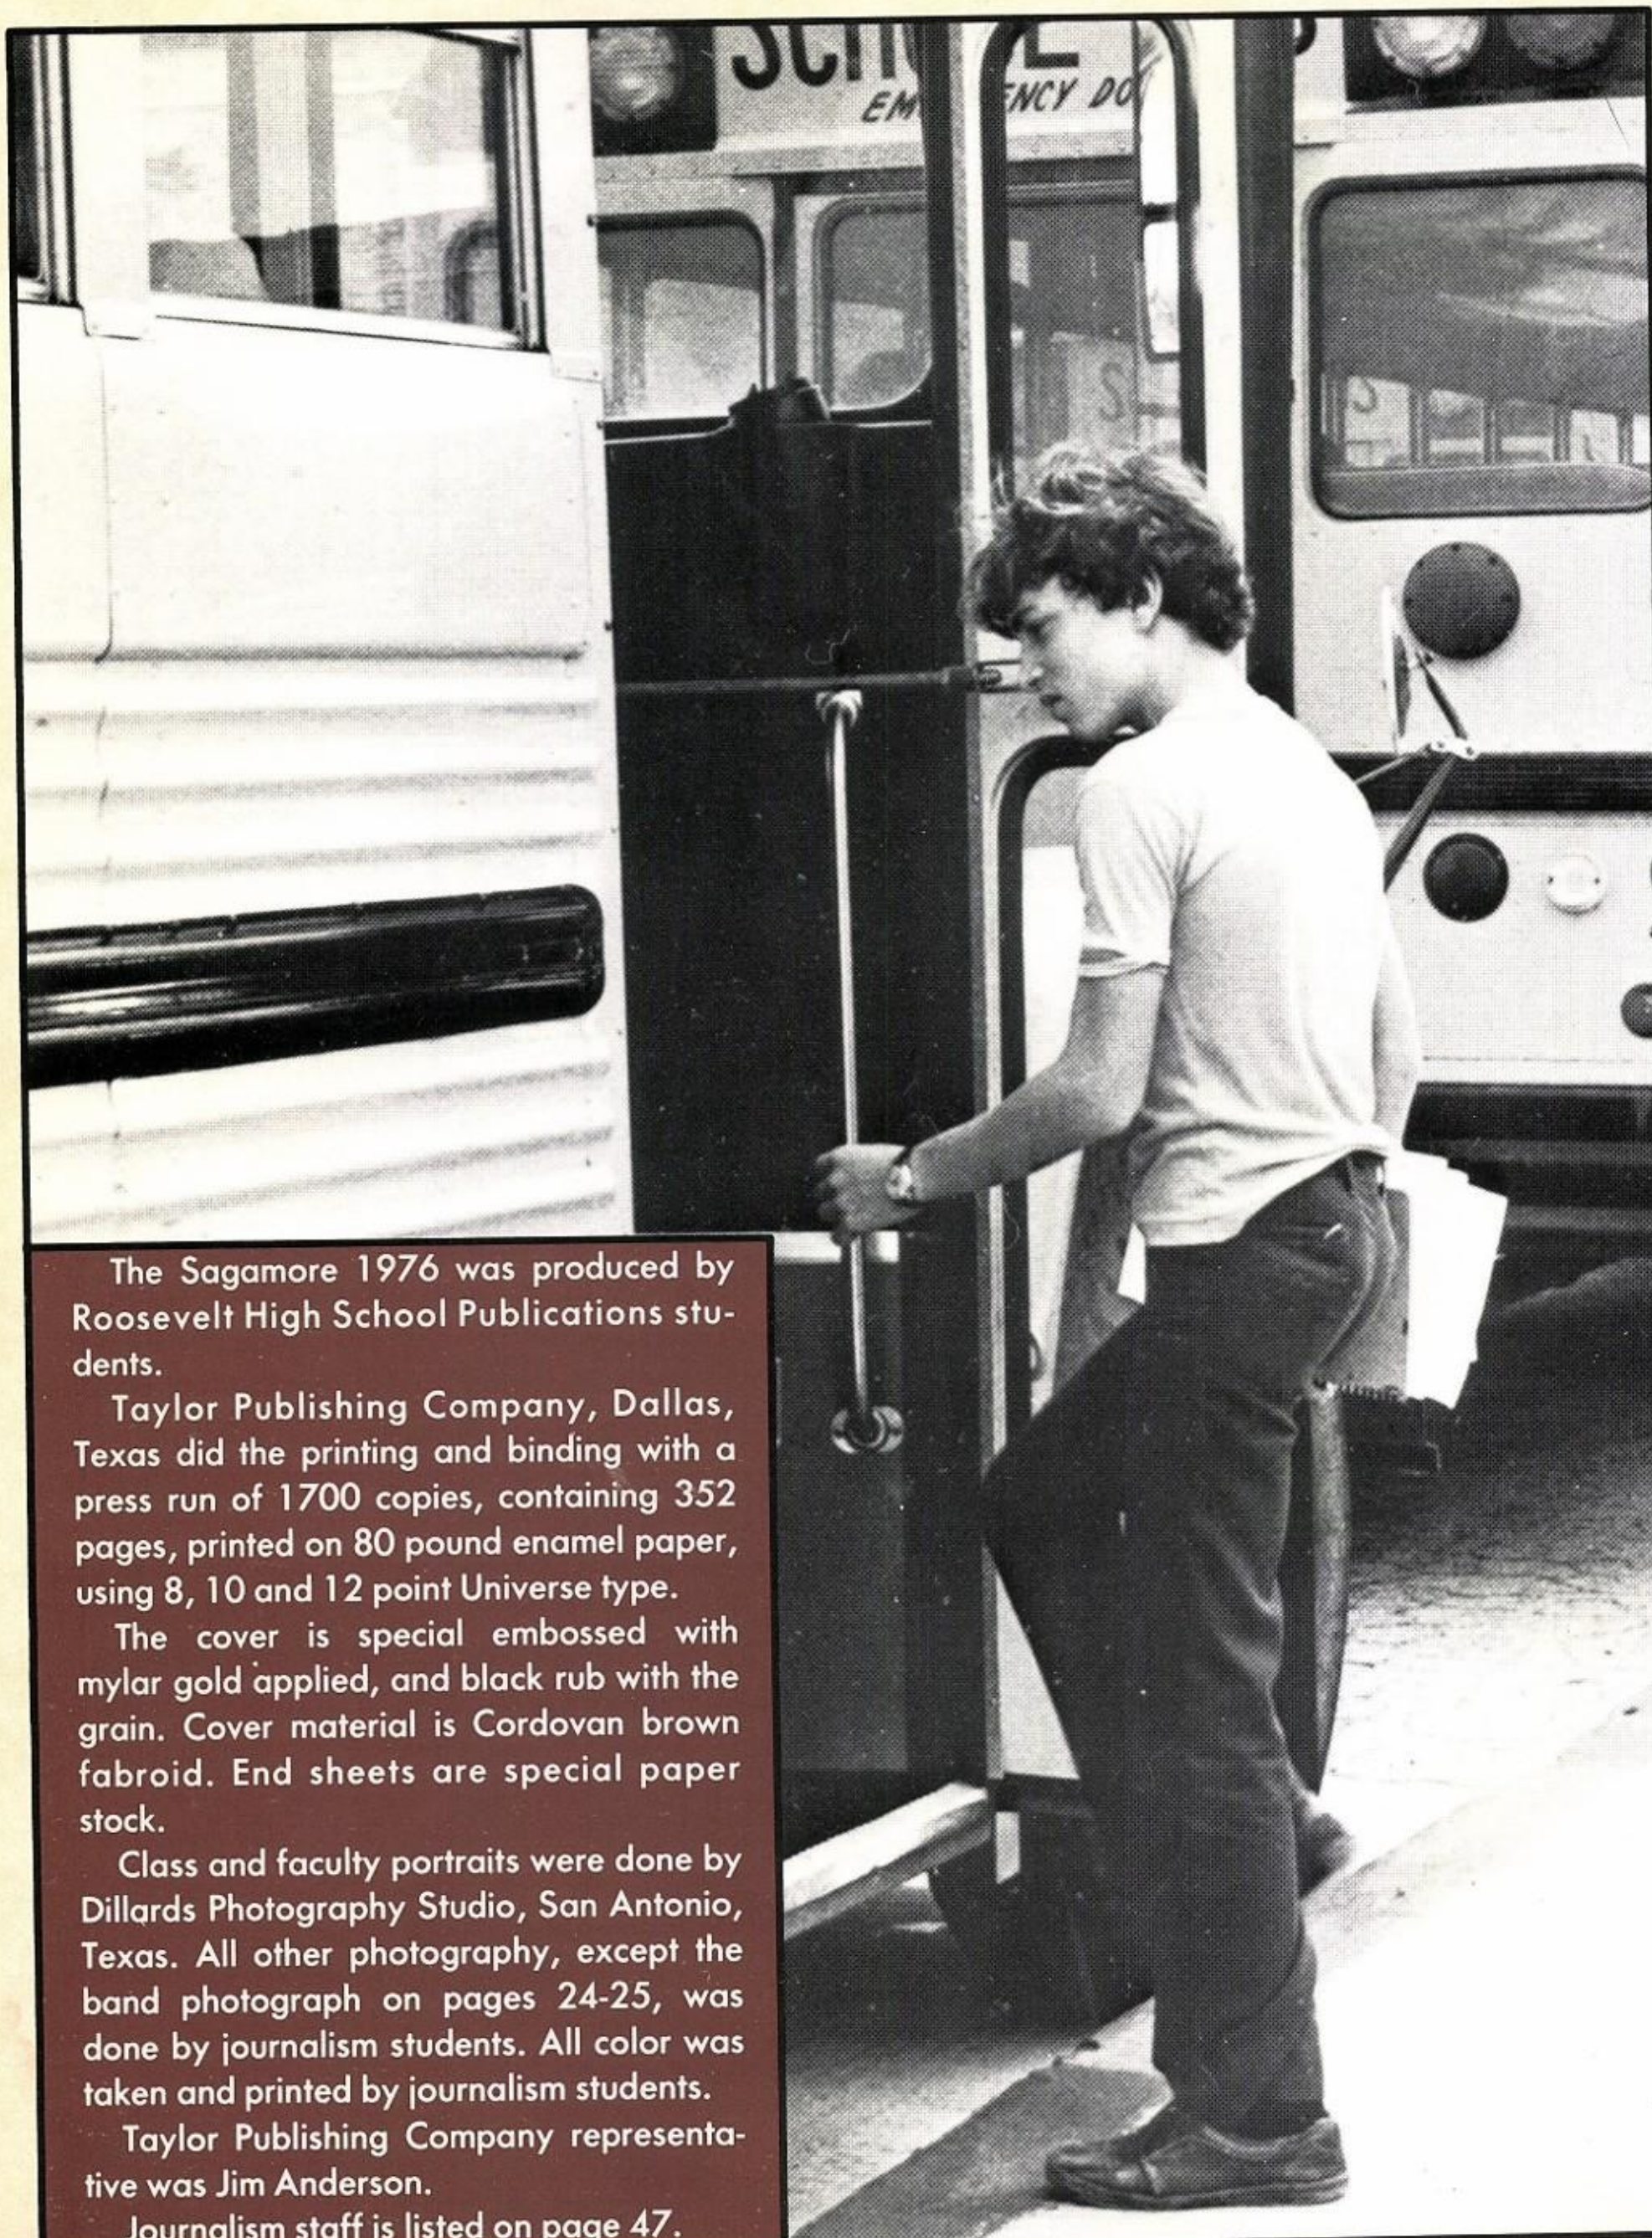

The year went by fast. The teachers and the parents said time always passes quickly when one is young and free from any major responsibilities. It was true that the majority of us came from middle to upper class households; but that was not the reason 1976 passed by so fast. "Time always passes quickly when you're having fun." And, boy, we were. We were boogying all over the state. From football to slide rule, we were making a name for ourselves . . . for Roosevelt. Principal Tom Moseley was planning to put in more trophy cases.

There were a lot of smiles on a lot of faces come spring. Sure, it was still crowded. Sure, it was getting hot again. Sure, we were getting anxious for the summer freedom. But we were also just plain enjoying life. . . . We never solved any major problems; we never caused any either. We were young and carefree and living today while we awaited tomorrow. Yes, 1976 was a good year. It was really 'our year'. It was very special. 1976 . . . the year of celebration. Celebration of our individuality; our unity; our lives; and the life we shared day by day at Roosevelt High.

The Sagamore 1976 was produced by Roosevelt High School Publications students.

Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas did the printing and binding with a press run of 1700 copies, containing 352 pages, printed on 80 pound enamel paper, using 8, 10 and 12 point Universe type.

The cover is special embossed with mylar gold applied, and black rub with the grain. Cover material is Cordovan brown fabroid. End sheets are special paper stock.

Class and faculty portraits were done by Dillards Photography Studio, San Antonio, Texas. All other photography, except the band photograph on pages 24-25, was done by journalism students. All color was taken and printed by journalism students.

Taylor Publishing Company representative was Jim Anderson.

Journalism staff is listed on page 47.

To Nelda,
I've known you a long time and I like you a lot. Keep that cute smile.

I wish to meet a girl in my class who is a girl in my class. I wish to meet a girl in my class. I wish to meet a girl in my class.
